NEARBY TOWNS GO TO POLLS TO ELECT LEADERS

4 Prince Georges Cities and 2 Montgomery Communities Vote.

LEMUEL L. GRAY NEW HYATTSVILLE MAYOR

John H. Beall Wins Over Opponent in Mt. Rainier by Big Majority.

Municipal officers were elected yesterday in four towns in Prince Georges County and in two communities in Montgomery, all the elections except in Hyattsville being rather quiet affairs.

Lemuel L. Gray, of Hyattsville, beat E. B. Hilley for mayor by a majority of 98 out of a total vote of nearly 1,000. The town accepted the new road law by a vote of 684 in favor of the measure to 185 against it.

C. D. Anderson was reelected councilman for the First Ward with a vote of 198 and T. D. Jarrell was chosen to represent the second with a total vote of 147. E. M. Gover, of the Third Ward, received a large vote although he was not opposed. R. W. Powers, of the Fourth Ward, also was unopposed, but polled a large number of votes.

Mt. Rainier Mayor Wins.

In Mount Rainier the present mayor, John H. Beall, was reelected with a vote nearly double that of his opponent, Fred Negus. Mr. Beall's total was 500, while Mr. Negus polled 261 votes, giving the present incumbent a majority of 239. The salary bill in the town was approved by the voters with a vote of 342 in favor of it and 289 against it. The measure pays the mayor a salary of $200 a year and councilmen receive $125 each.

In the two contests for councilmen, both Norman A. Pruitt and Rexford Worley were reelected with substantial majorities.

Riverdale accepted the special tax for new fire apparatus by a vote of 117 to 70, and reelected all the town officers whose terms expire at this time. The vote for Max Vollberg, present mayor, was almost unanimous, and Anton Krackte and W. A. Carson also were reelected.

Mr. Krackte will represent the second ward, and Mr. Carson the fifth. The fire apparatus tax amounts to 10 cents per $100 over a period of years for modernizing the fire fighting equipment of the town.

Voting in Cottage City.

Voting in Cottage City was a formality as only one candidate had filed for each office, and the balloting was light. George A. Rheinbold was elected commissioner from the first ward to succeed Samuel A. Oppliger, who declined to run again. V. A. Simmel and D. L. Grantham were reelected.

Takoma Park, Md., returned the three members of the town council whose terms expired and refused to elect a woman member to the council. The vote was light.

Town Councilman John R. Adams, who received 375 votes; H. E. Rogers, 346 votes, and Martin Iverson, 292 votes, were returned to office. Mrs. J. A. Robertson, who was unsuccessful, polled 210 votes.

The town election at Somerset, Md., was extremely quiet and without event. The incumbents, Holland Hunington and E. O. Roberts, were returned to places on the town council for which their terms had expired.

Reno Courts Sever 83 Marrige Bonds

First Day's Divorce Grist Sees Cases Settled in Few Minutes.

Reno, Nev., May 4 (A.P.).—Reno's new six-week divorce law functioned smoothly and rapidly in two Reno district courts today, the judges handing down 83 decrees.

Attorneys, the courts and litigants were prepared to aid in the announced intention to hand down a divorce in each court every ten minutes. Many of the cases were disposed of in three or four minutes. Today was the first time for hearings o nsuits filed under the six-week residence clause.

The recipient of the first decree today, Elsie M. Michaelis, became a bride two hours after the ink had dried on her decree. Two other women who received decrees also were marrid during the day, one of them to a Reno attorney, but not the lawyer who had represented her in her divorce proceedings.

Maniac Aboard Ship Is Put Under Control

San Francisco, May 4 (A.P.).—Norton Lilly and Co., operators of the Argonaut Line Freighter Santa Cecilia, which reported last Friday it had a dangerous maniac aboard, said today a message had been received advising the man had been put under control without difficulty.

"The man will be put off at the Panama Canal and everything is quiet on the ship," company officials said.

Japan's Flier Resumes Ocean Flight to U. S.

Numasaki, Japan, Tuesday, May 5 (A.P.).—Seiji Yoshihara, Japan's foremost adiator, resumed his flight to the United States today, taking off at 8:45 a. m. (6:45 p. m., Monday, Eastern standard time), on the 297-mile second leg to Nemuro.

Ileana Is Betrothed To Hapsburg Prince

Roumanian Princess Is Engaged to Marry Archduke.

Bucharest, Roumania, May 4 (U.P.).—Ileana, of Roumania, described as Europe's most beautiful princess, has become engaged to marry the young Archduke Anton von Hapsburg, an official announcement issued at the castle said today.

The wedding of Princess Ileana is scheduled to take place in June, the announcement said.

Her fiance, Archduke Anton, is a brother of Archduke Leopold von Hapsburg, who visited New York last year.

Anton until recently lived at Barcelona, Spain, where Ileana became acquainted with him during a visit to Spain last year. He is now employed by a film company in Vienna.

The engagement ceremonies took place at the palace of the Hohenzollern princes at Freiburg Im Breisgau, Baden, Germany.

The princess, who is 22 years old, has been reported engaged to half the young princes of the continent. Even the Prince of Wales has been mentioned, their names have been linked by match-makers in the capitals of Europe in recent years.

1930 PULITZER PRIZE WINNERS ARE LISTED

Achievements Range From War Novel to Murder Solution by Writer.

New York, May 4 (A.P.).—The Pulitzer prizes in journalism and letters were awarded today for achievements which ranged from a novel of war-time America to the solution of a murder by a newspaper reporter.

"Years of Grace," by Margaret Ayer Barnes, was chosen by the jury of awards as the novel published in 1930 which "best presents the whole atmosphere of American life." The prize-winning play was "Alison's House," written by Susan Glaspell and produced by Eva Le Gallienne at the Civic Repertory Theater. Its characters disguised by fictitious names, the play deals with the belated recognition of the poetry of Emily Dickinson.

Other prizes in the field of letters were awarded to the following:

In history, to "The Coming of the War, 1914," Bernadotte E. Schmitt; in biography, to "Charles W. Eliot," by Henry James, and in verse, to "Collected Poems of Robert Frost." The jury's decision marked the second time Mr. Forst has won a Pulitzer prize. His "New Hampshire" was chosen in 1924.

Prizes of $1,000 accompany all awards in the group except in history, in which the award is $2,000.

The Atlanta Constitution was chosen as the newspaper which rendered "the most disinterested and meritorious public service" in 1930.

A. B. McDonald, of the staff of the Kansas City Star, won the $1,000 prize for the best example of a reporter's work. MacDonald was sent to Amarillo, Tex., to investigate the murder of Mrs. A. D. Payne. She had been killed by the explosion of dynamite hidden in her automobile, and police had given up the case as a mystery too deep to be solved. MacDonald's work brought about the confession of her husband, who subsequently committed suicide with explosives while awaiting trial.

The remaining prizes in journalism were awarded to H. R. Knickerbocker, of the foreign staff of the New York Evening Post and the Philadelphia Public Ledger for a series of articles on the operation of the five-year plan in Russia; to Charles S. Ryckman, of the Fremont (Nebraska) Tribune, for his editorial, "The Gentleman From Nebraska," published November 7, 1930, and to Edmund Duffy, of the Baltimore Sun, for his cartoon, "An Old Struggle Still Going On," published February 27, 1930.

Traveling scholarships in journalism were awarded to Frederick Daniel Sink, of Zanesville, Ohio, and David A. Davidson and Winston Phelps, of New York City. Elliot Grims, of New York, won the scholarship for music

TEACHER, 2 PUPILS ARE KILLED BY TRAIN

Woman Hurls One to Safety but Loses Life Trying to Save Others.

Atkinson, Ill., May 4 (A.P.).—Tragedy disrupted a noontime outing by pupils of the Grandview Rural School today as the teacher gave her life in a vain effort to save two of her small pupils after hurling a third to safety from the path of a speeding train.

The teacher, Miss Helen Scott, and the two children, Beulah Peterson, 7, and June Mason, 8, were killed high on a Rock Island Railroad trestle while the rest of the school children looked on.

Today was the last day of school for the Grandview children and also Miss Scott's twenty-sixth birthday. To celebrate the double event, the children organized a party during the noon recess. The party was near its close and June and Beulah and Beulah's sister, Edith, 9, had started across the trestle to rejoin the main group of children across the creek.

Suddenly the train roared around a curve, too close to stop before reach-

Crash Here Laid To British Rules

Miss Elsie Moseley Bear's to Left on Road, Causing Cars to Collide.

Because Miss Elsie W. Moseley, who lives at the home of C. J. W. Torr, second secretary of the British Embassy, 3265 N street northwest, forgot she was in America Sunday afternoon, three cars were damaged, the daughter of a well-known Washington attorney was injured, and William R. Darby, jr., of Kensington, was arrested for failing to have his driver's permit and registration certificate in possession.

Miss Moseley was driving on the Rockville-Quince Orchard road near Hunting Hill, with the car of Mr. Darby behind her car. Absent-mindedly edging to the left of the road in the approved English fashion, her car was in collision with the car of R. E. L. Smith, Washington attorney, driven by Miss Catherine Smith. The Smith car then crashed into the Darby car. Miss Smith was injured slightly.

Montgomery County Policeman Harry Merson appeared on the scene and decided that as long as the motorists had managed to settle things among themselves he had no need to make arrests save in the case of Mr. Darby, who had forgotten his driving papers.

Woman, 93, Born Near Here, Visits City for First Time

Hains Point Speed Boats Catch Eye More Than Monuments.

A woman born within 80 miles of Washington and who has been living within 20 miles for some years made her first visit to the Capital City yesterday at the age of 93 and enjoyed it immensely. She paid a visit to the White House, saw the Washington Monument and the Capitol and Library of Congress, but the thing which seemed to catch her eye was the speedboats flashing over the water at Haina Point. She wanted a ride in one.

The city's visitor is Miss Louisa Hinton, who is a native of Virginia. She was born about 7 miles from Winchester, Va., in what is now West Virginia. The occasion of her trip was a visit made here yesterday by five automobile loads of residents of 35 PASSENGER FOKKER PLANES BARRED BY U. S.

Temporary Stay Ordered Because of Problems of Maintenance.

DEPARTMENT DECREE AFFECTS 4 CONCERNS

Young Indicates Upkeep of Wings Is Principal Question Involved.

(Associated Press.)

All Fokker trimotor planes of the F-10 and F-10-A type built in 1929 were barred temporarily as passenger carriers on regular air transport lines yesterday by the Commerce Department.

They will not be permitted to carry passengers, Assistant Secretary Young, in charge of aeronautics, announced, until problems of maintenance are worked out. When this is done, they may be used again. It was indicated by Mr. Young that maintenance of wings was the chief question involved.

Meanwhile the planes may be used to carry freight and mail.

The order, growing out of investigation of the accident in which Knute Rockne and seven others were killed, affects 35 planes operated by four companies. The names of the concerns were not made public.

The Commerce Department announcement made plain its action was not taken because of any fault of the basic design or original construction of the banned airplanes, but because certain problems of maintenance must be worked out.

Cooperating With Department.

Anthony Fokker and other officials of the Fokker Aircraft Co. are cooperating with the department, Mr. Young said. Several conferences were held yesterday.

Mr. Young stressed also that the suspension order was "temporary" and "until such time as the department and experts of the Fokker Co. may inspect them for present condition of maintenance."

"The only point involved," he concluded, "is the actual maintenance of the particular ships. This phase of it will be determined as quickly as possible and the ships restored to full service."

Mr. Fokker, after a four-hour conference with Mr. Young and officials of the aeronautical division, declined to comment on the department's order.

"We will continue our conferences tomorrow," he said. "We have nothing to say regarding the order and any statement will have to come from the department."

Mr. Fokker was accompanied to the conferences by several officials of the Fokker Aircraft Co.

Use Is Discontinued.

Los Angeles, May 4 (A.P.).—Officials of the Transcontinental-Western Air Express, Inc., said today the use of Fokker F-10 transport planes had been discontinued Saturday by the company on its Los-Angeles-Kansas City line.

The American Airways, which operates between here and Dallas, Tex., is holding ten of the planes in its hangars. The Western Air Express, operating the Salt Lake-Los Angeles route,

LLOYD GEORGE WARNS BRITAIN AGAINST TARIFF

Advises Nation, in Speech Broadcast by Radio, to Avoid Step.

FREE TRADE IS BEST POLICY, HE ASSERTS

Foresees Big Improvement if India and Dominions Let Down Bars.

London, May 4 (A.P.).—David Lloyd George, in an address today, urged his fellow countrymen to pause before they took "this tremendous leap into the vortex of tariffs in a moment of panic." The speech was broadcast.

The Liberal leader declared that such distinguished Conservative statesmen as Lord Beaconsfield, Lord Salisbury and Stanley Baldwin had been reluctant to hazard the experiment of a revolutionary change in the fiscal system when they had the opportunity.

Lloyd George added that the inquiry recently instituted by the League of Nations had shown the effects of free trade and protection on wages in the great countries of Europe. The reports showed Great Britain and Denmark, free trade countries, at the head of the list, he said.

Dominions Are Held Hope.

"It will be said 'what about the United States, their wages are higher than here?'

"The United States actually constitutes the largest free trade area in the world. It will be contended that the British Empire might be organized into an even larger free trade area. It will be time enough to consider that when India and the dominions show the slightest sign of letting our goods in free of duty in return for our purchase of their products free of impost.

"Up to the present the movement is in exactly the opposite direction. India, Australia and Canada have recently increased their tariffs against our goods. Even with preference, some of these duties are almost prohibitive, and are intended to be so.

German Statistics Answer.

"The argument that it is better to find work for all at a lower rate of wages than to pay a higher rate to a part of the workers, leaving others without employment, has been disposed of by the vast unemployment figures of Germany.

"We have adapted our industries to the free trade system. If we impose tariffs we shall inflict irremediable injury upon those countries which have been fostered by free trade."

Convention Observes "All Kiwanis Night"

Mimia, Fla., May 4 (A.P.).—Observance of "All Kiwanis Night," with the presentation of international officials and memorial services for members of the organization who died during the past year marked tonight's program of the Fifteenth Annual Convention of Kiwanis International.

Addresses by the officers and by Roe Fulkerson, Washington, D. C., editor of the Kiwanis magazine, were broadcast by station WQAM here.

4 Cents a Voter Limit In Campaigns Urged

Witnesses Before Nye Funds Committee Recommend Steps to Enforce Federal Corrupt Practices Act; Bishop Cannon's Hearing Delayed.

(Associated Press.)

Limitation of expenditures by congressional candidates to four cents a voter was advocated yesterday before the Senate campaign funds investigating committee by two university professors of political science.

Prof. James K. Pollock, of the University of Michigan, submitted an entire corrupt practices act, including this provision for limitation of campaign funds. Prof. Earl R. Sikes, of Dartmouth College, indorsed the four cents limitation.

Prof. Louise Overacker, of Wellsley College, was skeptical of the practicability of fixing definite amounts for campaign funds, but she agreed that Congress should fix definite responsibility upon the candidate or his agent for all money collected or spent in his behalf.

Opening its search for recommendations for making more effective the Federal corrupt practices act, the Senate committee headed by Senator Nye (Republican), North Dakota, questioned the professors closely.

Prof. Pollock suggested a maximum amount of $5,000 for the candidates, but Prof. Sikes would put no maximum on the four-cent provision, which would allow a senatorial candidate in New York an expenditure of about $160,000.

The three witnesses believed that Congress has authority to regulate the primary elections and they looked favorably on the proposal of Senator Cutting (Republican), New Mexico, for establishment of an elections commission.

Replying to Senator Dill (Democrat), Washington, Prof. Pollock described the extended use of election watchers, which prevails in Pennsylvania, as "a polite form of bribery." He advocated that political work be on a voluntary basis, but Senator Dill remarked that was "theoretical."

The witnesses looked dubiously on suggestions that the Government finance political campaigns, but they advocated that the Government issue pamphlets during a campaign with space divided for each side.

"This, at least, would raise the level of campaign literature," Prof. Sikes suggested.

The professors looked upon adequate publicity as the chief means of enforcing the proposed strict limita-

HOOVER TELLS WORLD CHAMBER TOO MUCH IS SPENT ON ARMAMENTS

Hoover Seeks to Nip Armed Camp Abroad

President, Looking Ahead to Geneva, Heads Off Agitation for Cancellation or Revision of War Dept to United States.

By EDWARD T. FOLLIARD.

President Hoover was looking ahead to Geneva when he lashed out against armaments yesterday in his speech before the International Chamber of Commerce.

In addition to heading off agitation for cancellation or revision of Europe's war debt to the United States, not to mention agitation for various trade favors, the President was seeking to arouse world opinion and to use it to break up what now amounts to an armed camp in Europe.

In Geneva, Switzerland, some time within the next eight months, the nationsof the world will attempt to reach an agreement looking toward a general reduction in the size of armies.

There have been many preliminary meetings to prepare for this general disarmament conference, but they have been marked by so much reluctance, so much hedging, so much bickenerig that President Hoover's representative—Hugh S. Gibson—came right out at the last meeting and told the delegates that the draft agreement they had drawn up "fell far short" of America's "hopes and expectations."

Using the figures given by the Foreign Policy Association, here is the way the various conscript armies of the world now stand:

France	607,533
Russia	562,000
Italy	364,570
Poland	253,824
Japan	198,800
Roumania	185,726
Switzerland	156,070
Czechoslovakia	127,012
Spain	113,081
Jugoslavia	108,595

So much for the conscript armies. Quoting the same authority, here are the figures for the nonconscript armies of three nations:

	First Line	Militia, Reserves, &c.
British Empire	344,450	586,415
United States	133,081	283,617
Germany	100,000	None

Great Britain proper has a first line, or standing army of 153,516 men, together with 314,537 reserves. The remainder of the force attributed

BALKAN KINGS TALK IN SECRET ON RIVER

Alexander, of Jugoslavia and Carol, of Roumania, Are Silent on Subject.

Bucharest, May 4 (A.P.).—King Alexander of Jugoslavia and King Carof of Roumania met today by appointment and spent an hour in a motor boat on the Danube.

Their desire for privacy was so great they did not even take a boatman with them, but King Carol himself acted as pilot, driving the boat up and down the river.

The meeting was described later as "a friendly chat." King lexander is King Carol's brother-in-law.

Carol, who is said to have requested the interview, traveled from Orsova this morning with Premier Jorga, of Roumania. Alexander came down the river in his royal yacht, attended by two monitors.

fter exchanging greetings the two monarchs entered the launch and sped away.

fter they returned lexander entertained Carol aboard his yacht. There was widespread speculation here tonight over the purpose of the conference.

It is believed here that the conference between the two kings touched the two countries and that the meetupon subjects of great importance in ing, preceding, as it did, the conference of the little entente, was not a mere coincidence.

The premiers of both sovereigns, Jorga of Roumania and Zivkovitch of Jugoslavia, accompanied the kings and held a conference of their own

Four Bank Holdup Men Get $2,000 in Memphis

Memphis, Tenn., May 4 (A.P.).—Four bandits held up a downtown branch of the Union Planters-National Bank and Trust Co. here today and took cash estimated by K. L. Nazor, the Branch manager, at $2,000 to $2,500.

The robbers fled in an automobile bearing an Indiana license.

HUSBAND AND WIFE DIE AT SAME TIME

Thomas F. Dorney Succumbs at Home, Mrs. Dorney at Hospital.

The love and devotion which existed between Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Dorney during the twenty years of their wedded life united them early last night—in death.

They were pronounced dead almost at the same moment, Mrs. Mary Dorney at Providence Hospital of paralysis, and her husband at their home from the effects of illuminating gas. Each passed on believing that the other was alive.

Told Sunday that there was little hope for the recovery of his wife, Mr. Dorney, holder of the Croix de Guerre for valor during the World War, tried to commit suicide by inhaling gas at the 1516 S street southeast home only to have neighbors discover him in time to save his life.

Mrs. Frances Fisher, daughter of Mrs. Dorney by a former marriage, was at her mother's bedside when she died at 6:30 p. m. Leaving the hospital to notify her stepfather, she arrived at the house to find the veteran dead of gas poisoning.

At 6:05 p. m., Randolph E. Clark, a next door neighbor, had gone to the Dorney home to learn how both Mrs. Dorney and her husband, supposedly recuperating from the effects of gas inhaled on the previous night, were getting along. He found the front door open and, on entering, was almost overcome by gas fumes.

Going to the kitchen, Clark found Dorney unconscious, sitting at a table. Every jet in the range was turned on. The Rescue Squad and an ambulance were summoned, but resuscitative measures proved futile. About half an hour later he was pronounced dead by Dr. Louis Jimal.

The first line of a note which the heartbroken veteran wrote to Mrs. Fisher before he made his second and successful attempt at self-destruction, explained his feelings. It read: "Frances—I can't stand it any more."

Dorney saw 40 years of military service, retiring two and one-half years ago as a sergeant major in the

Trees Burst Into Blossom On Eve of Winchester Fete

Visitors Crowd Historical Virginia City for Annual Apple Festival; Parades, Pageants on Program; Queen and Court Being Entertained.

Special to The Washington Post.

Winchester, Va., May 4.—As millions of apple trees in commercial orchards of the Shenandoah-Cumberland-Potomac district of Virginia and nearby States to the north burst into bloom today, Winchester was rapidly filling with visitors for the eighth annual Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival tomorrow and Wednesday, and nearly two-score committees were making last-minute preparations for the celebration.

Festival managers were not much disturbed by a forecast of possible showers tomorrow and went about their tasks in the hope that the prediction of the Weather Bureau would blow over. They remembered that rain has fallen only once during the festival since its inauguration eight years ago, and that only a brief shower the first day.

While arrangements were shaped by committees having to do with parades and other features, society matrons vied with each other in extending hospitalities to Miss Patricia Dacre Morton, Winchester, England, who is to be crowned "Queen Shenandoah VIII" tomorrow afternoon by Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd, Winchester citizen and naval flier and explorer.

The official program was announced today at the office of the director general as follows:

President Answers Plans of Cancelling Debts or Softening Tariff.

SPEECH IS VIGOROUS SUPPORT OF POLICIES

Audience Applauds as Chief Leaves Hall After Replying to Current Issues.

By J. B. McDONNELL.

Standing before a gathering of business leaders from all over the world—almost half of them from lands from which have emanated various plans and pleas that the United States assume a greater share of the burden of ending the world-wide business depression—President Herbert Hoover yesterday told delegates to the International Chamber of Commerce that their countries were spending too much on armaments.

The President's address was brief and the most vigorous he has made on international affairs since he assumed office, and unquestionably was the answer of his administration, given in advance, to any program of cancellation of war debts, abandonment or general softening of the Nation's tariff policy, or others of the proposals which are expected to be advanced in the course of the meeting of the chamber which will continue through the week.

There are 5,000,000 men under arms, with 20,000,000 more in reserve, and the cost of maintaining armaments is $5,000,000,000 annually, an increase of 70 per cent over prewar expenditures, President Hoover said, adding:

"Of all the proposals for the economic rehabilitation of the world, I know of none which compares in necessity or importance with the successful result of that conference," referring to the forthcoming world disarmament conference to be held in Geneva.

Stopping Waste Urged.

"Endeavor as we must in support of every proposal of international economic cooperation that is just to our respective peoples, yet we must recognize that reduction of this gigantic waste of competition in military establishments is in the ultimate of an importance transcendent over all other forms of such economic effort," he said. "It is within the power of business men of the world to insist that this problem shall be met with sincerity, courage and constructive action. It is within the power of statesmen to give to the world a great assurance for the future and a great moral victory for humanity."

The audience stood and applauded the President as he left Constitution Hall, where the first session was held, and then settled down to hear from American and foreign business leaders a series of addresses, in the course of which the vast importance of international cooperation and helpfulness was stressed.

That American business leaders are in support of the President in his opposition to cancellation of war debts was indicated later in the day when Silas H. Strawn, of Chicago, chairman of the American committee of the International Chamber, in an interview declared that "you couldn't get to first base politically with any such proposal now."

Strawn Backs Views.

He doesn't agree with Americans and others who believe that war debts are the cause of the present depression, Mr. Strawn said. Though there was sentiment in this country for cancellation, it was in the minority, he said, and added that most persons who urge that we cancel the debts "do not equate what the various nations got out of the war; they apparently believe the United States got everything out of the war, but they do not think what other nations would have got if we hadn't entered the war."

Mr. Strawn said he did not believe the question would be pushed in the gathering, though it wouldn't surprise him if a resolution on the subject was pressed. The time to consider Germany's reparation payments would come when Germany said she couldn't pay, he said.

The United States tariff law was not properly balanced, Mr. Strawn said, but declared in favor of a protective tariff and took occasion to say that Julius H. Barnes, chairman of the United States Chamber of Commerce, had not mentioned the Smoot-Hawley tariff law in the course of an address before the United States Chamber in convention in Atlantic City last week.

NEWS of SUBURBAN Washington and the Surrounding States

Appears on Pages 3, 5, 11 and 18 Today

Trade Conditions Analyzed.

Analysis of business conditions and the causes of existing business depression was given in addresses by Georges Theunis, former prime minister of Belgium, retiring president of the International Chamber; by Jean Parmentier, of France; Ambassador Davila of Chile, Kenpichi Kagami, of Japan, and John H. Fahey, of Boston.

Though Mr. Theunis did not refer directly to the Smoot-Hawley tariff law, which aroused such a storm abroad, he told the chamber in his review of world conditions that tariffs in force constitute "one of the fundamental causes of our economic troubles."

"It is precisely in this field that concerted action could be effective, but very considerable and patient efforts will have to be made. A liberal customs policy might be expected to lead to better business conditions," he said. "But the present depression itself has the effect of increasing the protectionist temper of the various States.

Intervention Called Useless.

"Government intervention is most often useless and harmful, since it interferes with the free play of economic laws. These in the long run always assert themselves, and the success which has attended certain instances of government intervention has been only temporary. Protectionism had resulted in investments which were not economically justified and consequently has brought about overproduction."

Underconsumption, he said, does not mean merely the inability of consumers to absorb overproduction "In this connection," he said, "the effects of installment selling and high wages should be carefully watched; they should be considered as playing a part in economic life, but not as remedies in themselves.

"Over production does not of itself create savings which enrich the world, for the surplus it creates is merely waste, an impoverishment of our common heritage."

Russia's Program Assailed.

Whatever the reason for Russia's commercial activities, Mr. Theunis declared, "they have nothing in common with those that are generally practised; the consequence of that practice has been to increase sufferings and difficulties in the world's commercial structure at a time when the situation was already serious enough."

Though not specifically mentioned the Federal Farm Loan Board, or rather the theories which brought the Board into being, came in for a touch.

"Government intervention to fix the price of certain agricultural commodities is, in my judgment, an error which is hardly excusable, for experience has proved that such intervention can only prolong the crisis and that these stocks purchased at very high prices prove very expensive to the taxpayer," Mr. Theunis said.

Economic Pacts Urged.

Economic agreements between nations to preserve economic balance must be concluded, if peace is to be preserved, Jean Parmentier, who formerly was a member of the first and second committees of experts for reparations and now is a director of the Credit Foncier de France and is the head of the French delegates to the conference.

"The maintenance and strengthening of world peace and social peace depend upon the conclusion of economic agreements, which is one of the essential conditions for the establishment of business," Mr. Parmentier said.

"In order to combat the depression, either direct or indirect remedies may be considered. The former imply naturally a limitation of economic liberty. It is to be believed that in many cases this limitation will be placed on producers if they do not agree to accept disciplinary measures freely discussed among themselves."

Quota Agreements Stressed.

Reorganization of production no longer is a merely national question, he said, and urged the development of international agreements for the organization of production, and that producers should work out quota agreements.

"The danger of this method of control to the consumer has already been referred to," Mr. Parmentier continued; "but experience has proved that the control method which does not take into consideration the interest of the consumer is doomed to rapid failure.

"Moreover, we must recognize the necessity of giving in each country to the public officials the natural protection of the general interest, the means of suppressing, if it be necessary, the abuses of coalitions."

Menace of Tariff Changes.

Referring to the development of a general tariff agreement among European nations, Mr. Parmentier said that, "unfortunately, the means of livelihood of a large section of the population of Europe are contingent on the present economic structure of the continent, and any general and immediate change of this structure would entail consequences which the governments naturally hesitate to face."

Regional agreements will not improve conditions if one group unites against another, he said. If Europe were an economic unit, as is the United States, its chances for prosperity would be infinitely greater," and that explained the formation of cartels and efforts to bring about general tariff reductions and stabilization in recent years, he said.

Figures to show that the flow of gold between this country and Europe was not a one-way current were presented by Mr. Fahey in a review of 30 years' trade with Europe. Though foreign countries paid Americans $976,000,000 interest on private investments in 1929, Americans paid back $414,000,000 in interest; foreign-born citizens sent home $247,000,000, and $1,619,000,000 of American money was invested in Europe in 1929. Americans abroad sent home $24,000,000 and foreign investments amounted to $568,000,000, how much of which was for speculation, Mr. Fahey said was not known.

Europe's Trade Increases.

Europe's trade with other sections of the world has increased, as well as has the trade between Europe and this country Mr. Fahey said.

Turning to the Smoot-Hawley tariff, Mr. Fahey said that while "some of the rates were higher than necessary reasonably to equalize" differences in costs, foreign producers have an agency for redress in the United States Tariff Commission, to which they may appeal for lower rates, an opportunity afforded Americans by the tariff law of no other country.

Davila s Applauded.

Though addresses were listened to in silence by delegates, Ambassador Davila was interrupted with applause when he declared that "we are all doing what we rightly or wrongly, and generally wrongly, think is best."

generally, met this world crisis which has gripped them all at once?" the Ambassador asked. "Chiefly by a frantic rush for legislative panaceas—enacted in haste and repented at leisure—in a mad policy of devil take the hindmost. It is not my purpose to attempt to advise any nation how best to solve its problems. I ask merely that nations look at the matter from a long, rather than a short, time point of view, that intelligent selfin terest and morally selfish interest be made the criterion."

Discussing the fall in the price of silver and its affect on his nation's commerce with China, Mr. Kinkichi Kagami, of Japan, told the chamber that Japan is "anxious" that China have "at least a sufficiently long term of respite from the disturbance, peculiarly her own" to restore peace and prosperity. The silver problem, he said, "is certainly beyond the ability of an individual or an institution or a government body other than of China herself," but that if ways and means can be discovered to stabilize silver it will be of benefit to the world. There is a silver resolution before the resolutions committee of the conference.

Conference Meets Today.

The conference will meet again at 9:45 o'clock this morning in the Unitde States Chamber of Commerce Building, where the afternoon session was held yesterday.

One change was announced in the program for the women. The reception and concert of Latin American music which was to have been held in the esplanade of the Pan-American Union Building at 9 o'clock tonight will be held in the Hall of Nations in the building instead. The change was made because of the uncertainty of the weather.

The program for the women yesterday included attendance at the general opening session addressed by President Hoover, a luncheon in the Chinese room in the Mayflower Hotel as guests of the ladies' reception committee, and a tour of the city later in the afternoon. It was concluded with a reception to all delegates and guests by the American committee of the international chamber at 9:30 o'clock at night in the Mayflower Hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hays Hammond gave a reception to wives and daughters of the delegates, but were unable to attend because of illness and were represented by Mary Roberts Rinehart, Miss Mabel Boardman, Mrs. William E. Borah and Mrs. U. S. Grant 3d, and the wives of Secretaries Stimson, Hurley, Mitchell, Adams and Lamont, Mrs. Charles Evans Hughes, Mrs. Julius Klein, Mrs. Strawn and Mrs. William B. Butterworth.

Sandino's Aid Outlines Conditions of Peace

Mexico City, May 4 (A.P.).—Pedro Jose Zepeda, representative of Augustino Sandino, the Nicaraguan insurgent, today outlined the conditions under which Sandino would lay down his arms.

They are: Immediate withdrawal of American forces; a pledge by the Nicaraguan government to obtain revision of the canal treaty with the United States, and provision for return to Nicaraguan control of the railways, banks and customs houses.

A great number of clubs—both city and country—which previously had installed their own ice-making plants—have found them too costly to operate and have returned to regular daily deliveries of American Ice.

Not only expense, but the inferior quality of the ice made on the premises led them to take this step. Sparkling, shimmering American Ice is clear as the finest diamond—with no suggestion of the cloudy streaks and mushy appearance of the cubes that come from a small freezing apparatus.

Text of Hoover's Speech Before Commerce Group

The text of the address of President Herbert Hoover before the opening meeting of the International Chamber of Commerce in Constitution Hall yesterday, follows:

Members of the International Chamber of Commerce:

I bid you welcome to the United States. You have come from many lands and at a time of grave responsibilities at home to participate in discussions that will contribute to world advancement. The consideration and discussion of world-wide economic problems and of the economic relations between nations by men who have had to deal with the results of economic forces can be most helpful to world understanding and world cooperation in their solution.

It is needless for me to emphasize the high degree of economic interdependence of the world—we require no more emphatic demonstration than the present world-wide depression. Although the United States enjoys a far greater economic independence than any other large country yet we have been gravely affected by world forces.

Like Other War Aftermaths.

The present depression is comparable in its extreme depth and its extent only to those who have followed about the same distance after the former great wars in modern history. This depression is no doubt contributed to by many very important, immediate, economic causes to which each of you will give different weight, but I believe you will all agree with me that the destruction of life and property, the great tax burdens, and the social and political instability which resulted from the Great War have had large responsibility in its origins.

Over three-quarters of the commercially important population of the world has been in a state of social and political upheaval at some time even during the past three years. Although some secondary part of this political instability may have been the result of immediate economic causes, we can not ignore the malign inheritances from the Great War. These political and social disturbances necessarily undermine that confidence on which economic life, both domestic and international must thrive.

This is not an occasion for review of the action and interaction of such a multitude of forces, but I do wish to give emphasis to one of these war inheritances in which international cooperation can effect a major accomplishment in reducing the tax burdens of the world, removing a primary cause of unrest and establishing greater confidence for the long future. That is the limitation and reduction of armament. The world expenditure on all arms is now nearly $5,000,000,000 yearly, an increase of about 70 per cent over that previous to the Great War. We stand today with near 5,500,000 men actively under arms and 20,000,000 more in reserves.

Still to Be Demobilized.

These vast forces, greatly exceeding those of the prewar period, still are to be demobilized, even though twelve years have passed since the Armistice was signed, because of fear and of inability of nations to cooperate in mutual reductions. Yet we are all signatories to the Kellogg-Briand pact, by which we have renounced war as an instrument of national policy and agreed to settle all controversies by pacific means. Surely with this understanding, the self-defense of nations could be assured with proportionately far less military forces than these. This vast armament continues not only a burden upon the economic recuperation of the world, but of even more consequence, the constant threats and fears which arise from it are a serious contribution to all forms of instability, whether social, political or economic.

Endeavor as we must in support of every proposal of international economic cooperation that is just to our respective peoples, yet we must recognize that reduction of this gigantic waste of competition in military establishments is in the ultimate of an importance transcendent over all forms of such economic effort.

Must Build on Good Will.

International confidence can not be builded upon fear—it must be builded upon good will. The whole history of the world is filled with chapter after chapter of the failure to secure peace through either competitive arms or intimidation.

I am not unaware of the difficulties of this question. No one would suggest that either national defense should be abandoned nor that so great a task as reasonable limitation and reduction of arms can not be accomplished over night.

We have made considerable progress in the limitation and reduction of naval arms. We have laid the foundations for still further progress in the future. Those agreements have contributed greatly to reduce the burden of taxes and to establish confidence and good will among the nations who have been signatory to them. Within a short time the principal nations of the world will meet to discuss the broad questions of reduction in land armament. The very calling of this conference is in itself not only proof of need, but is an emphatic evidence of progress in the world demand for relief and for peace. Of all proposals for the economic rehabilitation of the world, I know of none which compares in necessity or importance with the successful result of that conference.

The United States has a less direct interest in land armament reduction than any of the large nations because our forces have been already demobilized and reduced more than all others.

We have, however, a vast indirect interest in greater assurances of peace, order and the increased economic prosperity of other nations. It is within the power of business men of the world to insist that this problem shall be met with sincerity, courage and constructive action. It is within the power of statesmen to give to the world a great assurance for the future and a great moral victory for humanity.

I wish to you a succesful conference. I have confidence that it will be fruitful of progress.

Leland Sign Brings Threat Of Boycotting Merchants

Threats of boycotting Bethesda merchants made by residents of Leland who are irred by the presence of a sign north of Bradley lane on Wisconsin avenue advertising, "You Are Now Entering Bethesda," were reported at a meeting of the Bethesda Chamber of Commerce last night in the Bethesda County Building.

J. Harry Welch reported to the chamber that the residents of Leland consider the sign an imposition on their good nature, inasmuch as Leland is a part of Chevy Chase and not of Bethesda. The threats of boycott have been made since the earlier protests of the Leland citizens have not been heedd.

Th chamber decided to make the question a special issue at its next meeting, and to invite all persons who are interested in the removal or retention of the sign to attend and air the views.

Upon motion of Robert D. Hagner, the chamber voted to cooperate with the Rockville Chamber of Commerce in its annual outing this summer. The chamber approved the Montgomery County Social Service League drive for funds upon motion of Mr. Welch, and upon the motion of Walter Bogley the chamber voted to donate $50 to the league fund. The subcommittee which has been studying the question of a paid executive secretary for the chamber, reported that it believed the time is immature and recommended that the committee be dismissed without further action at this time, which was done.

PRESIDENT SEEKING TO NIP ARMED CAMP OVER EUROPE

to the British Empire is scattered in Canada, Australia, India, Irish Free State, New Zealand and South Africa.

The United States reserves consist of 168,793 men in the National Guard and 114,824 in the Officers Reserve Corps.

Germany's standing army is limited by the Versailles treaty, which document also prohibits it to have any reserves.

It will be noted that several of the smaller countries of Europe have armies considerably larger than that of the United States. Roumania, for example, which could almost be tucked into one corner of Texas, has an army of 185,726, as against the American standing army of 133,081.

Points Out Vast Sums.

In his speech yesterday President Hoover did not mention war debts. Thus far there has been no agitation for their revision at the conference. What he did was to point to the vast sums being spent for armed peace.

"The world expenditure on all arms," he said, "is now nearly $5,000,000,000 yearly, an increase of about 70 per cent over that previous to the Great War. We stand today with nearly 5,500,000 men actively under arms and 20,000,000 more in reserves.

"This vast armament," the President added, "continues not only a burden upon the economic recuperation of the world but, of even more consequence, the constant threats and fears which arise from it are a serious contribution to all forms of instability, whether social, political, or economic."

Cites Glaring Inconsistency.

In marshalling these awesome facts, the President, in effect, pointed out a glaring inconsistency: Here are nations hoping for a reduction of the debts they contracted in one war, the while they spend billions more on armaments that threaten another war.

The argument that Europe's war debts are delaying economic recovery; that they are preventing Europe from buying more goods from the United States and from each other is generally regarded as having some merit.

But the administration does not believe it justifies any change in its debt policy, and certainly not when Europe is virtually an armed camp.

Date to Be Set Soon.

Reverting to the general disarmament conference, the date for this will be set by the League of Nations Council when it gathers on May 18. Two dates have been suggested. Germany has asked that it be held next November, and France has suggested that it be held in February of next year.

Complicating the whole matter of disarmament—the proposed naval agreement between France and Italy as well as general reduction of armies—is the uproar that has been caused by the talk of a customs union between Germany and Austria.

Recently the League of Nations sent a questionnaire to the American Government asking that figures be given to show the size of this country's Army and its Navy. This now has been filled out and is being sent to the league's offices.

Hugh Gibson, who is the American Ambassador to Belgium, has been granted a leave of absence, and is expected to come here soon to talk over disarmament matters with Secretary of State Stimson. There is little doubt but that he will again be this country's representative at the general disarmament conference late this year or early next year.

1400 MILES IN FIFTEEN MINUTES

A LARGE book publishing company recently sent a sales representative on a journey of 1400 miles, which he completed in fifteen minutes, and at a total cost of only $8.00. How did he accomplish this miracle? By the only possible means—the telephone!

In New York, Chicago, and Boston, he reached people he wanted, and sold them 26,000 books! He did this by telephone just as easily as if he had actually traveled all that distance at a cost of much time and money.

In ever-increasing numbers, business men are coming to the use of the telephone for making sales to out-of-town customers. Certainly nothing can beat it for speed, effectiveness and low cost.

Make station-to-station calls and you can talk about 25 miles for 25 cents; 50 miles for 45 cents; 100 miles for 60 cents. The greater the distance the less the cost per mile.

CURRENT EVENTS IN VIRGINIA AND MARYLAND

DEFINITE STANDARDS FOR RECORDS URGED

Groups in Virginia Ask Sums for Preservation of Public Data.

Richmond, Va., May 4 (A.P.).—More than a dozen civic and patriotic bodies in various sections of Virginia have adopted resolutions calling upon the State authorities to fix definite standards for all materials and devices used in making the public records of the Commonwealth, and to appropriate sufficient funds at the 1932 session of the General Assembly to make this possible, Morgan P. Robinson, State archivist, announced today.

Many other organizations in all parts of the State were expected to adopt similar resolutions in the not distant future, Mr. Robinson said.

"Unless something is done to fix proper standards for inks, papers, ribbons, devices, &c., used for making public records, there will be no records of this period several hundred years from now," Mr. Robinson pointed out.

The Virginia Historical Society carries a resolution in its April magazine which it hoped will be adopted by all organizations interested in preservation of the State's public records. The society directs the particular attention of bar associations, real estate exchanges and title insurance companies to the importance of the proposed legislation.

Resolutions calling for adequate records have been adopted several times by the State Bar Association and the State Library Board, and the following bodies also have approved them in recent months:

Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities, Confederate Memorial Literary Society, Richmond and University Chapters, Daughters of 1812, Francis Bland, William Byrd, Old Dominion, George Wythe and Newport News Chapters, Daughters of the Revolution; State Society, Sons of the American Revolution, and Post A, Virginia Division, Travelers and Protective Association.

Cooperation Topic Of Retail Grocers

Maryland Independents Hold Annual Session at Cumberland.

Special to The Washington Post.

Cumberland, Md., May 4.—"Unfair competition" and "cooperative buying" were big topics of discussion before the third annual convention of the Independent Retail Grocers of Maryland here today. The discussion was long and animated on cooperative buying, with no action taken. It was pointed out that the wholesaler would be eliminated and many felt that he still had a right to be in business.

Magistrate H. Pohlhaus, of Baltimore, a director in the association, gave a report of the legislative committee. He referred to four bills that were regarded as inimical to the business of the retail grocer as having died in committee. He inveigled against seeking too much legislation and called for equal rights for all, declaring that legislation that at times might be sought in behalf of the retail grocer might be unfair to some one else.

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, John M. Pohlhaus, Baltimore; first vice president, Abe Martin, Hagerstown; second vice president, Edward A. Fisher, Cumberland; third vice president, Meredith Von Staub, Frederick; treasurer, William H. Shellhorn, Baltimore; Frederick was selected as the next place of meeting.

Boys ran the New York Stock Exchange recently and it seems to this department that, in view of the first sign of a strong market in many weeks, the great trouble is that we have been leaving the market in the hands of the so-called adults.

Special to The Washington Post.

Petersburg, Va., May 4.—News was received here this morning of the death of Mrs. David E. Barner, of this city, which occurred in Louisville, Ky., at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Cousins, whom she was visiting.

Mrs. Barner was 75 years old, and had been a resident of Petersburg for almost a half-century. In recent years she made her home with her son, Melville P. Barner. She is survived by three sons, Melville P., Willie F. Barner, of this city; David M. Barner, of Norfolk, and one daughter, Mrs. Henry M. Cousins, of Louisville, and the following sisters and brothers: Mrs. Dollie Boisseau, of Dinwiddie County; Mrs. Branch Eppes, of Washington, D. C.; William Doyle, of Washington, D. C.; Courtney Doyle, of New York; Meade Doyle, of Shreveport, La.; Ashton Doyle, of Dallas, Tex.

Mrs. Barner was formerly Miss Adeline Doyle, of Dinwiddie, the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. W. S. Doyle, and since her marriage to Mr. Barner had resided in Petersburg. The remains will arrive here tomorrow, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cousins, and will be taken to the residence of her son, Melville P. Barner.

Bankers of Three Counties to Meet

Prince William, Fauquier and Loudoun Men Go to Warrenton.

Special to The Washington Post.

Manassas, Va., May 4.—The first meeting of the Tricounty Association of Banks since its recent organization in Leesburg will be held at Warrenton Tuesday night, beginning at 7:30 o'clock, according to announcement by G. Raymond Ratcliffe, secretary.

The Tricounty Association of Banks gets its membership from the sixteen banks in Prince William, Fauquier and Loudoun Counties and was organized for the purpose of improving banking conditions in the three counties. Plans of administration of the organization and a study of purely local banking problems will be discussed at tomorrow's meeting.

Officers of the association are C. E. Tiffany, president of the Fauquier National Bank, president; F. W. Anderson, cashier of the Marshall National Bank & Trust Co., vice president for Fauquier County; Bruce McIntosh, president of the People's National Bank, Leesburg, vice president for Loudoun County; H. Ewing Wall, cashier of the First National Bank, Quantico, vice president for Prince William County, and G. Raymond Ratcliffe, vice president of the People's National Bank, Manassas, secretary-treasurer.

The victim leaves a widow, three sons and two daughters.

DUNCAN ANNOUNCES FOR SHERIFF'S POST

To Oppose Fields and Kines in Arlington County Election in Fall.

ARLINGTON COUNTY BUREAU OF THE POST.
Tel. Clar. 509. Clarendon, Va.

Edward Duncan, chairman of the county board of supervisors, announced yesterday that he will be a candidate for the office of sheriff at the county election to be held in November, against Sheriff Howard B. Fields, incumbent, who has already announced that he is a candidate for reelection.

In announcing his candidacy, Mr. Duncan says:

"If elected, I will devote my entire time to the duties of the office and will enforce all laws fairly and impartially. I will especially endeavor to have all members of the police force extend the utmost courtesy in attending to their duties and refrain from the use of undue force or brutality in apprehending and handling prisoners. I have been a lifelong resident of the county and have given the last 24 years in public service.

"I believe I am fully acquainted with its citizens and their needs and am able to conduct the office I seek to their best interests. I will sincerely appreciate any support given me and in return will promise my best efforts in the public service."

Sheriff Fields, who has held the office of sheriff for the past eight years, this being the last year of three terms in office, one term being from 1915 to 1919, has previously held the offices of constable, deputy sheriff and deputy United States marshal, making a total of 33 years in police service.

With the announcement of Mr. Duncan, the race has now developed into a three-cornered affair, Z. O. Kines, who served as deputy sheriff under former Sheriff A. C. Clements, having some time ago announced that he was a candidate for the office.

J. Hammond Brewer, jr., was elected president of the Arlington County Bar Association at a luncheon meeting held yesterday at Windsor Arms, in Arlington County. Other officers are Thomas W. Phillips, vice president, and W. Thomas French, secretary and treasurer.

The following committee members were elected: Grievance committee—Judge Harry R. Thomas, chairman; State Sentor Frank L. Ball and Walter U. Varney.

Legislative committee—Col. Charles T. Jesse, chairman; Emery N. Hosmer and J. Foster Hagan.

County Commissioner of Revenue Harry K. Green announces that he or his deputies will be at the Jefferson District firemen's hall in Virginia Highlands tomorrow night from 7 to 9 o'clock to assist taxpayers in that section in making tax returns.

Commissioner Green states that all persons over 21 years of age must make a return on personal and income, either in person or by agent, on or before June 2.

Commissioner Green further stated that he will visit other sections of the county, the dates to be announced later.

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the home of Walter Augustus, colored, on Johnsons Hill, Arlington County, at an early hour yesterday morning.

Firemen from Jefferson District, Arlington, Clarendon and Ballston responded, but found the home in flames, and with much effort they saved adjoining property. The estimated damage was placed at $3,500.

Thomas S. Wallis, of Cherrydale, a lifelong resident of Arlington County, announced yesterday that he will be a candidate for membership on the county board of five to be elected at the coming county election in November.

Mr. Wallis stated that while it was a little early to give out his platform he said that one of his main points will be a county-wide sewerage system for Arlington County.

"I consider this the most important need for the future development of this county and if elected will do all in my power to see to it that a plan is developed whereby we can have a modern sewerage system for the entire county," he declared.

The vestry of St. George's Episcopal Church will hold its monthly meeting tonight at the rectory at 8 o'clock.

The Arlington Volunteer Fire Department will meet tomorrow night at the new firehouse at which time plans for the annual carnival, to be held the week of July 13, will be formulated.

The Clarendon Woman's Christian Temperance Union announces that its meeting scheduled for tonight at the home of Mrs. Mae E. Jacobs has been postponed until Tuesday evening, May 12.

The Arlington County Monarch Club will hold its annual ladies' night Thursday night at the Army-Navy Club in Arlington County.

While the program is being kept as a close secret, the chairman, Dexter Hussey, promises one which will far exceed any in past years.

Members planning to attend are asked to make reservations with the committee at once as the seating capacity for the banquet which will be a feature of the program is limited.

The Arlington County Business and Professional Woman's Club announces that it will give a dance the evening of May 19 at the Army-Navy Club in Arlington County.

Music will be furnished by Lincoln Mackey and his Old Dominion Orchestra.

The Washington-Lee High School Cadet Corps and Girls' Auxiliary, numbering 235, with the school band will leave for Winchester tomorrow morning in buses.

The cadets, in charge of Lieut. Col. C. S. McNeill, will head the military school division in the parade as a feature of the annual apple blossom festival.

The preschool dental clinic will be held today at the Clarendon health center and will be conducted by Dr. C. R. Boyland, county school dentist. The hours will be from 9 to 12 noon and in the afternoon from 1 to 4 o'clock.

Formulating plans for carrying on an aggressive campaign from now until the county election takes place for the selection of county officers featured the meeting of the League of Republican Women of Arlington County at Clarendon last night.

While it was pointed out that meetings should be held at least once a month until the election, it was the opinion of many of those attending the meeting that much more can be accomplished through committee work and social meetings.

The president, Mrs. C. W. Harris, announced that she will have completed her committee assignments within the next few days, at which time they will be made public.

Jury in Baltimore Accuses Holland

President of Defunct Bank Blamed of Conspiracy and Falsification.

Baltimore, Md., May 4 (A.P.).—J. Monroe Holland, president of the defunct Chesapeake Bank, was presented by the grand jury today on charges of conspiracy and that he was responsible for falsification of the bank's accounts. Presentment under Maryland procedure is usually equivalent to indictment.

The bank, which had resources of more than $5,000,000, was placed in the hands of a receiver last December 9. James I. Smith, manager of one of its two branches, was convicted Friday of falsifying books, and a vice president, Mileton B. Delcher, previously was sentenced to five years in jail for fraud involving more than $30,000.

In one of the presentments today, Holland was jointly indicted with Delcher on charges of conspiracy. Holland's total bond was put at $35,000. He is a leading figure in three Baltimore business firms and a radio broadcasting station.

Bench Warrant Read to Diamond.

Albany, N. Y., May 4 (A.P.).—A bench warrant charging Jack (Legs) Diamond with carrying a concealed weapon was read to Diamond today by two State troopers as the gangster chieftan lay on a hospital bed. He is recovering from wounds suffered when ambushed last week near his mountain home in Acra.

NAVY WILL PROBE COLLISION OF SHIPS

Aircraft Vessel and Tanker Put in for Repairs After Cape Henry Crash.

Norfolk, Va., May 4 (A.P.).—A naval board of inquiry convened this afternoon to begin its investigation of the collision Saturday night between the U. S. Wright, flagship of the aircraft squadron's scouting force and the oil tanker Papoose.

The Wright, now docked at the Hampton Roads naval operating base, will proceed to the Norfolk Navy Yard for repairs as soon as the board completes its investigation. The Papoose, out of Baltimore for Trinidad, cast anchor in Lynn Haven Roads following the accident and proceeded to Newport News Sunday afternoon for repairs.

The Wright, bound for Hampton Roads from Guantanamo Bay and winter maneuvers with the scouting force, was standing in for Cape Henry when the crash occurred. The tanker, traveling light and high out of the water, struck the naval vessel on the starboard bow. Visibility was poor and both vessels were traveling cautiously.

Lookouts on both vessels, seeing that a collion was imminent, yelled warnings, and both vessels reversed their engines. The tanker hit the Wright about 75 feet from her nose, inflicting a deep cut in the upper deck of the naval vessel and crashing the right wing of a torpedo plane strapped to the Wright's deck. The two vessels swung together, inflicting slight damage to another plane on the aft deck of the Wright. Both vessels signaled that they had sustained no serious damage. The Wright came on to Hampton Roads.

Cadet First Class Inspects Aberdeen

Rough Rides in Tanks and Other Motor Mounts Mark Visit.

Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md., May 4 (A.P.).—Approximately 300 members of the first class of the Military Academy at West Point were taken for a ride here today—several rides in fact, and rough ones.

In groups of half a dozen the future Army officers went over a series of ridges of 60 per cent grade in armored tanks that can turn in their own length. They rode also in self-propelled ordnance mounts, armored cars and cross-country trucks.

There was one mishap. A cross-country truck, mounting a machine gun and carrying six cadets, overturned in trying to make a short turn. No one was hurt, and the truck, righted, continued under its own power. Gen. William R. Smith, superintendent of the academy, was with the party. A dinner, reception and dance were on the evening's program.

Mother of 12 Admits Robbing Parishioners

Baltimore, May 4 (A.P.).—Mrs. Elizabeth Grace Engle, mother of twelve children, was held in $250 bail for grand jury action today after she admitted theft of two pocketbooks from parishioners of the Fourteen Holy Martyrs' Church "to keep from starving to death."

The woman was arrested in the lobby of the church. Magistrate John T. Tormollan said she had been receiving aid from one of the church's charity agencies.

MASK AND BAUBLE TALENT MAKES HIT

Elaborate Caste and Stage Settings in Play of "If I Were King."

"If I Were King," the romantic play of Justin McGrath popularized for years on the legitimate stage, served as the vehicle to display some creditable amateur talent of the Georgetown University Mask and Bauble Club last night.

The performance, calling for an elaborate caste and stage settings, was presented in the theater of Holy Trinity Church, in Georgetown, and will be repeated tonight at 8:15 o'clock. In their initial performance the Miles O'Brien in the leading role, scored a decided hit.

Done With Fine Technique.

Mr. O'Brien played the difficult role of Francois Villon, the rascally laureat of Paris, with fine technique. He was ably supported by Stephen V. Johnson in the character of Katherine de Vaucelles and by John F. Drum, who took the part of the crafty Louis XI of France.

"If I Were King" is a difficult enough piece for professionals and consequently the Georgetown players had gone through a long period of rehearsals which manifested itself in a smooth-going production. One of the individual successes of the play was scored by the popular football player, Maurice Dubofsky, in the part of Robin Turgis, the innkeeper.

Four Scenes Are Given.

There were four scenes, the play taking part in Paris during the middle of the fifteenth century. It was directed by Denis E. Connell. Irvine E. Peterson was stage director and Joseph N. Monaghan, master of the wardrobe. Thomas E. Mills, athletic director of Georgetown, directed the student actors in the art of make-up.

Other members of the caste included soldiers and "supes" and the following in speaking roles: Desmond R. Murray, R. Vernon Murphy, William P. Hardie, Frank J. McArdle, John A. Hooley, William P. Cannon, L. Hohn Kelly, Thomas F. G. Hickey, Thomas F. Walsh, jr., Edward J. Fahy, Paul A. Kennedy, John A. Coakley, jr., Cassidy E. Driscoll, William H. Soisson, jr., Andrew J. Cooney, Richard E. Coyle, Joseph E. F. Brackley, Roland Gallagher, Thomas A. Gallagher and James J. McGrath.

Hyde's Fishing Spoiled By Drought Aid Pleas

(Associated Press.)

Demands for drought loan time extensions apparently have spoiled Secretary Hyde's fishing plans. The Agriculture Secretary left late yesterday for Memphis, where today he will address the National Council of Boy Scouts. From there he had planned to go to Port Aransas, Tex., for several weeks of deep sea fishing.

However, since the time limit for applying for loans from the Government's emergency funds expired April 30 in all but four States, several pressing requests for further time have been made. Both the Secretary and the Seed Loan Office declined an extension. So, instead of going direct to Port Aransas, he now plans to return here Thursday to answer personally any further requests.

Capital Organizations To Take Part in Pageant

Two Washington military-musical organizations will occupy the two leading positions of honor in the Trail of the Pink Petals, the pageant in connection with the Shenandoah Apple Blossom Festival.

The Provisional Battalion of the Twentieth Marines, Washington's volunteer Marine Corps Reserve Regiment, and the Twentieth Marines Regimental Band have been selected to act as court of honor and official escort for Miss Patricia D. Morton, Queen Shenandoah VIII.

The veterans section of the parade will be headed by the Overseas Military Band of Washington. It will be the third year for the Veterans of Foreign Wars organization at Winchester. In 1929 the veterans consisted of drums and bugles, but won the first prize in that class.

In 1930 the Veterans of Foreign Wars unit was augmented to a 100-piece military band and won the grand prize at Winchester. The band will be commanded by Commander John L. King and will be preceded by a massed color section of twenty flags carried by United States Marines, in command of Capt. Louis J. Cukela, dual Medal of Honor winner.

WIFE SLAYER SENT TO ST. ELIZABETHS

Sidney A. Skinner Not to Face Charge of Murder in First Degree.

Sidney A. Skinner, slayer of his wife, Dorothy M. Skinner, will not have to face a charge of first-degree murder, a jury sitting in Justice Peyton Gordon's Criminal Court decided yesterday. The jury called to pass upon Skinner's sanity found that he was of "unsound mind," and he was immediately ordered taken to St. Elizabeths Hospital.

Skinner, a former State Department employe, will be incarcerated in Howard Hall, famous for years as the Government's chief place of detention of the criminally insane.

Frequently interrupting the proceedings, Skinner called upon the court officials to go to his home at 4047 Twenty-first street northeast, and look for his wife. "She's there, and she's all right," he declared repeatedly.

The Government did not oppose the move of Attorneys William E. Leahy and James F. Reilly to have Skinner adjudged insane. His action in stabbing his wife, and his subsequent actions in attacking his cellmate, Albert C. Baker, in their cell at the jail, together with his incoherent talk, convinced the Government prosecutors the man was of unsound mind.

Dr. D. Percy Hickling, District alienist, recommended that Skinner be committed. The man stabbed his wife on the night of March 12. She died the next day.

Miss Glaspell, the author of the prize-winning play, has written thirteen others. The most important of them was "Inheritors," produced by Miss Le Gallienne in 1927. Miss Glaspell was born in 1882 at Davenport, Iowa, and educated at Drake University, the University of Iowa and University of Chicago.

Margaret Ayer Barnes, author of "Years of Grace," is the wife of Cecil Barnes, a Chicago lawyer, a graduate of Bryn Mawr and the mother of three children.

Robert Frost, born in San Francisco in 1875, lives in South Shaftesbury, Vt., on a farm. He attended Dartmouth and Harvard, and at various times has been vagabond, teacher, shoemaker and editor.

Son of Philosopher.

Charles W. Eliot, the subject of the winning biography by Henry James, was president of Harvard for 40 years and its president emeritus at his death in 1926. Mr. James is a son of William James, American philosopher, and a nephew of Henry James, the novelist. He is a trustee for the Carnegie Foundation, the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, and an overseer of Harvard.

Bernadotte E. Schmitt, winner of the history award, is professor of modern history at the University of Chicago and editor of the Journal of Modern History.

The work of Hubert R. Knickerbocker, honored for his series on the Soviet's five-year plan, came into international prominence in 1929. At that time he uncovered a story which led to the conviction of two men for forging documents purporting to show that Senator Borah and Senator Norris had received $100,000 from the Russian government.

High Water Mark Held Virginia Line

Opinion of Supreme Court Settles Mooted Issue of Boundary.

The boundary line between the District and Virginia is at the high-water-mark on the Virginia shore, it was decided yesterday by the United States Supreme Court, which reversed a ruling of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

The decision came as a result of litigation between the moot Sand & Gravel Corporation and the Washington Airport, Inc. The Smoot Co. was engaged in dredging operations on the shore line, which the airport corporation tried to restrain, claiming trespass on its property which, it claimed, ends at the low-water mark.

Government counsel argued in favor of the high-water mark boundary. Justice Holmes read the majority opinion, from which Justice McReynolds dissented.

NEWS FROM NEARBY STATES

FIELD DAY IS HELD BY FAIRFAX GRANGE

County's Annual Affair Is Staged in Forestville; Lecturer Speaks.

FAIRFAX BUREAU OF THE POST,
P. O. Box 245, Fairfax, Va.
Phone Clarendon 2324-W-2.

The Fairfax County Pomona Grange held its annual field day yesterday in the Great Falls Hall at Forestville. The morning session was devoted to a lecturer's conference, following which a basket lunch was had.

Grand Master J. Oswald Carper introduced Col. J. A. Horsley, State grand master of Virginia. The principal speaker of the afternoon was J. C. Farmer, of New Hampshire, national grand lecturer of the granges. A. M. Loomis, a member of the Potomac Grange, of Washington, spoke of the benefits of a grange to a farming community.

Mayor L. P. Daniel, of the Town of Falls Church, has issued a proclamation for the observance of Carnation Day. The proclamation reads as follows: "Whereas the day preceding Mothers Day has been set aside by the American War Mothers as 'Carnation Day,' and as the proceeds of the sale of carnations on Friday, May 8, and Saturday, May 9, by the War Mothers organizations will be devoted to assisting disabled World War veterans and their families, I therefore hope that all citizens will join in the purchase of these flowers."

Cany Klein, of Baileys Cross Roads, was arrested by Fairfax County Policeman L. L. Finks and charged with possession of liquor. Klein was taken before Justice of the Peace John B. Dowden, who held him under a $500 bond for action of the grand jury at the May term of the Fairfax County Circuit Court.

Cash H. Brown, of Annapolis, was arrested by County Policeman A. W. Mills on a charge of driving while intoxicated at Petlands, on the Washington-Richmond highway. Brown was taken before Justice of the Peace Harry Shepherd at Accotink and ordered held for the grand jury.

The Fairfax District Council, Order of Fraternal Americans, will meet this evening in Mc Lean as guests of the McLean Council. District officers for the term will be elected. The Farmers and Mechanics Council at Andrew Chapel will meet earlier in the evening at Andrew Chapel and go to McLean in a group.

A motion picture showing parts of "The Passion Play" will be shown this evening at 8 o'clock in the schoolhouse at Baileys Cross Roads. The pupils of the school will present a musical comedy, "What Price Flies," later.

The Fairfax County school board will meet today at the county courthouse. Only routine business will be considered, as the appointment of teachers for the next school year will be deferred until a special meeting of the board later in the month.

The Forestville Home Demonstration Club will hold its regular meeting this afternoon. Miss J. Girard and Mrs. F. O. Hicks, the club leaders, will give demonstrations on "Home Made Labor Savers for the Housewife."

The Ladies' Aid Society of Brown's Chapel near Colvin Run has elected Mrs. Minnie McCuen president; Mrs. Leonard Brown, vice president; Mrs. Mack Crippen, secretary, and Mrs. Howard Cunningham, treasurer. Mrs. Cunningham and Mrs. Crippen were appointed members of the parish committee; Miss Phoebe Wyncoop, Mrs. McCuen, Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Cunningham, the social committee, and Mrs. Epp Burr, Mrs. Cunningham and Mrs. McCuen, the sick visitation committee. The next meeting of the society will be held at the home of Mrs. H. Kidwell at Hunters Station.

The Annandale Home Demonstration Club will meet this afternoon instead of Thursday at the home of Mrs. Mason Hirst at Annandale. The subject of the demonstration will be the tying and dyeing of clothes.

The regular meeting of the Pioneer Grange will be held this evening in the Grange Hall at Masonville on the Falls Church-Annandale road. The Grange will award contract for the construction of a rest room and stage dressing room to the hall. The lecturer's hour will be under direction of Miss Elma Besley, who has secured Misses Melba and Maxine Harlowe, of Lee-Jackson, radio artists, as entertainers.

The Sharon Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, will give a card party this evening in the Masonic Hall at McLean. The party is sponsored by the officers of the lodge for 1931.

The Franconia School and Community League will meet this evening in the Franconia schoolhouse. The entertainment program will include selections by the Fairview Glee Club, under direction of Emmett Day, and an address by C. C. Carr, of Fairfax, president of the Fairfax County School League.

The Altar Guild of the Zion Episcopal Church, at Fairfax, will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert D. Graham on Payne street.

Three Slightly Hurt In College Park Crash

Three persons were slightly injured last night when their car ran off the Baltimore boulevard near College Park, Md., and struck a pole.

They are Harry Gaskins, 28 years old, of 128 C street northeast, treated for lacerations of the right arm, Mrs. India Nickolson, 35 years old, also of the C street address, and Lee Knight, 29 years old, a Chinese, of 519 Thirteenth street northwest. Mrs. Nickolson was said to have lacerations of the face, body and arms, and a fractured knee cap, while Knight was badly bruised. The woman remained at Casualty Hospital, where all the injured were taken, but the other two were discharged after treatment.

ARMAMENTS AND WAR DEBTS.

President Hoover has delivered a crushing blow to the arguments that the United States should assume responsibility for lifting Europe out of the world-wide economic depression. Financiers, business men and economists have crossed the Atlantic with proposals for cancellation of the war debts, reduction of the American tariff and other methods of international "cooperation." President Hoover takes the wind out of their sails by declaring that the excessive armaments maintained by the governments of Europe are the most serious hindrance to the economic recuperation of the world.

"Endeavor as we must in support of every proposal of international economic cooperation that is just to our respective peoples," the President said, "yet we must recognize that reduction of this gigantic waste of competition in military establishments is in the ultimate of an importance transcendent over all other forms of such economic effort." If Europe is in financial straits, how can the nations raise several billions of dollars each year for armies? Why do those countries appeal to America to play the part of the good Samaritan when they are taxing their peoples into poverty to support powerful machines of war?

President Hoover made no mention of the appeal for a lower tariff and cancellation of Europe's debt to this country. Several days ago it was announced that the discussion of these subjects would have no effect upon the attitude of the administration. The foreign delegates who are here for the congress of the International Chamber of Commerce know very well that the excessive armaments maintained by their governments would be an effective bar to negotiations on war debts, even if America were inclined to assume the role of philanthropist. President Hoover has exposed the shallowness of Europe's request for generosity in a way that should make an end of the twaddle about cancellation of debts.

Most every economist who has tried to diagnose the depression has traced its roots to the World War. But little has been said about the enormous post-war expenditures for armaments. President Hoover calls attention to the fact that the world is spending 70 per cent more on arms than it did before the war, in spite of the Kellogg pact and a number of armament treaties. This has placed an enormous burden of taxation upon the people of Europe. Unquestionably it is a large factor in the economic crisis through which Europe and the rest of the world are passing. Besides draining from the nations' funds that should have been flowing into constructive enterprises, this policy has accentuated the unrest and instability of the continent.

While Europe has been spending billions on armies the United States has cut $10,000,000,000 from its public debt. Now it is proposed that American taxpayers should assume the debt which Europe owes to this Government. Europe has no money to pay its debts, but it can squeeze billions from its people to maintain fighting machines. European countries complain because America maintains its higher standard of living through a tariff, and yet they are willing to sap the vitality of their own industries and their own people to finance armies.

It is argued that cancellation of the war debts would stimulate trade and hasten the return of prosperity. On the other hand, this proposed gratuity from the United States might be used to develop bigger and better armies to menace the peace of the world. So long as these excessive armaments are costing nearly $5,000,000,000 per year talk of reducing debts is futile. President Hoover's brief address makes discussion of economic subsidies to Europe in any form a waste of time.

USE AMERICAN SHIPS.

At the time when the United States Line and the American Merchant Line were transferred from the United States Shipping Board to the corporation organized by F. W. Chapman it was understood that the new owners of the Leviathan would build two "sister ships" equal in tonnage and speed, or even superior to that Queen of the Seas. But although the time limit has expired when the keels were to have been laid the Leviathan family has not been increased, nor is there apparent an immediate prospect that those promised additions to the American Merchant Marine will be launched for several years.

While the falling off in exports and imports of merchandise since the business slump of 1929 has had much to do with the failure of the United States Lines to risk the building of the proposed superliners, another factor is the pronounced indifference of so many Americans toward the American Merchant Marine.

It would seem that Americans generally, and American business men especially, would be the first to realize the advantage of supporting the American shipping industry. Yet, as the Shipping Board has pointed out, one, of the largest and wealthiest manufacturers, whose exports aggregate thousands of tons of high-class freight each year, not only charters foreign bottoms in which to ship his cargoes to the ports of the seven seas, but he even goes further in his disregard of his own country's interests by offering at reduced rates any cargo space in those foreign flag vessels which he does not require for his own freights.

Again, there are Americans who through indifference invariably travel under a foreign flag when destined for a voyage to or from "the other side," in spite of the fact that first-class accommodations are available in American owned and operated ships. It is difficult to understand why former Secretary Kellogg should have returned from Europe on a German steamer when space on an American liner was available. Nor can anyone furnish a reasonable excuse for the selection of a vessel flying the French flag by C. Bascom Slemp, when he sailed ten days ago to represent the United States at the forthcoming Paris exposition.

Without the support of the American traveling public the rehabilitation of the American Merchant Marine will be postponed indefinitely and the superliners will scarcely get beyond the blue print stage for many years to come.

CHINA'S WOES MULTIPLY.

The National government of China has trouble enough on hand to worry a strong, rich power. The revolting provinces, disloyal military leaders, menacing Communist armies and threatened failure of the foreign parley present a combined menace that is truly alarming for officials at Nanking. Foreign relations and national authority are both threatened with disruption.

Owing to the difficulty of securing exact information from Nanking the fate of the extraterritoriality negotiations is still in doubt. A Shanghai dispatch asserts that the parley is deadlocked and that it will be discontinued, but that is offset by hopes expressed in London that at least the demands for reserved areas by France, Great Britain and the United States will be granted.

The negotiations, now on the rocks, failed to secure favorable consideration of the right of foreigners to appeal from the verdict of a Chinese court to a foreign court; gradual surrender of extraterritorial rights, first in civil and then in criminal cases, and appointment of foreign advisers to special Chinese courts trying foreign cases.

The interested powers were considering the necessity of abandoning all special privileges if the areas under consular jurisdiction within a radius of 17 miles of the large cities could be maintained for a period of years. Chinese politics, however, enters into the attitude of Foreign Minister C. T. Wang, who threatens to abolish foreign treaties as a gesture that will appeal to the delegates assembling at Nanking and strengthen the position of the government in the national convention.

Dissensions within the National government group adds to its precarious situation. An important contingent of the conservative Kuomintang, which controls the Nationalist government, has attacked the party leader, Chiang Kai-Shek, charging inefficiency and abuse of power. Rumblings of discontent, which continue to come from Canton, historic center where Chinese revolutions are fomented, add to the uncertainties of China's immediate future.

SOCIAL PROGRESS.

The last century has seen an immense development along mechanical and technical lines. The speed of this advance has been so great that social and economic sciences have not been able to keep pace and are still endeavoring to catch up. The social order has developed new faults and perpetuated old ones that must be analyzed and overcome. The steady improvement in general living conditions is to a great extent due to scientific aid, but there remains still a large field for study and betterment of the system.

Owen D. Young recently said: "Capitalism is the only vehicle by which civilization has gotten this far along the road. It is not an end in itself. It has served mankind well, and necessarily we must be 'from Missouri' until something better is demonstrated * * * I venture that we can make greater progress by improving what we have than by starting again. The defects of capitalism are a challenge to youth, especially in America, to cure them, and I look forward to an economic and social advance comparable to the developments in mechanic and applied science."

At no time is it so easy to point out the short comings of a system as in a period of depression such as exists today. Many unemployed asking for work, such an abundance of food that it makes the producers poor, while in other parts men starve—this lack of balance exposes the glaring faults that appear to indict capitalism. Yet the system has not broken down. Though millions are out of work, many times their number are still employed; though many are hungry, a greater proportion of the people are better cared for than in any other period in history. Though the faults of our order are apparent, its merits also command attention.

American wealth is unequally distributed. This might be adjusted by doing away with private property altogether, but it has never been shown that this alternative is an improvement.

The Communist Utopia proposes a job for every one, with good food, suitable clothing, education, athletics, entertainment, etc., furnished in just proportion by the state. This is a wonderful ideal; no want, no poverty, no class distinction. How lucky to belong to a society in which there would be no fear of ever being "down and out!" Each would have his allotted work, with leisure to spend in his home or in recreation.

Of course, such conditions do not exist in Russia today; but the Communists persist in their ideal, even though every move they make increases their hardships and carries them further away from liberty, leisure and equal rights. Communism under the test proves to be absolutism under an oligarchy.

With all its faults, the social system based upon the home, private ownership of property, and respect for religion is working infinitely better for human happiness than the iridescent dream of the Communists.

Mary Pickford is buying up and destroying all her old films to keep the next generation from laughing at her. Most folks do pretty well if they can avoid being laughed at while they are still on deck.

CALVIN COOLIDGE SAYS:

Northampton, Mass., May 4.—The American Jewish joint distribution committee is starting an effort to raise $2,500,000 for the relief of their race in central and eastern Europe. The need for rehabilitation in that area is great and the organization for collecting and disbursing money is effective and complete. Our benefactions for foreign countries are very large. Scores of millions have gone to Near East relief and hundreds of millions to other agencies. But the work is not yet done and should continue.

This is only an example of the constant and enormous charities of our country. In 1929 the amount of contributions is estimated at about $2,500,000,000, which is more than one-half the cost of the national government, and about 3 per cent of the national income. As an example of the generosity of a whole people there was never anything to compare with it in magnitude. Instead of putting all the emphasis on the great amount of wealth our country has accumulated, some thought should be given to the amount it is continually giving away. These are our permanent investments on which the returns are most satisfactory.

CALVIN COOLIDGE.

BIG AND LITTLE SHIPS

From the New York Herald Tribune.

If one thing has been made abundantly clear by the Franco-Anglo-Italian naval negotiations it is that Great Britain is out for a reduction in the size of capital ships, in spite of her adherence to treaties which have already fixed that size. As American naval interests lie in the preservation of the present minimum it must be apparent that the British position in this regard is scarcely advantageous to the United States. Needless to say, the British have a perfect right to favor any size they wish, but it is just a trifle odd to read that in the House of Commons a few days ago Rear Admiral T. P. Beamish stated that "in common fairness" Great Britain was entitled to the "active support" of the United States in the current negotiations.

"In common fairness" to whom? Not to the United States, surely. Admiral Beamish must know that large ships, capable of staying at sea for long periods, are more essential to us than they are to Great Britain, with her conveniently situated bases. It might even occur to him that a nation with bases could give up large ships altogether, knowing that a group of small ships, operating from a base, could sink one large ship far from home.

Yet, the United States is a nation whose lines of communication are primarily transoceanic, whereas those of Great Britain are largely along coasts or through inland seas. Without plentiful bases the open-door policy must be maintained in eastern Asia and the products of rubber plantations owned in Akron ucts of rubber plantations owned in Akron but situated in Malaya must be able to reach the United States. It is also true that a neutral power capable of effective transoceanic action is a great force for peace. Without some transoceanic power the wings of the eagle would be clipped, both from the material and the pacific standpoint.

Admiral Beamish's remark about "common fairness" indicates that the notion still lingers overseas that the United States does not need a navy as much as, say, Great Britain. This old chestnut can find favor only with persons who persist in thinking of the United States in nineteenth century terms; as a great, self-sufficient country depending hardly at all on overseas trade. Yet at present we import more crude materials than we export, and our exports are mostly of manufactures, exceeding in their total those from the United Kingdom by more than a third. Moreover, while the production of British exports supports about 13,000,000 Britons, the Navy League in a recent survey finds that the production of American exports supports directly about 12,500,000 Americans.

Thus, roughly, one-third of the British population depends on exports; whereas, roughly, one-tenth of the American population is so supported. But does the mere fact that we are a larger country make about 13,000,000 Americans less deserving of protection than are 13,000,000 Britons? The American export population is not so large a fraction, but is it not equally important in the eyes of the American Government and of the world?

If "common fairness" is being mentioned, does not a portion of it belong to the American people?

BILLBOARDS.

Travelers by the Bath road have a strong temptation to suppose that this must be the world's most decorated thoroughfare, says the Weekend Review of London, but apparently it is not so, for the Scapa Society finds that between Hounslow and Bath there are no more than 154 advertising signs—an average of 1.7 per mile—while along the Baltimore turnpike out of Washington, D. C., there are 1,099 in 27.7 miles—an average of 39 of them per mile. Traveling at normal speed one passes a sign on the average every two seconds, with a maximum respite of under half a minute. As the rural scene finally disappears behind barricades of boardings it will be a consolation to work out more statistics of this sort for our trunk roads, and to assure ourselves by reference when we get home that, compared with the United States, we have nothing serious to complain about.

No Bombardment Is Justified if Children Are in the Line of Fire.

By ROBERT QUILLEN

OPINIONS may differ concerning the right or wrong of divorce and remarriage, but no one who has acquaintance with the tragedy of loveless unions will question the right and necessity of separation.

Few things in human experience are more sordid or more degrading than the intimate partnership of a man and woman who have learned to hate one another.

As a woman without virtue or honor seems more vile than the worst of men because of the greater contrast with her normal purity, so the sanctity of true and ideal marriage makes any union without love a profanation and a sacrilege.

Those without experience of love enjoy reminding us that the concept of marriage is biological, but love is a finer and nobler thing than is dreamed of by such philosophers and love is the inspiration of all true matings.

The ideal marriage is a spiritual union—a comradeship prompted by mutual admiration and respect and cemented by mutual sacrifice, loyalty and service.

It is love that makes the marriage. State and church merely record and bless it.

And if love makes the spiritual union called marriage, then the union is dissolved when love is gone and the separation approved by church and State does no more than acknowledge a fact already accomplished.

If the man and woman continue the semblance of marriage when love has given place to malice and contempt, their continued union is without warrant and neither law or edict can make it respectable.

Is the spirit of the law less important than the letter? As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he. And if hearts are not married, who will contend that physical bodies are?

If man and wife are childless, a union continued without love injures none but themselves; but if they have children, the innocent suffer more than the guilty.

As decent family pride stiffens the backbone and encourages scorn of things unclean so family shame breaks the spirit and prompts a hopeless resignation to things that are low and shameful.

Children with tender sensibilities are scarred for life by the bickering of parents who are enemies. For their sake, if for no other, a union made immoral by malice should be dissolved.

Those Coming Pensions.

Atlanta Constitution.

Now it is Senator Smoot, the astute chairman of the Senate finance committee, who foresees and foretells that regular pensions are to be demanded for the World War veterans. Not only does he see the demand looming, but he predicts that it will be granted by congressmen who will not refuse it through fear of the fatal effect upon their personal political fortunes should they vote against it.

Those who have memories long enough can recall the power over Congress that a million of Union Army veteran voters had and applied half a century and more ago. In 1879 there were 242,755 pensioners of all classes, including widows, on the rolls, calling for $33,664,428; the average per pensioner yearly, after expenses, was about $136. Then the pension raids began and the roll swelled until in 1902 it contained 999,446 names, with payments of $137,504,267, or an average per year of still around $136. Now, the roll of last year, on which only 45 World War veterans are listed, was 464,257 pensions; payments were $219,203,541, giving an average of $472 per person.

Mystical Pennsylvania.

How any Republican could have doubted it is another Pennsylvania mystery.

Hoover Leadership.

Schenectady Union-Star.

The wisdom of President Hoover's leadership will be more and more apparent when the country is able to take a long slant on the subject of employment and business recovery. He has held firmly to the idea that it is not worth while to resort to wage reductions. Whatever saving might be effected in this manner would be, in this view of the subject, but slight, and would not offset the hard feeling, discouragement and cut in public purchasing power. How good this advice is we shall not know until the country is able to take a longer view of the subject than we have now. President Hoover has discovered, probably before any other leader, that there is no patented plan or easy panacea for the situation through which we have passed. No governmental ukase can restore prosperity. Business, in the end, will have to dig itself out. The Government has gone about as far as it can when it sets in motion billions of dollars' worth of public construction. This should stimulate private business.

Feel Strongly.

Los Angeles Times.

Congressmen are said to feel strongly that their salaries should be jumped up from $10,000 to $15,000 a year. It has been but a short half-dozen years since they lifted themselves from $7,500. It is barely possible that if some of them would come back home occasionally they would discover that their constituencies also "feel strongly."

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Lumber Manufacturer Calls Attention to the Dangers of Allowing Slave-Made Products to Compete With American Goods.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: I want to congratulate you on the article which appeared in your issue of Tuesday, April 28, entitled "Outwitted by the Reds."

The immense amount of pulpwood which has been imported into this country from Russia during 1930 and 1931 has caused a very serious depression in the lumber and pulpwood industry in these New England States; only those residing in these States and being thoroughly familiar with the conditions can appreciate what it has meant. There are literally thousands of men out of employment who are usually employed at this time of the year in the cutting, peeling and manufacture of pulpwood for the pulp mills.

Naturally, the pulp mills are anxious to buy their pulpwood and pulp at the lowest price possible, regardless of whether it comes from Russia or elsewhere. In my humble opinion the time is not far distant when the money which the Russians receive in payment for pulpwood will be used in the erection of pulp and paper mills which will be operated by Communistic electric power. Pretty soon the paper mills will have finished paper on the market in the United States at prices which will be just as ruinous to their business as these which are now being offered on pulpwood and lumber.

Money which is being received from pulpwood and lumber, I am informed, is now also being used for the purchase of tractors and other farm implements. Millions of acres of land are put under cultivation for the growing of wheat, and this same wheat is to be offered in the world market and the American market to reduce the price. I can not understand why our Congress has not put this matter on a basis that it is impossible for the Reds to get around. It is my opinion that not one person in 10,000 fully understands what a menace all forms of Russian importations are to this country today. When no value is placed on stumpage, ore, or any other raw material, or upon labor or foodstuffs, railways or rolling stocks, the only actual cash which has to be paid out is for freight from Russia to the United States. When practically 170,000,000 people are enslaved without remuneration for their work or services, what chance does the American manufacturer have against such competition?

When the full import of this is brought to the understanding of the people of the United States, they will rise up as one man and crush this monster, putting him in his own place and allowing American workmen to have and reap the benefit of their labor. PERLEY R. EATON.

A Writer Suggests That Government Employes Are Not So Badly Treated, Even Though They May Not Get Salary Increases This Year.

To the Editor of The Post—Sir: The public is getting just a little "fed up" on the poor government clerk, his "poor pay, long hours, &c." As a matter of fact the Government employe today is in a very safe, if not luxurious, position, when workers on the outside are walking the streets looking for jobs and those who are fortunate to have work are taking cuts with no time off, the Government clerks in Washington are getting vacations, riding around in automobiles, some taking trips to Europe and what not. If they are so poorly treated and so badly off, why don't they get out and try their luck on the outside?

Of course, nobody is satisfied in this life, but if the Government clerks don't watch out instead of getting more and more, which seems to be their ambition they will find themselves without any job at all. The average Government clerk does not know what work means compared to the worker on the outside. As for salaries, the typists in the Government are getting more now than expert stenographers and bookkeepers on the outside.

Lo the poor Government clerk!

AN OUTSIDER.

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

THE PUZZLE OF LIFE.

Grant me, O Lord, the strength to do
The tasks the morning brings me to,
But as I walk from dawn to night
Keeping the distant goal in sight
Let me not blindly hurry by
The lesser joys which may be nigh.

Things seem important here on earth,
But let me rightly judge their worth,
Perhaps 'twere better not to gain
The ends I struggle to attain
And quit the hills I would ascend
To step aside and play the friend.

Teach me to reckon time by more
Than gold and silver struggled for.
Swiftly the hours go by. The thought
Persists that hasten on I ought,
And yet perhaps the greater deed
May be to serve another's need.

Lord, as I walk Thy people's way
So many duties crowd the day,
So many simple tasks and small
For strength and precious moments call,
I wonder am I wise when I
Some friendly service hurry by?

Lord, make me wise enough to know
The worth-while labors here below;
Are the far goals I hope to gain
Worth all the selfishness and pain,
Or does true greatness really lie
In friendship and the tasks near by?

FRANCE GETS READY TO ELECT PRESIDENT

Plans for Voting Eight Days Later Occupy House; Many Seek Office.

Paris, May 4 (A.P.).—Interest in the forthcoming presidential election, now only eight days away, overshadowed all other questions this evening in the lobbies of the French Chamber of Deputies and Senate, on the eve of their reconvening after the Easter holidays.

To the exclusion of such important problems as the threatened debate on the proposed Austro-German customs union and interpellation on the naval disagreement, the names of the possible candidates for president were receiving the greatest attention during informal discussions.

Among those whose chances were discussed as likely to succeed President Doumergue were Paul Doumer, presiding officer of the Senate; Senator Albert Lebrun, backed by former President Poincare; Senator Leon Berard, minister of justice and therefore second officer in Premier Leval's cabinet, and, always in the offing, but not yet an avowed candidate, former Minister Aristide Briand, negotiator of the Locarno and war outlawry pacts and twelve times premier.

Other candidates with supporters included former Premier Paul Painleve, many times minister and unsuccessful candidate against President Doumergue at the last election in 1924; President (Speaker) Boulson of the Chamber of Deputies, popular with all party men, though himself a Socialist; Andre Maginot, minister of war, seriously wounded in action in the war and assured of considerable support among the moderate elements in both houses, and Jean Hennessy, former minister of agriculture and ambassador to Switzerland—and incidentally proprietor of a widely known distillery of brandy.

35 FOKKER PLANES ARE BARRED BY U. S.

is using other equipment in place of its three Fokkers.

C. E. Johnson, of the Boeing Air Transport and Pacific Air Transport, said the order grounding the Fokker planes had been anticipated and his firms were ready to replace them.

Mr. Johnson said Boeing Air Transport had recently acquired three of the ships through a merger, but they would not be used.

Dayton, Ohio, May 4 (A.P.).—Engineers at Wright Field stated today that a report on their findings in tests of wings of Fokker F-10 planes had been made at the request of Department of Commerce officials and that the report as well as details of the investigation were confidential. The report has been turned over to Department of Commerce officials. No recommendations were included in the report, it was said.

Airways Obeys Order.

New York, May 4 (A.P.).—J. T. Trippe, president and general manager of Pan-American Airways, tonight said the Government's order to withdraw certain Fokker airplanes from transport lines had been obeyed.

The system's 22,000-mile international mail, passenger and express routes to Cuba, Mexico, West Indies, Central and South America, on two sections of which Fokker planes were used, are being maintained with other equipment, he said.

"Under our standard maintenance system the ten F-10 As, which comprise about 10 per cent of the Pan-American fleet, have proved satisfactory in operation. The company is offering the Department of Commerce every cooperation in connection with the present investigation of this type airplane," Mr. Trippe said.

tion of campaign funds and other election reforms they proposed.

As a means of enforcement, Pollock would have the candidate with the second highest number of votes declared the winner in an election in which the winner might be disqualified. Sikes disagreed, saying he would have the election declared void in such an event.

The Senate campaign funds committee yesterday postponed the investigation, to have opened tomorrow, into the administration of anti-Smith funds in 1928 by Bishop James Cannon of the Methodist Episcopal Church South.

Chairman Nye said the postponement was due to illness of the committee's counsel, E. M. Daniel. He said the hearing would be opened later in the week if Mr. Daniel's condition permitted.

As a result of the delay, Bishop Cannon is expected to be here for the examination of witnesses. He had asked a delay, but the committee had refused it.

In announcing the postponement Senator Nye said Mr. Daniel had been giving special attention to the study of the evidence relating to the Cannon case.

ABOUT THE SHOWSHOPS

With NELSON B. BELL

THE evidence that piled up on the desk of the dramatic department on a particularly active Monday would seem to offer proof positive that no dearth of amusement threatens the National Capital during the weeks of the late spring and early summer.

Among the hurried visitors was the genial advance courier of "The Greatest Show on Earth," a long-awaited harbinger without whose advent no spring can be definitely identified as such. The big tops of the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus will rear the vast acreage of their shining white fabrics on Monday and Tuesday, May 18 and 19.

Only one somber note is cast over the circus ballyhoo this year. Lillian Leitzel will not be among those present to thrill the thousands packed up the sides of the canvas coliseum.

The Messrs. Stephen B. Cochran and Clifford Brooke, who, with their National Theater Players, come into complete possession of the dramatic field at the end of the current week, have compiled a roster of plays for the perpetuation of one of the most successful stock seasons Washington ever has known, to which more detailed consideration will be duly given at a later time.

Beginning on May 14, which happens to be a Thursday, the Columbia Pictures production of "Dirigible" will come into the Metropolitan Theater, on what I am given to believe is a road show basis, for an extended run.

This is the most pretentious "special" Columbia has ever released and was made with the full cooperation—and so has the unqualified indorsement—of the United States Navy Department. So important is this release deemed to be in the eyes of the Government that a special invitation performance will be given at the Metropolitan on Wednesday night, May 13, to which the President, the members of his Cabinet and other high dignitaries, as well as leaders of the city's social and professional groups will be bid as guests of the management.

Frank Whitbeck, long identified with the motion picture industry as one of its saner experts in advertising and publicity, in the course of a long visit dropped occasional hints to the effect that two excellent pictures are coming into the Rialto during the next fortnight in "Mother's Millions" and "Seed."

"Mother's Millions" will bring back to Washington, in shadow form, one of the most amusing of the stage's comediennes, although one who probably is little known to the present generation of film addicts. May Robson, whom many will remember for her long stellar career in "The Rejuvenation of Aunt Mary," is adding her testimony to that of Marie Dressler that some of the old-time actresses really are the funniest.

"Seed," of course, is the film version of the Charles G. Norris story, in which John Boles—recently here in person—is featured with Lois Wilson and Genevieve Tobin. Something a little bit out of the ordinary for all three of them.

Paramount's plans for the new season of 1931-32 arrived yesterday from two sources. Shortly after Mr. Richardson, of the local offices of Paramount, had handed me the gorgeous yearbook issued by his company, practically the same thing, in slightly different form and dimensions, arrived through the mail as a special supplement to the May 2 issue of the Motion Picture Herald.

Paramount promises much for the year that marks its twentieth anniversary.

A cursory glance through the pages of the handsome brochure, printed in multicolors on both hard calendered and stipple-finished paper, by all manner of effective and expensive processes, leads to the off-hand guess that much is to be made of Marlene Dietrich during the coming year; that George Bancroft is not in the discard; that the Four Marx Brothers are heavily stressed among the comics; that Jack Oakie and "Skeets" Gallagher are to be paired again; that what threatened George Bancroft didn't happen to Clara Bow, either; that Maurice Chevalier remains a Paramount ace; that much store is laid by Dreiser's "American Tragedy" and the late Arnold Bennett's "Imperial Palace"—two very tough tomes to film—that Clive Brook and Fredric March are pointed for stardom; that Tallulah Bankhead is looked upon with favor and that Jesse L. Lasky pretty thoroughly knows what he is doing.

Oh, yes, and the mailman finished my autographed copy of "The Life and Adventures of Carl Laemmle," by John Drinkwater, yesterday and let me have that, too.

Yeah, booked solid, we were, as you might say!

CIRCUS WILL REACH CAPITAL ON MAY 18

Two-Day Entertainment at Old Stand Will Feature Horses.

The circus is coming to town with its horses, hundreds of them, representing almost every strain bred under the sun, a special feature this year of the movement to "perpetuate the horse."

Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey, spreading their tents at the old stand, Fifth and Florida avenue northeast, May 18 and 19, will present 200 of the high spirited animals in a single act.

Five companies of them will appear simultaneously in five rings in what press agents label "the biggest menage act in circusdom."

Seventy snow-white horses will be ridden by bareback stars, scores will gallop around the arena in the fast hippodrome races, while others will draw chariots or bear women riders in the Roman standing races.

The circus cast this year includes 800 men and women, 100 clowns and a menagerie of more than 1,000 wild animals.

Tea Sales Decrease.

Chicago, May 4 (A.P.).—The Jewel Tea Co., Inc., reports that its sales for the four weeks ended April 18, 1931, were $1,088,498.44 as compared with $1,257,747.97 for parallel weeks in 1930, a decrease of 13.46 per cent. The average number of sales routes for parallel weeks in 1931 was 1,296, and in 1930, 1,232.

REBELS TAKE TOWN; 200 HONDURANS DIE

Santa Rosa Falls as Forces Sent to Aid Federals Fail to Arrive.

Tegucigalpa, Honduras, May 4 (A.P.).—Rebel forces captured the town of Santa Rosa last week and killed all the 140 government troops at the garrison there during a severe five-hour battle, reports reaching here today said.

Only incomplete details were received. However, it was said that more than 200 persons were slain on both sides, including Col. Garcia, defender of the town, and all the soldiers of his command, who had promised to fight the invaders to the last man.

Civil government officials also were said to have been shot by the insurgents. Stores and other buildings were looted and much damage done. Several prominent civilians were reported killed, and others were being held as hostages.

Government troops have been sent to recover the town from the rebels, who are led by Gen. Ferrera.

It is believed he may voluntarily evacuate Santa Rosa and proceed against other towns in the vicinity.

The loss of Santa Rosa came as a blow to the government, which had sent reinforcements there under Gen. Reinas. It had been hoped these troops would arrive in time to prevent the defeat.

Communications have been broken with the Santa Rosa section.

ILEANA IS BETROTHED TO HAPSBURG PRINCE

of the Prince of Pless, which ended in cancellation.

Ileana, daughter of Dowager Queen Marie of Roumania, in characteristic impetuosity, announced her engagement to Count Alexander at a gathering of students in Predeal. They set the wedding date for April 27, last year.

However, a month after the announcement, rumors of its cancellation were heard. The princess insisted for a time there had been no cancellation, but on March 8, the Roumanian government issued an official statement that Count Alexander had consented to the breaking of the betrothal. The wrecking of the royal romance remained a mystery, and no official explanation ever was given.

Princess Ileana, widely known in the United States, where she toured the country with her mother, has been the subject of the "marriage market" gossips since 1925. Then, when she was but 16, reports went around that she was engaged to the Duke of Apulia, eldest son of the Duke of Aosta, in Italy. Ileana's name also was linked with that of King Boris of Bulgaria, now married.

The Archduke Anton is 30 years old. He is the third son, but the seventh child, of Archduke Leopold-Salvator of Hapsburg. The young archduke was born in Vienna March 20, 1901.

VOICES OF WOMEN RULE MUSIC TODAY

Programs Will Be Given Over Three Radio Stations; Another in Hotel.

Women's voices will predominate in the programs to be given today, the third day of the celebration of National Music Week in Washington. Three radio stations will be used in the broadcasting. The Rubenstein Club, a women's chorus of 60 voices under the direction of Claude Robeson, will sing over WRC from 5 to 5:30 this afternoon. Compositions by American composers will prevail. The Rubenstein Club has made 70 regular appearances since it was organized in 1908.

The Madrigal Singers, directed by Mrs. John Milton Sylvester, will sing over WOL at 7 o'clock. This is an organization of eight women's voices and was organized by Mrs. Sylvester. The program follows: From early English sources—"Now Is the Month of Maying" (Thomas Morley), "Lullaby" (William Byrd); "Where the Bee Sucks" (Arne); "Drink to Me Only With Thine Eyes" (Traditional). American songs—"Southern Memories," Plantation Melodies, "Sylvia, Speak," "The Bells of St. Mary's" (Adams). The singers are Elizabeth Waters, Edyth Walter Rice, Elizabeth Taylor Copping, Norma Hughes, Margaret Hedgcock and Mary Lerch.

The Lyons Ensemble from the Lyons studio will sing over WJSV on the Sons of the American Revolution hour from 8:15 to 9:15. On the program will be a duet by Lucy Hopkins and Sarah Neifert and two solos by Irma Briggs.

At the Shoreham Hotel as part of the national music week there will be a joint recital by Ruby Potter and Louis Potter under the auspices of the Cavalry M. E. Church choir and the men's Bible class.

Extra Set of Kidneys Discovered in Veteran

Cleveland, O., May 4 (A.P.).—An extra set of kidneys has been discovered in the body of Ralph Thurber, shellie-shocked world war veteran at the city hospital, where he gained admission after he told attendants he was suffering from distomiasis, a tropical disease uncommon in this country.

Hospital physicians said today that the x-ray located a normal pair of kidneys on his right side and another on his left. Double kidneys the physician said, are rare, there having been only six previous cases on record here.

EVENTS OF INTEREST IN SOCIETY CIRCLES OF CAPITAL

Humes Expect Early Arrival Of Entezams

Mr. Abdullah to Become Persian Diplomat, It Is Reported.

SLIPPING easily into the pageant which this spring is embroidered with picturesque figures of the Far East comes news of the arrival within a few days of Mr. Abdullah Entezam, of the Persian foreign office in Teheran, and Mrs. Entezam, who, rumor declares, will fill an important niche in the Diplomatic Corps here. Half a dozen words in a cablegram to Mrs. Entezam's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hume, coupled with the departure from Persia a month ago of the couple, give some substance to the rumor that Mr. Entezam will be attached to the Persian Legation in Washington—news which is neither confirmed nor denied at the chancery.

News that their son-in-law and daughter would return to Washington reached Mr. and Mrs. Hume recently, followed by the date set for quitting the capital of Persia which would bring them to Washington about the first week in May. Mrs. Entezam was formerly Miss Margaret Hume, and one of the Capital's vivacious young hostesses and a popular member of the diplomatic set.

Before their departure for Persia about five years ago the Entezams lived here, where Mr. Entezam was attache as third secretary of the legation. It was during his term of service that he met and married Margaret Hume.

Mrs. Entezam is a niece of Mrs. Lawrence Benet, of Paris; Mrs. E. Eveleth Whiting and Mrs. Larkin Glazebrook, of Washington. Their little girl has been taught to speak Persian and French, but never having been to this country, speaks her mother's native tongue with less fluency.

Apropos of probable shifts at the Persian Legation, Dame Rumor also brings to Washington not only Mr. Entezam, but also a new charge d'affaires. The present charge d'affaires is Mr. Abdol Vahab Bader, one of the most popular men of the corps.

Charles Y. Wheeler to Wed Natalie J. Jewett.

Of interest to the younger set of Washington is the engagement of Miss Natalie J. Jewett, daughter of Mrs. Hugh J. Jewett, of Baltimore, to Mr. Charles Yandes Wheeler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Van Cise Wheeler, of Washington.

Miss Jewett made her debut several seasons ago at the first Bachelors' cotillion and is a member fo the Baltimore Junior League.

Mr. Wheeler is a popular member of the younger set and has been in business in Washington for several years. At present he is associated with a local airplane line.

No date has been set for the wedding, which will probably take place in Baltimore. Mr. Wheeler is a brother of Mrs. Marshall Orme Exnicios.

Mrs. Carl Mapes has as her guest at her home on Huntington street Mrs. Newton K. Fox, of Kew Gardens, Long Island, who will be here until the end of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Fox made their home in Washington until about three years ago, when they moved to New York, where Mr. Fox is practicing law.

Mr. and Mrs. McElroy Moss have had as their guests at their country home, Rolling Stone Farm, near Olney, Md., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Young, of Allentown, Pa., who left yesterday for their home. Mr. and Mrs. Moss entertained at dinner Saturday evening at the Congressional Country Club, and on Sunday evening entertained at a supper party at their home for their guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Blake Dewey, jr., and Mr. Charles S. Dewey, of Chicago, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Albert Blake Dewey, sr., at the Mayflower.

Mrs. Joseph Noel, who has been away most of the winter, has reopened her house in Massachusetts avenue for the spring season. Mrs. Noel spent six weeks in Charleston, S. C., and she and Mrs. Kepna Elkins made several motor trips together.

Epsilon Chapter, Kappa Beta Pi Legal Sorority, entertained at dinner and bridge last evening at the Washington Golf and Country Club in honor of Mrs. Helena Doocy Reed. Miss D. Elizabeth Falconer, Mrs. Willie N. Gauss, Miss Nell Guinn, Miss Vera M. Kelley, Miss Tomalee Nix, Mrs. Grace B. Stiles, Miss Bernice Woodward and Miss Mary B. Wright. Arrangements were in charge of Mrs. Gertrude Smith, chairman; Miss Agnes McWhinnie, Miss Mary L. Chadwick and Miss Gretta R. Palen.

Envoy's Wife

MRS. WILLIAM S. CULBERTSON, wife of the American Ambassador to Chile, who arrived in New York yesterday with the ambassador for a leave of absence. They will come to Washington soon for a visit.

White House Guests Depart After Wedding

Mrs. Hoover at Festival of Washington Pianists Club Last Night.

The White House guests, Mr. Allan Hoover, and Miss Katherine Ewing and Miss Helen Ewing, all of whom came to attend the wedding on Saturday of Miss Gertrude Lamont and Mr. Charles E. Saltzman, left Washington Saturday evening. Mr. Hoover returned to his studies at Harvard and the Misses Ewing to New York.

Mrs. Hoover last night attended the annual festival of the Washington Pianists Club, held at the Columbia Heights Christian Church, taking with her as guests Mrs. Walter F. Brown, wife of the Postmaster General, and Mrs. Alice Dickson.

A program of pianoforte music was presented by Florenz Cockerille, who was presented by Mrs. Alice Burbage Hesselbach, and by Miss Helen Finnacon, presented by Mr. La Salle Spier. During the intermission Mrs. Eugene Byrnes, president of the Friday Morning Musical Club, gave a talk.

Mrs. Hoover accompanied the President to the opening session of the sixth general congress of the International Chamber of Commerce yesterday morning in Constitution Hall.

Col. and Mrs. Jere Campbell, of Salem, Mass., are guests at the Powhatan for several days.

Miss Betty West will return today from Middleburg, Va., where she has been the guest of Miss Dorothy Randolph, who entertained a house party over the week-end, taking her guests to the Gold Cup races at Warrenton on Saturday.

Mrs. Dodd Returns From California.

Mrs. Catherine Filene Dodd has returned from California and will go to her country place, Wolf Trap Farm, the end of this week. Mrs. Dodd and Miss Gretchen Wahl, daughter of the late Gen. Lutz Wahl, have several of their hunters in the coming National Capital Horse Show. Mr. and Mrs. A. Lincoln Filene, of Boston, are at the Mayflower.

Mrs. Harlan Miller, of Paris, is a guest at the Mayflower with her daughter, Miss Barbara Bingham, who accompanied her to Washington yesterday from Foxcroft School, where Mrs. Miller spent the week-end.

Olivia Agresti, Italian Visitor, Finance Expert

Signora Is Only Woman Delegate in Congress of Chambers.

Undaunted by the ratio of several hundred men to one woman, Signora Olivia Rossetti Agresti, the only feminine delegate to the sixth congress of the International Chamber of Commerce, who has come from Rome as one of Italy's representatives, juggles finance and figures with the best of them at the Chamber of Commerce during "working hours," and at the tea hour flings aside the cloak of business for the social festivities which surround her visit.

The guest of Miss Janet Richards, Signora Agresti is renewing acquaintances made during a visit to Washington in 1923, when she gave a series of addresses on Italian gardens. Stateswoman and linguist, economist and writer, the distinguished delegate holds an elevated position among the women of the world today. An Englishwoman by birth, Signora Agresti is the niece of Dante Gabriel Rossetti, renowned poet, and spent her early life in England. Her father was a celebrated artist. After her marriage to Signor Agresti she took up her residence in Italy and has become one of its most distinguished experts of finance.

Editor of the official financial bulletin of the Italian government, which is published monthly in a dozen languages, Signora Agresti is probably as well informed concerning the financial status of her adopted country as any person in Italy. She was formerly secretary of the International Institute of Agriculture in Rome, a position which she resigned early in the regime of Mussolini.

Mistress of half a dozen languages, which she speaks fluently, the signora has served as interpreter at the League of Nations almost since its inception. Known throughout Europe as a wizard of figures and the languages, she is constantly in demand at assemblages of international import, her skill having attained the heights of excellence resulting in her appointment by the Italian government as a delegate to the congress. At Geneva, Signora Agresti and Miss Richards "take in" the conferences together and in Rome, where the former has her home, discuss politics from the Italian viewpoint gained through frequent conferences with Italy's premier.

At the National Woman's Country Club on Thursday Mrs. Charles Walcott and Miss Florence Ward will entertain at luncheon in honor of Signora Agresti, asking to meet her about twenty society women of the Capital.

Mrs. William M. Conrad is at the Plaza in New York to attend the charity carnival of which her daughter, Mrs. Eugene W. Ong, is executive chairman, and which is to be held in Madison Square Garden.

Mrs. James Hamilton Lewis, of Chicago, is a guest at the Mayflower while in Washington for the meetings of the International Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Jacob Baur, of Chicago, Republican national committeewoman of Illinois, is also here for the meetings of the Chamber of Commerce and is a guest at the Mayflower.

Plans Are Progressing For Trip to Monticello

Plans are progressing rapidly for the annual pilgrimage of the Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities to Thomas Jefferson's home, at Monticello, Va., next Tuesday. Mrs. S. McDowell Meek is chairman of the committee on arrangements.

Among the patrons and patronesses are Admiral and Mrs. Cary T. Grayson, Senator and Mrs. Claude A. Swanson, Representative and Mrs. Richard Yates and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Herrick. Mrs. George Tully Vaughan is president of the Washington branch of the society.

Dames Give Supper Party At "Bellevue"

Reception by Freemans and Grasslands Tea; Other Events.

The District of Columbia Colonial Dames of America will entertain at a supper this evening at their national headquarters, the beautiful old estate "Bellevue," in Georgetown, which they have recently opened. The house will be open during the party in order that those interested may visit it. The house was built in 1703 by George Beall, and has housed many historical figures.

Gabriel Duvall, who was comptroller of the currency in 1800 and who was appointed to the Supreme Court of the United States in 1811 by President Madison, was a one-time owner. He in turn sold the property to Joseph Nourse, first register of the Treasury, who sold it to Charles Carroll, and so on through the years.

The house originally stood directly in the path of Q street, and in 1915, when the Q street Bridge was built, it was moved to its present position some hundred feet from the street. Dolly Madison stopped there on her way to Virginia to join the President when the White House was burned in 1814, and so there is no more appropriate place in Washington which could have been chosen by the Colonial Dames for their national headquarters.

Mrs. John H. Gibbons entertained delegates to the biennial council of the Colonial Dames at a tea in the gardens of Grasslands yesterday afternoon, following a small reception in the bishop's garden of the Washington Cathedral. Mrs. Gibbons was assisted by Mrs. James E. Freeman, wife of Bishop Freeman; Mrs. William H. Wilmer, of Baltimore; Mrs. George Bratenahl, Mrs. Sherman Flint, Mrs. Mahlón Pitney and several other ladies.

Mr. Charles D. Lawrence, Assistant Attorney General in charge of customs, has arrived in Washington from New York and is at the Carlton.

WOMAN, 93, MAKES FIRST VISIT TO CITY

the Methodist Home for Aged and Orphans at Gaithersburg, Md.

The party had a wonderful time in Washington and spent a busy afternoon seeing the sights of the Capital. Miss Hinton particularly enjoyed seeing the things of which she had often heard but had never visited.

"It's a beautiful city," she said, "and the White House was splendid. Everyone has been so nice to us."

But the fast boats flashing over the Potomac caught her imagination. "I would certainly like to be out in one of those boats," she said. "I love the water."

An airplane from the Naval Air Station dipped and roared overhead. "How would you like to take a ride in one of those?" she was asked.

"I wouldn't like that much," she confided, "but I do wish I could ride in one of those boats."

Her friends describe Miss Hinton as one of the most active and cheery residents of the home. She says that she sees well and feels well—"well enough to get about to the store and buy my own things," she smiled.

Miss Hinton at 93 is still keeping busy, and her active needls turns out some of the finest fancy work one may see, her friends say.

Envoy to Chile At New York For Vacation

Culbertsons Will Come to Washington for Part of Their Leave.

The American Ambassador to Chile and Mrs. William S. Culbertson arrived in New York yesterday for a leave of absence in this country. They will come to Washington to spend a part of their vacation. Their younger daughter, Miss Jane Culbertson, is in school at Madeira. Miss Junia Culbertson, a debutante of several seasons ago, is in college at Vassar, and if she is unable to make a trip to Washington to see her parents, they will visit her at Poughkeepsie.

The Chilean Ambassador and Senora de Davila plan to entertain at luncheon in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Culbertson during their stay here, but no date will be set until they arrive.

Mrs. M. H. Cadwallader, of Philadelphia, will arrive at the Powhatan this evening and plans to remain until Saturday.

New Stamps to Mark Red Cross Anniversary

(Associated Press.)

The symbolic figure of a Red Cross nurse will appear on a new issue of 2-cent stamps May 21, marking the fiftieth anniversary of that organization.

Postmaster General Brown yesterday announced the first day's sale will be limited to two historic places, Danville, N. Y., where Clara Barton was born, and this city, where she organized the National Red Cross in 1881. In two colors, black and red, the new stamp with its kneeling figure was pronounced one of the most attractive ever issued. 50,000,000 have been made.

Dinner Honors Naval Attache Soon to Retire

Comdr. and Mme. do Couto Aguirre Guests of Other Attaches.

The Naval Attache of the Brazil Embassy and Mme. do Couto Aguirre were the guests in whose honor a dinner was given last evening at the Mayflower by naval attaches to the various foreign missions in Washington.

The company included the Naval Attache of the French Embassy and Mme. Louis Sabie, Capt. Nobile Luigi Notarbartolo del Duchi di Villarosa of the Italian Embassy; Capt. Shosuke Shimomura of the Japanese Embassy; Commander Federico Monreal y Pilon, of the Spanish Embassy; Engineer Comdr. W. C. Horton, Assistant Naval Attache of the British Embassy, and the Assistant Naval Attache of the French Embassy and Mme. Paul Duban; also Capt. and Mrs. William Baggaley.

The dinner was given in compliment to Mme. do Couto Aguirre, who is leaving in a few days for Brazil. Commander do Couto Aguirre will remain in Washington for a few weeks longer before returning to Brazil.

Lord and Lady Luke Here From England.

Lord and Lady Luke, of Pavenham, England, have arrived for the meetings of the International Chamber of Commerce and are staying at the Mayflower. Lord Luke is the elder brother of J. Ormond Lawson-Johnson, who married the former Betty Kendall, of Washington.

Sir Arthur Balfour, of Sheffield, England, is also at the Mayflower while here for the same gathering.

Lieut. and Mrs. G. F. Powers will entertain a company of 21 at dinner at the Shoreham Hotel tomorrow.

Mr. W. Morganstiere, the new consul general of Norway, has arrived in Washington from New York and is at Wardman Park Hotel.

Mr. Waldes Jindrich, of Praha, Czechoslovakia, who is in Washington to attend the meeting of the International Chamber of Commerce, is accompanied by Mrs. Jindrich and is staying at Wardman Park Hotel.

Mr. Witold Wankowicz, Commercial Counselor of the Polish Embassy, entertained informally at luncheon yesterday at the Carlton.

ANSWERS TO INQUIRIES.

IS there such a shrub as the viburnum carlesi? If so, is it a spring-flowering variety? A friend told me of this shrub, but I can not find it listed in any of the catalogues. MRS. WILLIAM F. P.

Viburnum carlesi (mayflower viburnum) is a most delightful shrub. It blooms in May and the flowers are as beautiful and intensely fragrant as the trailing arbutus. The bush is rather slow-growing and of medium height when mature. It is a rather recent introduction and the supply on the market is not especially plentiful. I can tell you of one firm listing viburnum carlesi if you care to write again, inclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Please tell me if you consider gloriosa, the flower or aquatic with the brilliant, shining red blossoms, is suitable for a small tub form of water garden. When does this lily bloom?

A NEW WATER GARDENER.

I can recommend this in every way for the tub garden. It is very easy to grow and blooms profusely from June to October.

Please tell me the name of the fan-shaped plant with blossoms resembling an iris. I refer to a house plant which while quite common no one seems able to name. If you know the plant to which I refer please tell me how to start more plants. NANCY T.

The plant to which you refer is marica gracilis, a native of South America. A common method of propagating marica is to divide the plants, potting each fan in a separate pot. It does best in a soil composed of sand, loam, peat and leafmold. It also does well in good garden loam. You can also remove the shoots where the plant has blossomed, but these shoots, if removed, must be potted in sand in the spring. It is not easy to start them at other seasons.

Please tell me of three reliable varieties of pillar or climbing roses.

MISS MARION D.

Albertine, le reve, primrose and thalma are all plants with vigorous constitutions.

Is it wise to plant auratum and speciosum lilies in the spring or must I wait until fall to do so?

MRS. ROBERT D.

You may plant these bulbs in the spring.

Please tell me what I can do when the half-opened buds of my althea become covered with ants.

MRS. F. W. H.

Use an ant eradicator. Better send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope and I will send you the name of a preparation which, if you follow directions on the container, will soon rid your entire garden of ants.

Last season I cut my barberry hedge quite low. Will it recover or have I ruined it? I have in mind two trees for lawn use. Which do you advise me to get, a flowering crab or a rose tree? MRS. E. Z.

Your barberry hedge should recover, though being a slow grower it will no doubt take time. I am not sure what you mean by a rose tree. If you refer to a rose of sharon I would choose the flowering crab.

Ann Interprets the Mode

David embodies youthful chic in this green crepe de chine frock, whose jaunty jacquette is of green, white and black checks.

New York, May 4.

"TIME was" when gloves were just an inconspicuous covering for one's hands. In winter they kept your hands warm and in warm weather they were an unnoticed but necessary completion to your elegance. And they were either black or white or biege or gray—kid was the favorite material for them—and they buttoned neatly at the wrist—and that was about all that could be said for them.

That was in the "long since" era. Now, when even coat sleeves are short, gloves have become one of the most varied and important accessories to chic. They are made in every length, from gauntlets several inches above the wrist to gloves just a few inches below the shoulder. Their colors, as I've already told you, include every shade a frock can have and they're worn in one form or another morning, noon and night.

I like the gauntlet for daytime wear best. With a three-quarter sleeve jacket and the flaring cuffs of the gauntlet appliqued with the same material as the jacket. Nothing in the way of gloves could be smarter than navy blue kid with green and blue plaid gauntlet cuffs. Some very chic Parisiennes prefer simple, but very long gloves, wrinkled down below the elbow for daytime. I must admit this is a practical kind of glove, because by wrinkling it more, or less, as the case may require, the same pair of gloves can be adapted for all length of daytime sleeves. And these plain long gloves of either kid or antelope can be worn with braided bracelets of the same leather, but in contrasting colors.

* * * *

Where could one find a more adorable, youthful and refreshing frock and jacket than this ensemble from David? The frock, you know, is green crepe de chine, which makes marvelously effective the hip and skirt incrustations and the white Peter Pan collar with its own little bow. The green, white and black checked jacket accents, the while it does not conceal this dress. Its jaunty flare from the shoulders and its three-quarter sleeves give just the needed touch of springtime insouciance, n'est-ce pas?

I wish you could see the freshness of its coloring—but I have sketched it for you anyway so that you wouldn't miss the crispness of its lines!

* * * *

Frilly georgette ruffles at miladi's dainty wrist—gleaming satin closely smocked at her swanlike neck—these are just two of the special features that characterize two of the loveliest blouses you've ever seen! They are blouses you will see, though, if you sit right down and send off your stamped, self-addressed envelope to the Dare department of The Washington Post, for they are described, with several others, in this week's illustrated leaflet which tells you how to make them. You'd be surprised at how inexpensive they can be made, and how modish and unhome-made they will look! 'N' as the greatest secret in the world I'll tell you that one of them is my own very favorite blouse from the Maison Heim in Paris, and I had to think about it long and hard before I could be noble enough to let you copy it!

Afternoon attire for this spring is a fascinating subject. Look for Dare's discussion of ensembles in the big Sunday Post.

Au Revoir.

Wives of Tomorrow

FRANCES M'DONALD

Modern Mix-Ups.

TIME was when the bride's worst fear was her mother-in-law and her sisters-in-law. His folks. Well those were the good old days before they really knew what trouble was. We of today have to be nonchalant when his former wife or our former husband is unexpectedly announced at a friend's fireside. And that, friends, is nonchalance indeed. And now comes Bee with a custody child whose father is allowed to call at specified times. Which was all very well until Bee married. Her new husband is also divorced and has a child and so understands her predicament but relishes it none the more for the fact that he understands it. When he visits his child it is to his former mother-in-law's home that he goes—and not to his former wife's home. Bee would never consent to his going to his former wife's home and so knows just how he feels about those "second Mondays" when her former husband is privileged to come to her apartment and visit his small daughter. If you think you have troubles, read Bee's plaint:

"I am so nervous I could fly out a window. I am divorced and have a baby girl. My former husband is permitted to visit our little daughter every second Monday. He has done so for two years, never missing a visit. At one time we considered remarrying and have never been anything but friends. We were incompatible or thought we were and freed each other—regretting it at times. All this was known to the man who is now my husband. He, too, is divorced and also has a little girl 8 years old. An adorable child who calls me "Bee, for Beautiful." My name is Beatrice. We often have her with us and are very happy—except on "second Mondays." And they are driving me into a nervous breakdown. I do not love my former husband any more. But I most certainly do have a feeling of sympathy for him and can not help it and will not deny it even to keep peace. So I do see him sometimes when he comes to get Jean. I give him tea. And that is all. He regrets our divorce. But he never in any way presumes. But my husband loves me dearly and knows instinctively everything I feel. He declares my love is not dead. That I still care for Jean's daddy or I would not stay in to even give him a cup of tea. He sometimes goes further and says it is highly improper for me to see him and dishonorable and ungentlemanly for him to come now to our home. I see his side. I would never consent to my husband's going to his former wife's home to see his little girl. But then he never did go there. He goes to his mother-in-law's home, where little Adele lives.

We are strangers here. I have no mother to receive for me. My few friends are of the most casual sort. I could not think of taking one of them into my confidence or ask such a favor as that she receive my former husband in her home even if her husband would allow such an unheard of arrangement. And besides the child would wonder about the proceeding where she takes the whole thing for granted now. But I have a frightful headache for days now after each visit. It is not worry over my former husband's unhappiness as my husband I know believes, but anxiety over his own attitude. Jean is only 6. Rather than place her in a school at such an age I would give up my husband. I have not told him so but will without hesitation if he ever suggests such a thing. His whole bearing toward me is intolerable. Not hostile but injured. It is the "you-could-do-something-about-it-if-you-wanted-to" attitude. Unspoken but evident. Well, just what would that something be?

BEE.

A truly modern mix-up. But, Bee, however much you may feel like easing the hurt in the former husband's heart, you are being most unjust to your present husband and are imposing beyond all reason upon his generosity when you entertain Jean's daddy! I agree with your husband that it is indelicate and shows lack of the finer feelings for him to stay to tea with you in your husband's house. That is the time to have your headache—at tea time. Decide which piece of cake you want, Bee. You can not have both. Play fair.

6 tablespoons flour
3 cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon paprika
¼ teaspoon celery salt
2 teaspoons chopped parsley
½ teaspoon finely chopped onion
2-3 cup cheese, cut fine
6 eggs

Melt the butter and add the flour. Blend and add the milk and cook until creamy sauce forms. Stir constantly. Add all seasonings and cheese. Mix well and pour into buttered baking dish. Break the eggs and carefully pour on cheese mixture. Try not to separate yolks and whites of eggs. Bake 10 minutes in moderate oven.

Celery Seed Dressing.

1-3 cup sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon celery seed
1 teaspoon paprika
1 teaspoon grated onion
4 tablespoons vinegar
1 cup chilled salad oil

Mix the sugar, salt, mustard, celery seed, paprika and onion. Add 1 tablespoonful vinegar. Blend with fork. Add rest of vinegar and oil, alternating. Beat and chill.

Strawberry Shortcake.

1½ cups pastry flour
3 tablespoons baking powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1 egg
⅓ cup sugar
2-3 cup milk
4 tablespoons fat, melted

Mix ingredients and beat 3 minutes. Pour into shallow, greased baking pan. Bake 20 minutes in moderate oven. Split, add berries and frost top.

Berries.

3 cups berries
2-3 cup sugar

Wash and hull berries. Add the sugar. Place on cake.

Frosting.

1 cup sugar
1 teaspoon lemon juice
¼ cup water
1 egg white, beaten
½ teaspoon vanilla

Mix the sugar, lemon juice and water. Cook over moderate fire and without stirring until thread forms when portion is poured slowly from spoon. Pour into the egg white and beat until thick and creamy. Add the vanilla. Mix. Frost cake.

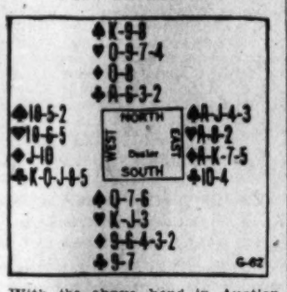
WORK ON BRIDGE

A CLEVER HOLD-UP.



With the above hand in Auction Bridge, South, West and North would pass, and East would bid one No Trump.

In Contract Bridge the bidding probably would be the same, although in view of the worthless doubleton in Clubs some players in the East seat would bid one Diamond; but when West showed his Clubs, as of course he should do over a fourth-hand bid, East unquestionably would shift to No Trump.

In either game, if West ventured a Club bid on the first round, East would bid No Trump; but in neither game would North be justified in bidding No Trump with a count of 11 after passes by South and West—it takes a count 14 to make an original No Trump by third hand a sound bid.

So East would become the eventual Declarer, playing one or two No Trumps at Auction Bridge, three No Trumps at Contract Bridge.

Unless East had bid a Diamond, South would open with his fourth best of that suit (the Trey), and that happened when the hand was played. North played the Queen and East won with the King. Declarer then led Clubs and, although North held up until East was exhausted, it was easy to put West in with the Jack of Diamonds, thus making one Spade, one Heart, three Diamonds and four Clubs.

The apparently cut and dried play seemed to put Declarer's game "in the bag;" could it have been saved by the adversaries?

THE CORRECT PLAY.

At trick 1 North, holding the Ace and three other Clubs, could be quite sure that Dummy could be kept from running his long Clubs provided he had no entry outside of the Club suit. In view of the bidding, it was quite probable that closed hand had the Ace and King of Diamonds and that playing the Queen would give dummy the desired entry; therefore, it was sounder play for North to duck the first Diamond, allowing dummy's Ten to win, but surely shutting the hand out from any possible reentry. Played in that way, Declarer would not have made game.

YOUR NAME

WHAT DOES IT MEAN?

By HARRY A. DEFERRARI, Ph. D.

THE family name "Talmadge" is a variation of the French "Talle mache." This was obviously first given as a nickname, since it means "knapsack" and "wallet."

It has been noticed that in the twelfth and thirteenth centuries, when second names were becoming hereditary as family names, many of those second names were nicknames and that the majority of nicknames were uncomplimentary. The ridiculousness and grossness of many early nicknames allow us to reasonably suppose (as, indeed, there is sufficient evidence) that some families sought various means to change their names. However, a study of the history of that period discloses a remarkable willingness on the part of the people in general to accept whatever names one's fortune or misfortune had bestowed. Nevertheless, as years went by and people became more refined and sensitive, attempts were made to throw off the more objectionable nicknames. These attempts were generally successful, so that at the present time there are very few families which bear names that are obviously uncomplimentary. However, a surprisingly large number of uncomplimentary family names are still retained because the persons which bear them are unaware of their meanings. As time goes on the forms of words change, some words drop out of everyday speech, and some words taken on new meanings. Yet many of those changed and obsolete words are still to be found as family names in our directories. The persons who bear those names are often unaware of their real meanings, and they often wrongly identify those names with words from our everyday speech which are similar in spelling but which in many cases have wholly different origins and meanings. Finally, a natural pride in the virtues and accomplishments of one's ancestors often explains the retention of some family names, even though their meanings are known to be uncomplimentary.

What Today Means to You

By MARY BLAKE

"TAURUS."

IF MAY 5 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11:10 a. m. to 1:30 p. m., from 4:15 p. m. to 6:10 p. m., and from 9 p. m. to 10:45 p. m. The danger hours are from 9 a. m. to 10:30 a. m., and from 2:15 p. m. to 3:45 p. m.

Propitious signs are very much in evidence on May 5, especially for those engaged in mechanical pursuits. Foundations can be laid for future progress, and the aspects denote that action and thought will coordinate successfully. Nothing involving risk should be attempted.

A child born on this May 5 will be blessed with a good constitution and endowed with a pleasing personality. Unless forced by circumstances to work hard, it will be rather indolent and too fond of the pleasures of life. Its disposition will be kindly, but unemotional.

Born on May 5, you are a prosaic individual, with very little ambition, and contented to work in a rut, provided your simple needs are supplied. At school, you were always satisfied to just "pass." You never aspired to be the head of your class. This same spirit is typical of your attitude now. You, for lack of striving and through fear of responsibility, are satisfied with a mediocre standing and never strive for leadership.

You are not lazy, but you sidestep when opportunity knocks at your door. You do not live to work. You only work in order to live. Your philosophy of life is an easy-going one, and you amble, rather than rush, through existence. Your disposition is placid and you are very slow to take offense. Getting angry causes in your judgment, too much inconvenience. You get along well with every one as you have no strong convictions. You let others do the talking, whilst you do the listening.

Your habits are temperate, and you are largely a creature of routine. You do not read much, and are satisfied with the companionship of a few friends. In the family circle, you rarely, if ever, assert yourself, and always elect to follow the path of least resistance. Your horoscope predicts an uneventful career.

Successful people born May 5:

Robert Bridges, physician and educator.

John B. Stetson, merchant and philanthropist.

Hubert Howe Bancroft, historian.

Mrs. John Blair, home economist.

Christopher (Darlington) Morley, editor.

Empress Eugenie.

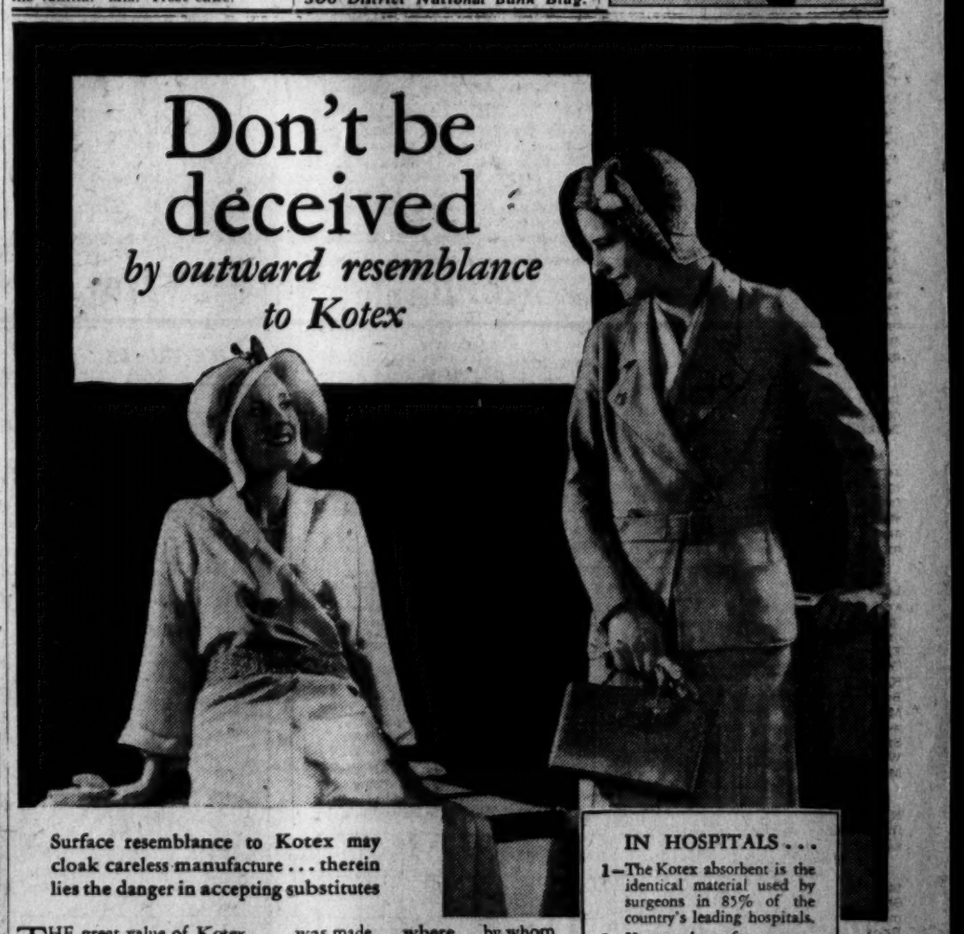
Don't be deceived

by outward resemblance to Kotex



Surface resemblance to Kotex may cloak careless manufacture . . . therein lies the danger in accepting substitutes

THE great value of Kotex . . . to women with high standards . . . is its absolute cleanliness. It's so much more than surface-clean. Kotex is made clean . . . by modern, sanitary methods, which eliminate any possibility of careless handling. Kotex is really, hygienically, clean.

Unfortunately, this care in making cannot be shown in any outward way. So thoughtless shoppers may be deceived, when offered a substitute that looks like Kotex. This resemblance proves nothing. It's easy to make a pad that looks like Kotex. You want much more—your health requires the hygienic safety of Kotex.

So, when offered a substitute, demand more than surface likeness to Kotex. Ask how this substitute was made . . . where . . . by whom. Ask who guarantees its hygienic safety . . . its health protection.

Hospitals use Kotex

Then why should you take chances? You might save a few pennies . . . but the risk is not worth while. You know Kotex is safe. Hospitals use it—they bought over 10,000,000 pads last year—what stronger proof of Kotex superiority could you have?

Kotex protects your comfort in every way, as well as your health. It is made of Cellucotton (not cotton) absorbent wadding, a wonderful substance that absorbs moisture away from the surface, leaving it soft and delicate. Kotex is adjustable. Shaped to fit. Treated to deodorize.

Kotex Company, Chicago.

IN HOSPITALS . . .

1—The Kotex absorbent is the identical material used by surgeons in 85% of the country's leading hospitals.

2—Kotex is soft . . . Not merely an apparent softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, lasting softness.

3—Can be worn on either side with equal comfort, no embarrassment.

4—Disposable, instantly, completely.

HOW IT BEGAN

By Russ Murphy and Ray Sermusky

STOGIES

AE PIONEER CONESTOGA WAGONS WHICH WERE USED & FREIGHTING MATERIAL AND EQUIPMENT OVER THE PENNSYLVANIA MOUNTAINS WERE RESPONSIBLE FOR THE WORD "STOGIE." THEIR DRIVERS BOUGHT "HANDS" OF TOBACCO AND ROLLED THEM INTO LONG THIN CIGARS. THESE WERE FIRST CALLED "CONESTOGAS," BUT THIS WAS LATER SHORTENED TO "STOGIES."

ROUNDHEADS

DURING THE ENGLISH CIVIL WAR, THE KING'S SOLDIERS AFFECTED LONG FLOWING LOCKS. THEIR OPPONENTS CROPPED THEIR HEADS CLOSELY AND WERE CALLED "ROUNDHEADS." THE ROUNDHEADS WERE GENERALLY OF THE PEASANT CLASS, SO THE TERM CAME TO BE APPLIED TO INFERIOR PEOPLE.

HOW VOLCANOES STARTED

ACCORDING TO MYTHOLOGY, VULCAN WAS THE DIVINE BLACKSMITH WHO FORGED THE THUNDERBOLTS HURLED BY JOVE. THE ANCIENTS BELIEVED HIS HOME TO BE UNDER A MOUNTAIN AND WHENEVER A VOLCANO ERUPTED IT WAS THOUGHT TO BE VULCAN WORKING AT HIS FORGE. HIS NAME GAVE US OUR WORD "VOLCANO."

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. W. A. EVANS

To the limit of space questions pertaining to hygiene and prevention of disease will be answered in this column. Personal replies will be made to inquiries, under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Evans will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual disease.

DIET FOR BONES AND TEETH.

THE trend of opinion is now toward the theory that errors in diet are responsible for pathology of the teeth and gums. If this trend continues we will be giving diets to stop the decay of teeth and the progress of pyorrhea. Work with children, in the way of prevention of tooth decay, will become largely a matter of regulating feeding. Adults will change their foods in order to ward off pyorrhea. Men will elect to diet for prevention or to pay dentists to repair. That is the plain trend of present-day opinion.

While more experimentation has been done with caries there is a group of research students who have put in their time on pyorrhea. A recent report is one that that comes to us from Drs. Becks and Weber. They saw so much fundamental resemblance between rickets and pyorrhea that they undertook to find out what effect certain diets had on bones at large, since rickets is a disease of cartilage in the stage of bone formation.

They fed dogs on diets that were low in lime and checked them by other dogs that were getting plenty of lime. Other dogs were fed on a diet that was poor in vitamin D and they were checked by dogs properly fed. Another group were fed on diets out of balance as between acids and alkalies.

In due season the dogs were killed and their bones examined microscopically. The examination included the jaw bones, the alveolar processes around the teeth and the teeth themselves. They included the bones which surround the ears. The conclusion was that there were several diseases of the bones that could be caused at the will of the dietitian. Also that within limits it was possible to prevent or to cure these diseases. Among them were certain diseases of bones that looked very much like rickets and scurvy, and certain bone tumors and cysts. The structures around teeth were affected much as they are in pyorrhea.

We think of bone as being granite-like in its fixedness and stability. These experiments showed it to be rather readily changed in structure as the result of prolonged change in diet. These results lend support to the doctrine that the diseases of the teeth and gums are best met by proper dieting. Other treatment may succeed in repairing a defect, but will leave the basic condition uncared for and new defects will develop. Further, and more important, they indicate the best channel for prevention to follow. There are some uncomfortable conditions of hearing that may be illuminated by these results. They may point the way to help against some noises, some forms of deafness, and some types of vertigo.

TAPEWORM.

J. C. writes: My wife has had tapeworm for 20 years. Is there any cure you can recommend?

REPLY.

Tapeworms are generally good neighbors, but any one wishing to change neighbors can do so. In this case the neighbor is a tennant of the host. The law for dispossessing a tenant is well established and workable. When it comes to making a tenant vacate there is an exact method of procedure. There must be proper preparation, and after that each step must be followed just so.

Same way with the tapeworm tenant. There must be proper preparation. Then must follow a certain step-by-step course. As a rule, when a man is his own tapeworm doctor he fills in the preliminaries and also in the follow-up.

Since tapeworm medicine is poisonous to the landlord as well as the tenant, he is generally timid in his dosage. The worm eats of it and growls, but he stands his ground.

Swiss Air Travel Drops.

Basel, Switzerland, May 4 (A.P.).—Air passengers in and out of the Basel airport numbered 5,246 during 1930, as compared with 6,825 for 1929. This decrease was due, officials say, to poor summer weather. Mail tonnage increased from 51 to 67 tons.

ALL NERVOUS AND FEARFUL, WILMA PULLED WITH ALL HER MIGHT TO DRAG HERSELF DOWN THE LINE, THE LOWER END OF WHICH WAS ANCHORED, AND THE UPPER END OF WHICH FLOATED HIGH IN THE AIR ON A POWERFUL JUMPING BELT.
KANE AND I WERE UNCONSCIOUS WHEN WILMA REACHED US.
KILLER KANE!— AND BUCK!— WH-WHY HIS HELMET'S LOOSE! HE'S DROWNING! THEY'RE BOTH DROWNING!
SUDDENLY WE ALL SHOT FOR THE SURFACE.
THE ANCHOR'S GONE!— THE ROPE BROKE!— I MUST GET THEM UP IN THE AIR FIRST, AND THEN FIND HELP!
BUT IT WAS TOO BAD WE LET GO THE ROPE—FOR WHEN WE REACHED THE SURFACE——
ARDALA!— OH WHY DID I TIE HER TO THAT LINE?—THAT JUMPING BELT HAS TOO MUCH LIFTING POWER FOR HER!

Must North America Retrogress?

Sitting at their windows in the homes of United States and Canada with depressed minds and blank stares, are the families of six million unemployed. Among themselves and to their friends, they have become nervous and worried and unlivable.

Well they might, because in spite of the anguish of these millions of families looking toward the day when their breadwinner will go back to work, little has been done basically to cure unemployment. How will it be permanently solved?

Reducing working hours under 8 hours per day, or days per week under 5½ days, might be good moves socially but they are unsound economically; every man knows in his heart that he is happiest at work. Temporary relief work or doles or insurance are palliatives that will not keep the people of United States and Canada permanently busy.

Finally, man must work or rot; so must nations. And if a rich man does not find work and expression beyond satisfying his own appetite and building his own estate, that man's body and mind soon retrogress. It is exactly the same with the nations of North America; if we want our people to keep happy and healthy, they must be employed at useful work.

But if the 130 million people who live in United States and Canada are to be kept at useful and profitable work, they must for the maintenance of maximum production look beyond the borders of this continent for peoples and markets and countries to develop. And The Vancouver Sun reiterates that the markets and countries to be developed are those silver countries like China and Russia and India and South America.

It is possible that 100 years from now man may have difficulty in finding world markets for his products; but that will be a problem for future generations to solve. There is no such difficulty today, with one billion people, or one-half of the earth's population crawling into hovels every night with rag-covered backs and empty bellies.

And they are doing this in countries that are rich productively—countries like Russia and China, almost as potentially rich as North America. But in these countries they have not the mechanical technique, the machinery, nor an international currency that will allow their millions of population to develop into world commodity consumers.

Therein lies the opportunity for President Hoover and Premier Bennett to give leadership in initiating a World Conference that will give these silver countries a stabilized currency. Also an opportunity for North America to give these Asiatic countries international loans in machinery and supplies that will enable them to develop living standards approaching ours.

In helping build up the living standards of these under-developed countries, lies the only possible market for North America's surpluses, and lies fifty years of work for America's unemployed. Are United States and Canada worthy of that work and its reward, or must we allow our surpluses to rot and our unemployed to retrogress?

A rich man with an active creative mind cannot consume all the wealth he produces (he must pass his surpluses on to others less fortunate), but the moment he stops producing and thinking and working, that moment he commences to retrogress. And it's the same with a nation.

The day that United States, followed by Canada, stopped extending her trade, her intercourse and her economic and social interest in the outside world, was the day this continent started to rot; that was the day that started the national wealth future of the United States tumbling from its high peak of 500 billions in October, 1929, down to 400 billions in December, 1930, and now today stands at 365 billions; that day was the day that North America started to retrogress; that was the day our trade commenced to back up; and it was the day that our people began to be out of work.

With three-quarters of the world in the under-developed state that it is, there is little justification for the present financial and social retrogression going on throughout United States and Canada; there is no possible justification for our millions of unemployed. But these millions of unemployed and their families, daily increasing, are helpless as individuals to remedy their condition and to make their country effectively helpful to under-developed nations.

That move must come from Ottawa and Washington, and it must come quickly.

President Hoover and Premier Bennett must forget that they are personally wealthy individuals; they must forget the political fortunes and creeds of their parties; they must think only of the mental anguish of millions of unfortunate unemployed families who are daily being forced into financial and social retrogression through short-sighted national political policies of greed and isolation.

Consider the tension and feelings of the wife of a six-months cut-of-work man who, the other day, driven to distraction with having her husband sitting brooding around the kitchen stove, intentionally upset over him a kettle of boiling water.

Consider the mental strain on the majority of employed people on this continent who feel and suffer as much at the discomforture of the unemployed as do the unemployed themselves.

Did Premier Bennett think of these when he tried to tell Parliament the other day that Western farmers were not too badly off, and that Canada has less than 400,000 unemployed? Did President Hoover think of these when he stated a few days ago that "United States had only 6 million unemployed?" If Mr. Bennett or Mr. Hoover could live in the shoes of an unemployed family man for 24 hours, would they not soon change their policies of international inaction to those of action?

There is big important world work for the unemployed of North America right here on this continent working and trading with the objective of rehabilitating Asia. Given leadership, the world and its people, especially the more backward nations, will progress as much in the next ten years as North America did in the past ten.

Man and woman, unemployed, rot and retrogress. Our men and women busy at work mean for North America peace and financial security.

The Hoovers and Bennetts must come out of their political social stupor and quickly decide and publicly say which condition our people shall live under—progress or retrogression.

DAILY SUGGESTIONS HELPING AD WRITERS

Post-Zain Entrants Will Do Well to Read and Study Every Hint.

Post-Zain amateur ad-writers will do well to heed these daily suggestions about some of the 35 participating concerns in The Post daily. By reading about the concerns and the suggestions that you may incorporate in your ads you might be the one to write that $100 prize-winning ad for the combined third and fourth week.

Remember, the deadline is Wednesday noon.

The Washington Building.

Everyone knows the value of well-ventilated offices, not to mention location. The Washington Building, located at the triangle, Fifteenth and New York avenue, has this important feature and many more. Besides being located in the heart of Washington's financial district, consider the comfort of their modern equipment, their expert telephone and elevator operators and their well-trained building employes. What splendid ads you can write about this concern.

Avignone Freres.

Here is another concern you are asked to write about. What a wonderful subject for your ads—Candy and Ice Cream. The richly delicious ice cream sold at Avignone Freres assures a successful party for the hostess who serves it. Its superior flavor and pure ingredients have established its popularity. Then there is that delicious candy that has made Avignone Freres "the talk of the town." No gift is more appreciated than their fresh, pure and wholesome candy. Make your Mother's Day purchases there. If you have good taste it will not only take you to Avignone Freres, but you will find everything there "tasty."

Bailey Tire Stores.

Try some ads about this concern. There is much you can write about these five conveniently located Bailey Tire Stores, dealers in U. S. Royal Cord Tires. This nationally known tire is famous for its durability. U. S. Royal Cord Tire has been commonly called the automobile driver's friend. Patronize a Bailey Tire Store and let them end your tire troubles. Get busy writing ads, especially you automobile owners, and win the U. S. Royal Tire this concern is giving to the writer of the best ad written each week about this tire.

Earle Theater.

For a change from everyday business worries and cares why not relieve yourself by going to the beautiful Earle Theater and relax your mind with clean, wholesome extraordinary entertainment. The latest in pictures and the stage show with the "thank you" girl, Miss Maxine Doyle, will change your frowns into smiles. Weave some of those things into your ads. You have a great opportunity of winning that $100 first prize by writing about the many things this theater offers.

P. J. Nee Co.

If you want the finest in furniture let P. J. Nee Co. serve you. They guarantee satisfaction. They are old reliable dealers in fine furniture. Simplify the problem of how to make your home more of a home and how to beautify it. Let P. J. Nee assume that responsibility and you will find they are artists in selecting your furniture. Their modern, up-to-date store houses complete suits for every room in every design to suit the inhabitants of the home. Call at the P. J. Nee store at Seventh and H streets and see this fine furniture with the remarkably low prices. If you need additional information for your ads this concern will be very glad to assist you.

Let a cup of Wilkins coffee start your day. The delicious flavor combined with its freshness and low price makes it just wonderful.

Have you had your drink of National Pale Dry Ginger Ale today? If you want to chase that tired feeling away, drink this famous beverage. It is stimulating and refreshing.

Extra Prizes Offered In Post-Zain Contest

The following firms participating in The Post-Zain Amateur Ad Writing Contest, have announced SPECIAL AWARDS IN ADDITION to the regular awards made each week by The Post.

Rizik Brothers—$1,000 additional to the winner of the grand award of $1,000 if the prize winning ad is written about their concern.

Arthur Jordan Piano Co.—A $158 Brunswick Radio for the best ad written on Brunswick Radios during the entire contest.

P. J. Nee Co.—The writers of best ad submitted during the entire contest will receive a big English lounge chair priced at $73.

L. P. Steuart & Bro.—To the home owner that writes the best ad during entire contest on Superior Anthracite coal, five tons of this coal will be stored in their bins.

To the home owner writing best ad on Fluid Heat Oil Burner during entire period of this contest one $375 oil burner will be installed free of charge.

Earle Theater—Twenty passes each week for the best ads on this Warner Brothers house.

Bailey Tire Stores—A standard passenger size U. S. Royal tire each week to the writers owning an automobile, for the best ad on Bailey Stores and U. S. Royal Tires.

D. J. Kaufman, Inc. (Radio Joe)—$45 "Bean Geste" hand-tailored, silk-lined, 2-trouser suit will be given for the best ad submitted about their concern during entire contest.

Fairfax Farm Dairies—One bottle chocolate milk to every writer of an ad on their concern weekly.

National Dry Ginger Ale—One case National Pale Dry ginger ale to weekly winner of $100. One case to writer best ad about this product each week. One carton of six to the next four best ads about this beverage each week.

Wilkins Coffee—2 pounds just wonderful Wilkins coffee to writers of ten best ads each week on their product.

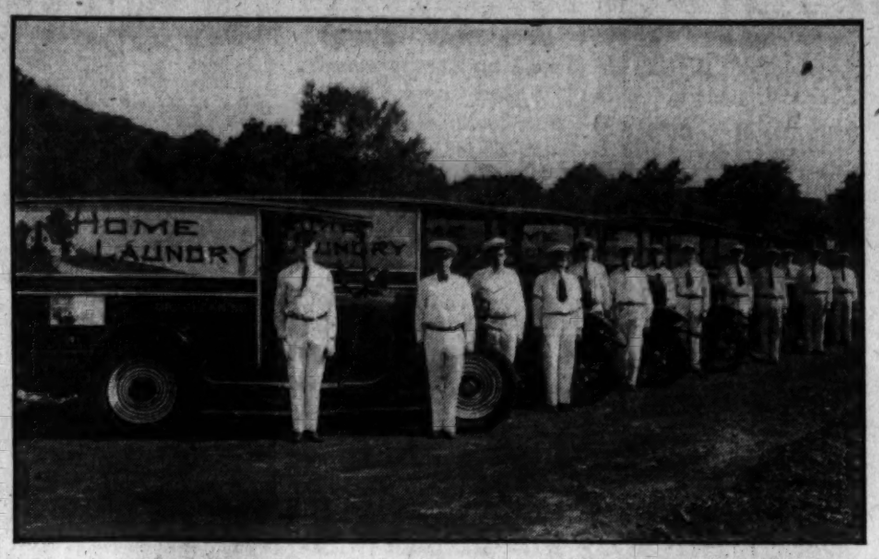
HERE'S A SUGGESTION FOR ZAIN AD WRITERS



Last Hit Often Wins Games And Last Ad May Take Prize

Pitcher Never Quits and So Contestants Should Not Quit; Many Other Awards Are Offered Besides Cash; Enough Worth Trying For.

Remember that moment at the ball game—three men on the bases, two men down, two strikes and three balls? Then at the last anxious moment a batter hits the ball and brings in the winning runs. Every one gets up in the stands, shouts and cheers, because the game is won at the last moment.

Now we are in the last inning of the third and fourth weeks of The Post-Zain Ad-Writing Contest. Write an ad now; you may be the one to make that prize-winning hit. In this game of writing ads the judges are the umpires and your cheers are the many worth-while prizes.

Don't strike out or be a quitter and put yourself out of the game. When you stop writing ade you are striking out. Everlastingly keeping at it makes it possible for you to stay in the game. It gives you a chance to make runs, win prizes or make a home run and win the $100 first prize.

The time is short, but that doesn't mean you cant' be a winner. We've seen many ball players slide in from third base right underneath the catcher's glove. The umpire said "Safe," and many people said they didn't think he made it; but he did and he brought in the winning run. Some people, perhaps, say you can't write prize-winning ads. We know you can, so get yourself a big piece of paper, sharpen the pencil, and show them that you can win.

This contest is different because there are many prizes. In fact, we would like to see you be on the winning side this period.

We have been coaching you all these past three weeks by showing you through our news column how to write prize-winning ads. A pitcher never quits—and you shouldn't.

Just to show how important this game is and why you should put everything aside for an hour or so a day and write prize-winning ads, we are listing what those prize-winning hits will mean to you. Besides the $100 first prize, there are a $165 ABC washer, 3 strands of triple ⅞ Richelieu pearls, 100 quarts Avignone Freres delicious ice cream, and 525 merchandise prizes. Don't overlook all the special prizes which appear in the box on this page and the special prize The Washington Post is giving the winner.

An interesting line-up of Home Laundry employes, ready to serve you at any hour or in any part of the city. Well trained, neatly uniformed and thoroughly efficient, this array of drivers offer the finest of service.

Write an ad about these men and the Home Laundry. You may win one of the big prizes in the Zain contest, but even if you don't the Home Laundry pays $1 for every ad written about its plant or service.

Rules for the Contest

1. The contest can be entered at any time before midnight of Wednesday, May 27, by sending an ad to Post-Zain Amateur Ad Editor, The Washington Post, Washington, D. C.
2. It is open to everyone except professional advertising men or women or the employes of any newspaper.
3. The Post will award $1,000.00 in cash for the best ad submitted during the entire contest, to be eligible for this award. Entrant must have written at least one ad on each concern listed.
4. Write about one or all of the concerns. Submit as many ads as you can. Lots of weekly prizes every week.
5. Each ad submitted must be on a separate piece of paper. Write your name and address also telephone number plainly on the back.
6. Contestants are under no obligations and do not have to be subscribers to The Post to compete.
7. The names of judges will be announced next week. Their decisions are final.
8. All ads are the property of the concern about whom they are written and may be used by them as they see fit.
9. Remember contest closes May 27, 1931.

U. S. Accepts Invitation To Wheat Conference

(Associated Press.)

The State Department yesterday instructed the American Legation at Ottawa to accept formally on behalf of the United States Canada's invitation for official participation in the International Wheat Conference at London May 19.

The conference was proposed at the preparatory conference in Rome, held under the auspices of the International Institute of Agriculture, in which the United States has not participated for several years. The American delegates will be Sam R. McKelvie, of the Farm Board, former Governor of Nebraska; Nils A. Olsen, chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the Department of Agriculture, and technical delegate, A. E. Taylor, director of the Food Research Institute, Leland Stanford University.

Wife Sues for Divorce, Saying Mate Wed Twice

Charging that her husband had gone through another wedding ceremony after he deserted her, Roberta O. Greenwell yesterday filed suit for absolute divorce, naming her husband's second mate as the other woman.

Mrs. Greenwell alleges that her husband deserted her in 1922, and that in December 1929, he went to Ellicot City with another woman and underwent a second rite. The wife's petition further declares that there has been born a child in the later "marriage."

MRS. CARUSI SUES TO BAR TAX CLAIM

Alleges Alley Paving Was Completed Before She Was Notified.

Mrs. Marie C. Carusi, widow of the former president of the Board of Education, yesterday brought suit against the District Commissioners to cancel an assessment of $428.40 made against property owned by her on Thirteenth street, between M and N streets northwest, for the paving of four alleys.

Mrs. Carusi alleges paving of the alleys was done without notifying her and that the law under which they were paved specifically states that property owners shall be notified of the price for the work and must be given an opportunity to be heard relative to the proposed work.

Through Attorney Godfrey L. Munter, Mrs. Carusi further declares that the assessment is "arbitrary, unequal, discriminatory, void in law and is levied in violation of the Constitution." The allegation also asserts she knew nothing of the proposed work until it was started, and that other property owners in the block benefited as much as she, but did not have assessments placed against their property.

She asks that the assessment be canceled and that it be stricken from the records. The suit is the first that would test the validity of the alley-paving law, much as the Borland law, affecting street paving, was tested in court and found to be unconstitutional. The same points raised in the Borland law are raised by the attorney for Mrs. Carusi.

Maj. Gen. Sladen to See Annual Drill of Cadets

Maj. Gen. Fred W. Sladen, commanding general of the third corps area, will review Washington high school cadets at their annual competitive drill on May 25 and 26, it was announced yesterday by Assistant Superintendent of Schools Stephen E. Kramer.

Gen. Sladen will also present the winning company with the flag trophy which goes to the company adjuged the best, for the coming year.

Planes to Tour France.

Paris, May 4 (A.P.).—Airplanes will take part for the first time in the 1931 "Tour de France," a sporting event held annually and formerly restricted to automobiles and motorcycles. Principal cities of France will be visited according to fixed stages between April 24-May 10.

NATS, OUTHIT, RALLY TO DEFEAT YANKEES, 7-3

Central Star Lost on Eve Of Test

Buscher, Mound Ace, Fails in Studies; Won 2 Games.

Clash With Eastern Today Holds Key to Series Title.

By BOB CONSIDINE.

EMMETT BUSCHER, star Central hurler, was declared yesterday scholastically ineligible to represent his school today in the crucial sixth game of the high school series, which brings together the joint leaders of the schoolboy loop—Eastern and Central—this afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Eastern Stadium. Buscher was leading the high school pitchers with two wins and no losses, having already beaten Business and Western.

Harry Colliflower, third baseman, is another Centralite who was spiked by studies and who will be out for the remainder of the season.

Coach Ty Rauber was uncertain last night over his selection for mound duty today, but expressed the feeling that although Buscher was undoubtedly a player of merit, the Central team is not harmed—materially—by his denouement, but is worried over the psychological effect his leaving may bring.

De Bettencourt Likely to Pitch.

John de Bettencourt, who has much more in the way of hooks than had Buscher, but lacks his speed, probably will be Rauber's selection for the pitching chores today. The lanky, smooth-flinging youth looked good yesterday in practice at Central Stadium. But for a hurt finger he would have pitched against Western last week, the game in which Buscher added measurably to his reputation.

Colliflower's hot corner assignment has been shifted to Raub, a youngster, who has been conducting himself well in Central's outside games.

Aping one of his contemporaries—Connie Mack—Coach Guyon has withheld his pitching selection for today's game. Dick Lanahan, of course, will be used, but possibly not from the start. Lanahan did not work yesterday when the Maryland Freshmen handed the perennial monarchs of high school baseball a 7-2 beating.

While the series has two more games to run after today's test, this Eastern-Central tilt is the real crux of the situation. The winner of today's game—and the edge must be accorded Eastern—has the championship in the bag.

Cubs Rout Reds, 13-1, Wilson Hits 2d Homer

Chicago, May 4 (A.P.).—Hack Wilson and Les Bell knocked out home runs and Cuyler and Hornsby got three hits each this afternoon as the Chicago Cubs slugged out a 13-to-1 victory over the Cincinnati Reds in the first game of the series. Wilson's second circuit clout of the year came in the seventh inning, with English on base.

Pat Malone held the Reds to six hits, not being scored upon until Crabtree tripled in the ninth. It was Malone's second win of the year, with no defeats.

Owen Carroll started for Cincinnati, but was knocked out of the box in the fifth and the Cubs finished their scoring against Johnson and Wysong. Eckert pitched the final inning for the tail-end Reds.

Voigt Threat In British Amateur

Former District Star Heads 14 Entries From U. S.

Plays Bowman First; Douglas Fairbanks to Compete.

By FRANK H. KING.

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland, May 4 (A.P.).—Fourteen Americans are among the 171 entries announced today for the British amateur golf championship, beginning at Westward Ho May 18, but only 1 of them is given much chance by the experts of retaining for American the title Bobby Jones won last year.

The outstanding American entry is George Voigt, the New York golfing master, who, when he is good is very, very good, and entirely capable of walking off with the honor.

Voigt's first-round opponent is T. H. E. Bowman, of Seacroft, who should afford little difficulty in the American plays at Westward Ho like he played at St. Andrews last year, when he gave Bobby Jones a great battle in the semifinals.

Tolley May Bring Cup Back.

If Voigt should fall by the wayside, there still is a good chance that the cup would go back to America, but it would be in British hands. Cyril James Hastings Tolley, who now lives in the United States, has entered the tournament, but he plays under the colors of the Royal and Ancient Club of St. Andrews, and his victory would cause no glee in the United States.

The Westward Ho championship list is the smallest since the title was decided there in 1925. Two hundred and seventy-two were entered last year. Nevertheless, the 1931 representation contains many fine golfers and is widely scattered, entries coming from Canada, France, Argentine, Chile, the Malay States, Germany and Africa, besides the United States.

The Canadian entry is T. G. Roberts, of Pine Ridge.

The American entry list ranges through the usual tourist delegation, a college entry from Oxford, the Veteral Joshua Crane and Douglas Fairbanks.

Other American Entries.

Other American club wielders include Frank Sweeney, of Los Angeles, entered from the Addington Club; L. R. Phillips, La Cumbre, Calif.; Ross Thompson, Uniontown, Pa.; Tom Maguire, Stockdale, Calif.; Paul Azbill, an American resident of London; Douglas Grant, former Californian; E. J. Hadden, Oakland, Calif.; J. H. Forsman, New York Athletic Club; Harry Scheftel, American member of the Oxford University team; R. B. Foster, an American businessman living in London, and Charles Lewis, entered from Lakeside, as is Fairbanks.

The American delegation is bound to be cut down after the first round as Forsman meets Scheftel, Foster and Lewis meet, and Hadden and Crane are paired.

Doug Fairbanks' first round opponent is J. R. Abercrombie, of the Royal Liverpool Club, a good golfer.

Roger Wethered, former champion, is in the first quarter of the draw, Voight in the second, with a group of British veterans, including Sir Ernest Holderness, while Tolley is in the third quarter.

Brandt Gives 3 Hits, Braves Beat Phils, 4-3

Boston, May 4 (A.P.).—Ed Brandt, Braves' southpaw, held the Phillies to three hits today, to annex his fourth straight victory, 4 to 3, and even the current series at one-all. Pinky Whitney, Phillies' third-sacker, repeated his feat of yesterday by hitting a home run in his first time at bat.

The Phillies used three pitchers, J. Elliott, Watt and Stoner, to hold the Braves to eight hits, three of which were made by Red Worthington. Wes Schulnerich played his first National League game in right field for the Braves and knocked in the Tribes' first run.

Baer Favorite in Bout With Risko Tonight

Cleveland, May 4 (A.P.).—Max Baer, Los Angeles heavyweight, tonight ruled a slight favorite to win his ten-round bout here tomorrow night against Johnny Risko, the durable Clevelander.

The Californian expects to weigh 203 pounds, against Risko's 192. Both finished training today and said they were in splendid shape.

Max expects to win by a knockout and thus project himself back into the world championship picture from which he was shunted by losses to Tommy Loughran and Ernie Schaaf. Risko, however, thinks he can repeat his recent brilliant showing in decisioning King Levinsky, of Chicago.

Baer has won a number of fights on knockouts, but in Risko he meets a mixer who has defeated many front-rank scrappers and has avoided

As clerk of the United States District Court in Detroit, Elmer W. Voorheis has to sign his name over 50,000 times a year to court papers. Besides this, he has to affix his signature to hundreds of other documents of a less official nature, so as to save time he simply writes with both hands. Writing thus is second nature with Mr. Voorheis, as he has been doing it since he was a small boy. Piling his personal correspondence at his left elbow and papers requiring his official signature at his right he takes two pens and goes to work. Besides being faster than the average one-hand signers, Voorheis also is able to compose and write a personal letter while he continues to work on the official papers.

CLEVELAND MAY LOSE FIGHT

Councilman Demands $20,000 for Use of Stadium.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, May 4 (A.P.).—Possibility that the Max Schmeling - Young Stribling boxing match for the world heavyweight championship may not be held here was hinted today by City Manager Daniel E. Morgan.

During discussion in city council finance committee on a proposal to waive the usual 6 per cent of the "gate" demanded by the boxing commission in favor of a flat guarantee of $5,000, a councilman protested that the city's cut should be 10 per cent of the revenues, or, in lieu of that, a $20,000 guarantee for use of the new municipal stadium, plus the 6 per cent cut.

Manager Morgan called attention to the fact that no contract has been signed as yet, despite the announcement of the bout for the night of July 3, and said he understood from William Carey, head of the Madison Square Garden Corporation of New York, that negotiations have been renewed, with Chicago as a possible site.

Action Postponed Until Next Week.

Action on the matter was postponed by the committee until next week. Under tentative plans the city would receive $20,000 for use of the stadium and 50 per cent of the concession receipts.

The champion tomorrow will choose either Cedar Point, Ohio, or Conneat Lake Park, Pa., as the site for his training for the July 3 title fight with Stribling, his manager, Joe Jacobs, said. Jacobs and Schmeling were in Youngstown tonight for an exhibition bout and expect to go to both Conneaut Lake and Cedar Point tomorrow.

Mitchell Wins Fourth As Giants Beat Robins

Brooklyn, May 4 (A.P.).—Clarence Mitchell, veteran southpaw spit ball pitcher, won his fourth straight start as the New York Giants defeated the Brooklyn Robins, 6 to 3, to even the series today.

Adolfo Luque made his first start for the Robins, but was clearly outpitched by Mitchell. The Robins got only six hits off Mitchell, while the Giants pounded Luque for ten in the eight innings he worked. Terry and Ott led the Giants' attack, each getting a triple and a double.

RED SOX WIN FROM A'S, 7 TO 5

4 Mack Hurlers Hard Hit; Moore Stops Rally in Eighth.

PHILADELPHIA, May 4 (A.P.).—The Boston Red Sox, in their first meeting of the season here with the Philadelphia Athletics, clubbed four Mack pitchers for fifteen hits today and won the opening game of the three-game series by a score of 7 to 5.

Home runs by Rothrock and Pickering, the latter's with two on base in the fourth, gave the Sox four runs and, breaking a 2-2 tie, sent them ahead for the rest of the game.

Wiley Moore, going to Gaston's relief in the eighth, stopped a Mack rally.

Mrs. Moody Considers Return to Wimbledon

London, May 4 (A.P.).—The temptation to tie Suzanne Lenglen's all-time record of five straight Wimbledon tennis championships has proved too great for Mrs. Helen Wills Moody to withstand, officials of the All-English Tennis Club believe.

In a letter received today by Maj. D. R. Larcombe, secretary of the organization, the American star indicated she had reconsidered a previous decision not to defend her Wimbledon crown.

A victory for Mrs. Wills would give her five straight titles and match the record of Mlle. Lenglen, who won without a break from 1919 through

Nats' Line-up Shifted by Johnson

Manush and Bluege, Ailing, Are Benched Temporarily.

Hadley or Burke to Oppose Pennock in Today's Game.

Special to The Washington Post.

NEW YORK, May 4. — Manager Walter Johnson made two changes in his starting line-up against the Yankees here this afternoon, benching Outfielder Heinie Manush and Third Baseman Ossie Bluege for two or three days because these two regulars have not been feeling so spry. The damp weather into which the team has run much of the time this spring has stiffened up Manush's leg which bothered him last year, while it also has caused a cold to settle in Bluege's shoulders.

Dave Harris subbed for Manush and batted in the clean-up position, with Cronin hitting third. Johnson did not decide upon Bluege's relief until the southpaw, Vernon Gomez, was announced as the mound starter for the Yankees. Then he gave Jack Hayes a chance to make his debut as a starter. Had a right-hander been named by "Marse" Joe McCarthy, Baxter Jordan, a southpaw hitter, would have gotten the call. These changes are expected to be effective throughout this three-game series, Johnson stated.

Burke or Hadley to Hurl.

In the hope of making it two straight in this series and five in a row for the season, Manager Johnson will start either Bob Burke or Irving Hadley against the Yankees here tomorrow. Either has the stuff with which to win if he will only cut loose with it, the Nat leader believes.

Herb Pennock, veteran left-hander and the ace of the New York staff, is expected to oppose the Nats.

As Babe Ruth was able to do little more than hobble and the Yankees wanted him in the game for his hitting, he held down the initial sack today, with Lou Gehrig going to right. This gave the New Yorkers two inexperienced fly chasers in the game, as Ben Chapman, regular second baseman, was assigned the left-field territory to patrol.

Harry Rice's attempted sacrifice in the first, following Myer's opening single, went as a hit when Lazzeri, coming in fast, wheeled to throw to second for a force play there and found no one covering the bag.

No word has been heard from Pitcher Ad Liska, who went at his own expense to Lincoln, Nebr., to have his ailing salary wing treated, Manager Johnson stated today.

Lazzeri sent Sam West back almost to the running track in deep center for a high fly ending the home first with two Yankees on the bases at the time.

Opening the third, Harry Rice tapped a slow one to Ruth and this went as a safety when he eluded Ruth on his way to the bag, ducking under the first sacker as he swung around to touch him with the ball. His mates could advance Harry no farther, however.

Gehrig's triple, which scored two runs to knot the count in the native third, hit the base of the low wall guarding the stand in left. About two feet higher and it would have been a homer.

Ruth showed his gameness on Kuhel's attempted bunt opening round four. A pop foul resulted and Babe limped in for it as fast as he could, saw that he couldn't quite make it, and dived for the ball, just managing to snare it with his gloved hand.

Kuhel was charged with an error on Cronin's peg of Chapman's roller opening the Yank's fourth. From the stands it looked as though the first-sacker picked up the ball before the runner reached the base, but it did not look that way to Umpire Campbell. This miscue helped the aliens to mould a run which broke the 2-all deadlock.

Reese came in fast to make a good

Goslin Hits 1st Homer As Browns Win, 3-1

St. Louis, May 4 (A.P.).—The St. Louis Browns ran their newly started winning streak up to two consecutive victories by defeating the Cleveland Indians today, 3 to 1. It was the first game for the Browns after a trip that left them occupying the last position in the American League percentage column.

Goslin knocked his first home run of the season as his share in the Browns' victory.

St. Louis made Willis Hudlin, Indian right-hander, for only five hits, but accounted for runs in three innings, while the victors obtained almost double that number from Stewart, winning pitcher.

Errors of White Sox Aid Tigers to 9-3 Win

Detroit, Mich., May 4 (A.P.).—The Tigers made the best of eight hits and four White Sox errors today to win, 9-3, in the opening game of a series with the Chicago team.

The White Sox took the lead in the first inning with two runs, but in the second two singles, a triple and an error put the Tigers in the lead to stay. Three of the Tiger hits were triples. While Hal McKain was allowing eight hits, the White Sox collected nine off Waite Hoyt.

AEGIS DEFEATS PREAKNESS ELIGIBLES AT PIMLICO

Merger Rides To Victory By Head

Rip Van Winkle, Public Choice, Second in Rennert.

Society Talk, Dolly's Baby Win From Juveniles.

By J. B. SNODGRASS.

PIMLICO RACE TRACK, Md., May 4.—The Rennert called to the colors seven 3-year-olds that are eligible for the Preakness, and some of these also are candidates for the Derby, Spirit River being the only one of the field of seven not entered in either classic. The result was victory for the American Flag colt, Aegis, and he had a hustling ride by Mergler. The Sagamore Stable's Rip Van Winkle was second, beaten a head, and A. Bartelstein's Hillsborough third.

Rip Van Winkle was slight favorite, but there was support for all. Rip Van Winkle had the lead twice for a short time, as did Aegis. The Glen Riddle Farm's Great Gun led to halfway down the back stretch, when Rip, which had been second all the way, showed in front. Then Aegis got to the fore, but rounding the turn to the home stretch he was second, while Rip Van Winkle rushed again and led, looking like a winner. At the sixteenth he wavered slightly and Aegis, coming strong, just got up to win, Hillsborough was well up most of the way and was beaten for place by a length. The time was 1:46 2-5. The winner paid $6.70.

Most of the field showed creditably, but none was entitled to much consideration for the first flight of 3-year-olds. Ilium showed speed, as did Spirit River, Ilium finishing fourth.

There were 10,000 people out for the sport, which was under the best conditions as to track and weather.

Robertson Beats Workman.

Robertson, on the Four Oaks Stock Farm's Dolly's Baby, beat Workman, on the favorite, the Navada Stock Farm's Bad Axe, in the first race for 2-year-olds, daylight showing between the two juveniles at the finish. S. W. Labrot's Westivity was third, far back. Bad Axe led to the sixteenth. The time was 0:54 3-5, four and a half furlongs. The winner paid $7.30. A dozen 2-year-olds started from an even break. Workman went out into a lead of two lengths but could not hold it.

William Zeigler, jr., New York horseman, scored an easy victory in the second race with Holiday, which had a margin of two lengths after a fast stretch run from behind. George Ellis piloted the son of High Time. Mrs. O. Chaney's Encounter was second and Sturdy third. Unusual set the early pace, and he was favorite, but Encounter soon raced him into defeat. At the far turn Tuscan Knight was third, but he ran out entering the home stretch. Time, 1:13 4-5. The winner paid $8.90.

Society Talk Finally Scores.

Society Talk, carrying the colors of T. McClements, won the third race for 2-year-old maiden fillies, coming from behind to overtake the flying H. Rozier Dulaney, jr., filly, Joust, a fast starter, which had gone into a long lead from the barrier and seemed to be safe when overhauled at the sixteenth by the favorite. Flying was third and Brush Up fourth. McTaggart, a wizard with 2-year-olds, had the mount on the winner, which paid $7.20. Time, 0:55. A field of twelve started.

The Nevada Stock Farm's Ancoda, with Bejahak up, won the fourth race by a half length, with H. T. Archibald's Sun Dreamer second and J. W. Garth's Snooty third. The start was marred by a jamming of the field, following a long wait caused by Dunfern and Madam Queen breaking through the tape repeatedly. When the starter got them away Robertson, on Bunama, cut across the field and shut out of contention several horses. The winner was the long shot of the day, paying $98.90 for $2. Time, 1:48 4-5.

Workman's Ride Wins.

Mud, the favorite, won the sixth race, with Ray Workman having the mount and saving the horse from defeat in a sensational nose finish. Few jockeys could have beaten the race with the horse he was riding so stave off Fire Line, an outsider. Wicker was third. The winner paid $5.90. Time, 1:14 1-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—DOLLY'S BABY, $7.30, $3.10, $2.40; BAD AXE, $2.60, $2.30; WESTIVITY, $2.80.

DOLLY'S BABY moved up stoutly on the outside of leader making turn into home stretch and, finishing courageously under punishment, outgamed BAD AXE at end. Workman set BAD AXE going in motion and saved ground with him at the turn. BAD AXE hung on well until last sixteenth, when he quit and Workman did not persevere with him last few strides when he found the task a hopeless one. WESTIVITY broke slow. He moved up making turn into home stretch, but hung at the end and was driving hard to stall of DRESS DOLL.

SECOND RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from stall gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:03. Off at 3:03½. Winner, W. Two-dollar mutuels paid—HOLIDAY, $8.90, $5.80, $4.10; ENCOUNTER, $48.40, $23.60; STURDY, $4.60.

HOLIDAY began slowly and Ellis did not hurry him any in early stages. Went to outside of leaders entering home stretch and, closing gamely under punishment, was up in final strides. ENCOUNTER, used up racing UNUSUAL into submission first half mile, tired when put to a drive last sixteenth. STURDY closed a big gap and would have been second in few more strides. THE TOUT was swerving all over the track at the end. UNUSUAL broke fast and showed plenty of foot until rounding far turn, where she quit and tired very badly in home stretch.

THIRD RACE—Four and one-half furlongs. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For maiden fillies. Start good from stall gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 3:36. Off at 3:39. Winner, T. Two-dollar mutuels paid—SOCIETY TALK, $7.20, $3.90, $2.90; JOUST (entry), $7.50, $4.00; FLYING, $6.10.

SOCIETY TALK, hard ridden rounding the far turn, wore JOUST down and outgamed latter in stretch drive. The winner was up in final furlong and was going away at end. JOUST left the barrier with a good burst of speed and drew away into commanding lead first furlong. She tired when Robertson went to the whip. FLYING broke very slow, worked her way up on the outside and finished going strong out in the middle of the track.

FOURTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 3-year olds. Start good from stall gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 5:03. Off at 5:18½. Two-dollar mutuels paid—ANCODA, $98.90, $28.70, $16.70; SUN DREAMER, $14.90, $9.00; SNOOTY, $7.20.

ANCONDA, off forwardly, was rated off the leaders until straightened out on back stretch, where he moved up on outside, wore PHANTASIME down rounding the far turn and drew away. SUN DREAMER, weakened in stretch run and was forced to stand a long, hard drive to stall off SUN DREAMER. Latter moved up stoutly when straightened out in home stretch, was on almost even terms with the leader at sixteenth pole, but Bejahak outrode Guerra when it came to a finish. SNOOTY hung after making her effort at furlong pole. MADAM QUEEN swerved across to inside when break at nine and piled up several of the others in a tangle. PEGG was forced to pull the latter up. She closed a big gap first quarter, but the effort told on her and she tired.

FIFTH RACE—One and one-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,300. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from stall gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 4:48. Off at 4:54½. Winner, W. M. Jeffords' b. c. (3), by American Flag—Miss Webber. Trained by E. R. Harlan. Value to winner, $900; second, $250; third, $150. Time, 0:23 3-5, 0:48 2-5, 1:13 2-5, 1:39 2-5, 1:46 2-5.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—AEGIS, $6.70, $4.50, $3.50; RIP VAN WINKLE, $4.20, $2.90; HILLSBOROUGH, $4.50.

AEGIS was taken in hand on back stretch and, trailed off the pace until rounding the far turn, responded with a good burst of speed when called on and fought it out with RIP VAN WINKLE all last furlong. The winner finished out in the middle of the track. RIP VAN WINKLE carried GREAT GUN along at a fast pace, easily disposed of the latter when ready and saved ground entering the home stretch. HILLSBOROUGH, a trailer for six furlongs, closed in resolute fashion after going wide at top of home stretch. SPIRIT RIVER and ILIUM ran well first half mile. MAD CAREER showed no speed.

SIXTH RACE—Six furlongs. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 3-year-olds and upward. Start good from stall gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 5:26. Off at 5:30. Two-dollar mutuels paid—MUD, $5.90, $4.00, $3.50; FIRE LINE, $8.10, $5.00; WICKER, $9.90.

MUD forced the pace from the break. He saved ground rounding the far turn and came through next the rail entering the home stretch, fought it out with FIRE LINE all last quarter and just lasted long enough. FIRE LINE came again after dropping back at top of home stretch. He was gradually gaining and would have won in another stride. WICKER, a keen factor from the break, was carried a bit wide at top of home stretch. ALWINGTON DOLLY, buffeted about rounding the far turn, could not get through at top of home stretch.

SEVENTH RACE—One and three-sixteenth miles. Purse, $1,300; claiming. For 4-year-olds and upward. Start good from stall gates. Won driving; place, same. Went to post at 6:02. Off at 6:04½. Winner, Mrs. E. Jackson's br. h. (6.), by Light Brigade—Cynthia. Trained by R. Jackson. Value to winner, $900; second, $250; third, $150. Time, 0:24, 0:49 2-5, 1:14 2-5, 1:40 3-5, 2:01.

Two-dollar mutuels paid—ROYAL CHARGE, $11.10, $4.40, $4.00; SILVER SCEPTER, $3.50, $3.30. GUILFORD, $18.30.

ROYAL CHARGE, allowed to settle in his stride, improved his position on the outside to enter contention, responded with good courage for the final drive when securing a keen factor from the start, stained command entering the home stretch and held on stoutly thereafter. GUILFORD raced STACCATO into early submission, saved ground and continued courageously under a drive. INTREPID, slow to get going, circled his field to make up ground steadily. FAIR BILL hung after making his move. MERRY MACK was never dangerous. ELIZABETH tired. STACCATO stopped early.

DERBY HOPES BEATEN AT KENTUCKY

Bradley Pair Bow to Thistle Fyrn in Feature Race.

CHURCHILL DOWNS, May 4 (A. P.).—Col. E. R. Bradley showed his Derby hand in the Lebanon Purse at Churchill Downs today and although the green and white silks bowed to George Collins' Thistle Fyrn, the Idle Hour connection was not disheartened over its defeat.

Col. Bradley started both of his Derby hopefuls, B'ar Hunter and Barometer and the entry was installed as overwhelming favorite at 7 to 10. The stable placed chief dependence in Barometer, but it fell to the lot of B'ar Hunter to offer the most formidable opposition to the winner. At the finish the Collins mare had a half-length margin over B'ar Hunter which in turn beat Kadiak a nose for the place. Barometer, under a weak ride by Laverne Fator, finished fourth on his own courage.

In view of the fact that B'ar Hunter was conceding Thistle Fyrn 13 pounds under the weight for age scale, his effort was very impressive.

Thistle Fyrn, second choice, paid her backers $9.54. She covered the mile in 1:37 4-5.

Theodore Mueller's Cayuga scored a hollow victory in the Kentucky Hotel Handicap, the other top attraction. Breaking on his toes, the Trojan gelding raced to a long lead and won in a common canter by six lengths. The Elmtree Stable's Footmark, a Derby candidate, was second, a length and a half in advance of the Three D's Stable's Pansy Walker, the favorite. Cayuga paid $6.36.

RIDSDALE'S 81 TOPS CHEVY CHASE SENIORS

Al Houghton Leads Pros With 71

Pairs With Letts to Win Partnership Competition.

Woodmont Invitation Tourney Gets Underway Today.

By HENRY LITCHFIELD WEST.

TWENTY-SEVEN senior golfers of the Chevy Chase Club played yesterday in a tournament on their home course, paired with an equal number of professionals in the Middle Atlantic Professional Golfers' Association. With these seniors it is a certainty that age does not wither nor custom stale. Upon the whole, they played fine golf, being led by P. S. Ridsdale, who had a fine score of 81.

The professionals played from scratch, of course, but the seniors were allowed their club handicaps. Ridsdale won low gross among the seniors, and Gen. C. B. Drake, with a card of 88—10—78, was awarded a golf medal for low net. The best professional score was made by A. L. Houghton, Kenwood, with 36—35—71, followed by Cliff Spencer, unattached, with 36—36—72, his finish being marred by three putts on the seventeenth and eighteenth greens. William Carson, unattached, was 37, 2 over par, going out and started home with 3—4—5—2, even par, but four consecutive 5s and a 7 on the last five holes ruined his chances to lead the field. Charles Betschler, Rodgers Forge, and Ralph Beach, Suburban, tied for third among the pros, each with 75.

Letts and Houghton in Front.

John C. Letts and Houghton, with 163—11—152; Gen. Drake and Laurence Wisner, Rodgers' Forge, with 167—10—157, and T. W. McReynolds and Glenn Spencer, Maryland Country Club, with 176—18—158, were the winners in the partnership competition. Letts and Houghton, Drake and Wisner and T. J. Fuller and Cliff Spencer, with 163—167—167, respectively, were the leaders in low gross. The cards of the leaders were as follows, Houghton's card showing that he played every hole in par with the exception of the third and twelfth, where he was 1 over par on account of traps:

Out—
Houghton	4	4	5	3	4	4	4	5	3—36
Spencer	4	4	4	4	4	4	4	5	3—36
In—
Houghton	3	4	5	3	4	4	4	4	4—35—71
Spencer	4	4	4	4	4	4	4	4	4—36—72

SUMMARY—John C. Letts, 92, and A. Houghton, Kenwood, 71, 163—11—152; Gen. C. B. Drake, 88, and Laurence Wisner, Rodgers Forge, 79, 167—10—157; T. W. McReynolds, 98, and Glenn Spencer, Maryland Country Club, 78, 176—18—158; T. J. Fuller, 93, and Cliff Spencer, unattached, 72, 167—8—159; Gen. D. C. Talcott, 82, and Walter Hall, unattached, 92, 174—4—170; George H. Myers, 104, and J. Munro Hunter, Indian Spring, 79, 183—11—172; G. Y. Worthington, 109, and Gene Larkin, Chevy Chase, 77, 186—16—170; George B. Christian, 106, and George Diffenbagh, Indian Spring, 81, 187—10—177; Victor Kaufmann, 124, and William Schreiber, Catoctin, 78, 202—18—184. P. S. Ridsdale, 81, and William Hardy, Chevy Chase, no card; C. V. Wheeler, 93, and Mel Shorey, East Potomac Park, no card; Admiral M. M. Taylor and Alex Armour, Congressional, no cards; Gen. F. R. Keefer, 98, and Robert T. Barnett, Chevy Chase, no cards.

Woodmont Tourney Opens.

The annual spring invitation tournament of the Woodmont Club will begin this morning, with half the field qualifying today in an eighteen-hole round and the other half tomorrow. Four sixteens will qualify. Additional entries yesterday were as follows:

Today—8:40, R. E. Lewis, Beaver Dam, and J. B. Robinson, unattached; 8:45, B. C. Brown, Washington, and E. V. Parker, Washington; 10:15, Charles R. Morrow, Indian Spring, and M. F. McCarthy, Beaver Dam; 12:25, Dolph Atherton and Partner.

TOMORROW—10:25, R. G. Kimbell, Bannockburn, and H. G. Wood, Bannockburn; 10:45, John T. Money, Beaver Dam, and Harris Fleming, Columbia; 11:55, Russell Edwards, Manor, and E. W. Westwood, Manor; 2:30, Burke Edwards, Manor, and C. H. Green, Manor.

Mrs. Hall Leads Women.

Sixty-four women golfers competed yesterday in a tombstone tournament on the course of the Columbia Club under the auspices of the Women's District Golf Association. Mrs. W. E. Hall, Washington, led the field with a score of 43—49—92, with Mrs. S. F. Colladay, Columbia, second, with 45—49—94, and Miss Dorothy Hunter, Indian Spring, third, with 50—45—95. Mrs. Hall also won the tombstone event, playing her final stroke to the eighteenth green, but she elected to take the low gross prize.

The three leading tombstone prizes were won by Mrs. Phyllis Holtzman, Mrs. J. R. DeFarges and Mrs. J. L. Fieser. Other prize winners were Mrs. Theodore Peyser, Miss Elizabeth Harris, Mrs. J. F. Dowdall, Mrs. C. E. Hill, Mrs. R. C. Jones, Miss Virginia Williams, Mrs. B. C. Hartig, Mrs. H. A. Knox, Mrs. C. B. Murphy, Mrs. Frank R. Keefer, Mrs. J. F. Gross, Miss Florence Scott, Mrs. E. D. Rheem and Mrs. H. A. Mihills.

"Irish" of Baseball Near End of Sports

St. Mary's Kans., May 3 (A.P.).—The record of St. Mary's College in baseball, rivaling Notre Dame's football successes, is near completion.

Starting off with a 21 to 1 victory over the Kansas Aggies in 1894, the Knights played 509 games in 36 years, winning 418 and losing 91, for a percentage of .821.

If they win the Kansas conference championship again this spring, the Knights will have an unparalleled record of 19 consecutive conference titles when St. Mary's passes out of existence as an athletic institution.

Next fall the Jesuit school here becomes the theological department of St. Louis University.

FISHING BAIT.

Fred Shirk, Amarillo, Tex., bait dealer, stocked up with 45,000 minnows and 2,400,000 worms to start the season.

V. M. I. BEATS VIRGINIA, 14 TO 9

Weird Game Marked by 19 Errors; 13 by Cavaliers.

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., May 4.—Virginia Military Institute's nine won from Virginia here today, 14 to 9, in a weird contest, marked by nineteen errors.

The Cavaliers outhit the Cadets, but fielded miserably throughout after going nineteen innings in previous contests without a miscue. Langhorn, Britton and Williams led with the stick for the Cadets, collecting ten hits between them.

Ross, Virginia backstop, contributed two circuit blows, but was called out the second time for cutting third base.

The lone fielding feature was Waite's running catch of Fletcher's short fly in the eighth.

Gallant Knight Back To Races, Now Sound

Chicago, May 3 (A.P.).—Gallant Knight of the Audley Farm Stable, kept out of title honors in the 3-year-old class last year by Gallant Fox and a leg injury, is ready to go out for a title in the handicap division this coming turf season.

The Knight, sound as a dollar and a willing worker, has shown fine speed and good condition in the early trials in the Kentucky blue grass country, where Trainer Kay Spence is handling him.

The Knight, no relation to The Fox, was trimmed by the latter in the Kentucky Derby and Arlington Classic last season, then was kept out of the late fall stakes by an osselet.

2 WEEK-DAY LEAGUES IN OPENINGS

Constructioneers and Metropolitan Nines in Victories.

THE last, but not the least, of the week-day leagues to fall in line opened yesterday with Metropolitan Baptist turning back Eldbrooke M. E., 9-2, in the Georgetown Church loop, and Constructioneers winning from Terminal, 4-3, in the Industrial circuit. The church teams battled five innings and the Industrial entries six.

The presence of several prominent Washington Terminal Co. officials failed to awe Bill Jenkins' Washington Red Sox, who have adopted the 'structioneers moniker for league play, and when Magee, Terminal hurler, relaxed in the fifth stanza Bill's boys fell on him with great gusto to pound over the four winning runs. Errors by "Maggie" himself, Turner and Booker aided the uprising. The railroaders made a futile gesture to overtake the builders in their half of the sixth, failing by a single run to deadlock the issue.

Spigoni Poorly Supported.

Spigoni's poor support cost him the victory in the Eldbrooke-Metropolitan fray. Allowing his opponents only five hits, Spigoni deserved a better fate than the 9-2 trouncing his team suffered. Eddie Cinotti, stellar Met shortstop, made one of the costly miscues, while Brown, in left field, misjudged Draper's long fly with two on the pathways in the third inning, allowing the blow to go for a home run. Walker was in rare form for the Eldbrooke aggregation, only three safe bingles being registered off his offerings. The team, a newcomer to the league, played a steady brand of baseball, indicating that it will make a strong bid for the title this season.

New London Resents References as "Sleepy"

New London, Conn., May 3 (A.P.).—When sports writers troop into this city for the Yale-Harvard regatta on the Thames River June 21, the home town civic leaders appear doomed to get hot under the collar again.

The reason is simply that scribes, seeking a picturesque background for the colorful and historic boat race, invariably refer to New London as a "sleepy old whaling town."

Business leaders have served notice on the rest of the world that New London has grown considerably since the first race was staged here, and that the whaling industry long ago was supplanted by other interprises.

BOAT RACE PLANNED.

A sailboat race from Galveston to Corpus Christi, Tex., is planned, with June 19 the probable starting date.

W. & M. NINE WINNER, 6 TO 1

Hampden-Sidney Is Routed as Indians Stretch Streak.

WILLIAMSBURG, Va., May 4.—Playing a fast and heady game of ball behind Sundrin's submarine speed offerings, William and Mary defeated Hampden-Sydney here today, 6-1, to continue its winning streak and to advance another step on the conference pennant.

Despite Pitcher Humphies' splendid work in the box for the Tigers, his wildness at critical times, coupled with clever base running and big style bat work of the Kellisonites sent extra runs across the plate for a rather lopsided score.

Both infields looked like a pair of big league combinations in action with Third Baseman Demerest, of William and Mary, starring with the snagging of six mighty hard chances. Toone, Tiger shortstop, handled four sizzlers without a bobble. McBride, Indian first sacker, and Suttle, Tricolor backstop, also gave nice fielding exhibitions.

Sundin allowed the visitors but three short singles, while William and Mary gathered eight safe bingles off Humphries. Demerest led both teams at bat with two singles, while McBride took long distance honors with a two-bagger. Harkins, who relieved Sundin in the eight, uncorked lots of speed to hold the Tigers hitless and scoreless.

MARINES WIN IN FINAL CONTEST

Wake Forest Defeated, 9-4; Devil Dogs Win 13 Games.

Special to The Washington Post.

QUANTICO, Va., May 4.—The All-Marine Baseball Team closed their season today with a win over the fast Wake Forest College Team, 9 to 4. Wake Forest proved to be one of the best teams the Marines have faced, and for four innings it was a tight ball game.

The Devil Dogs cut loose in the fourth and drove in four runs on a combination of base hits and good base-running and erratic fielding by the Collegians.

Another four-run splurge in the fifth tucked the game safely away for the Marines.

Lusignan, Sullivan and Surrett were the ones who drove in the Marine runs with two hits apiece. Barnes, the relief pitcher for Wake Forest, pitched good ball, but was not well supported.

The Marines have won thirteen and lost one game, and closed one of their most successful seasons.

Before the game Coach Keady, who is finishing his last season with the Marines, was presented a handsome Gladstone bag by the Marine Baseball Team in recognition of the splendid record of the All-Marine Baseball Team under him. The players were presented with Marine Corps signet rings by Maj. Dave Brewster, the Marine Corps athletic officer.

Keady signed to coach the Marine Corps baseball and football teams in 1925. His record stands as one of the best in the country among colleges, with which Keady's teams always have been rivals. His six-year baseball record as as follows: (1926), won 33, lost 8; (1927), won 19, lost 2; (1928), won 17, lost none; (1929), won 25, lost 8; (1930), won 28, lost 8; (1931), won 13, lost 1.

In football the Marines, under Keady, have been as successful as regards wins and losses as in baseball. In 1928 they played through a twelve-game schedule undefeated.

Keady began his coaching career at Darthmouth 25 years ag following graduation from that institution. Early during his career he served as the first athletic director of Harvard University. He has been associated in a coaching capacity with Lehigh, Vermont, Amherst and Bates besides the schools previously mentioned.

Virginia Tennis Team Defeats Duke, 7 to 2

Special to The Washington Post.

Charlottesville, Va., May 4.—Virginia's tennis team defeated Duke, seven matches to two, this afternoon. The visitors were able to take only one singles and one doubles engagement.

Capt. Smith, Virginia, defeated Rogers, 7—5, 6—0; Myers, Duke, defeated Martin 7—5, 4—6, 6—4; Newell, Virginia, defeated Garber, 8—6, 3—7, 6—3; Delafield, Virginia, defeated Peake, 6—1, 10—8; Dame, Virginia, defeated Hulp, 6—0, 6—4, and Zurnett defeated Clark, 6—1, 5—7, 6—3.

In doubles, Smith and Martin, Virginia, defeated Rogers and Myers, 6—2, 8—6; Garber and Peake, Duke, defeated Newell and Delafield, 6—2, 4—6, 6—3, and Dame and Burnett, Virginia, defeated Hulp and Clark, 2—6, 6—4, 6—3.

Milkman, McAtee Up, Easy Jamaica Winner

Jamaica Race Track, May 4 (A.P.).—Milkman, rugged colt from the Rolling Plains Stable, packed 126 pounds and raced to a handy victory in the Fulton Handicap, a dash of six furlongs, here this afternoon.

Whatever strong contention might have been offered was eliminated with the third consecutive bad start of the day, when the Howe Stable's Tetrarchal, close second choice, was off very poorly. Second money went to the Geneseo Stable's Rubio, with Tetrarchal managing to beat his stable mate, Lullaby II, for the short end of the purse. Only four horses started.

"Pony" McAtee put up a smart ride to get Milkman home by a length. With the fleet Tetrarchal off too poorly to make the pace as he is accustomed to doing, Milkman cut out the running, a little more than a length in advance of Rubio, while Tetrarchal trailed. The positions did not change until the stretch where Rubio moved up on almost even terms with Milkman and loomed very ominously. However, McAtee shook up the 4 to 5 favorite and he readily drew away. Lullaby II tired badly at the end. The time was 1:12 3-5.

STOCK PRICES GAIN IN BETTER MARKET

Sales of 1,400,000 Shares Record Net Rises at Close of 1 to 2 Points.

New York, May 4 (A.P.).—The stock market was unmistakably in a better frame of mind today. Overcoming a little irregularity at the opening, prices mended slowly all day and made their best levels in the last hour, with net gains of 1 to 2 points for most of the active issues.

It was a very dull market—the 1,400,000-share turnover was the smallest since early February—but the absence of spectacular antics seemed to generate more confidence than did the runaway rally of last Thursday. Bonds were equally quiet, and likewise averaged higher, while the grains improved and cotton recovered vigorously.

The day's developments on the stock exchange reflected Wall street's respect for the sagacity of the late George F. Baker, for it is regarded as certain that the eminent banker had so arranged his affairs that settlement of his estate would entail no disturbances.

Rumors Are Absent.

There was also a notable absence of disturbing rumors. Gossip said some of the more influential bears had covered on the break last Friday and had decided to take a sidelines position, at least for the present. Such professional selling as was evident did not extend beyond the first half hour, except in the coppers, and this group reduced its losses. American Can weakened temporarily, but closed 2 points higher.

United States Steel, which the bears rode hard last week, sagged ¾ at the opening, wobbled uncertainly for an hour or so, and then regained its stability, rising a point net. Closing prices on American Telephone, General Electric, General Motors, Westinghouse, Chrysler, Sears-Roebuck, Consolidated Gas, North American, Vanadium, Pennsylvania Railroad, Atchison, Bethlehem Steel and Loew's, among others, represented advances of 1 to 2 from the Saturday close. New York Central rallied more than 3, Baltimore & Ohio 2½ and Union Pacific 4.

Coppers Are Heavy.

Heaviness of the coppers reflected the unfavorable price situation for that commodity. Custom smelters are asking 9¼, the lowest in more than 37 years, while some speculative copper is said to have been offered at 9 cents.

Anaconda's earnings statement, revealing the extent to which the corporation's earnings had been reduced, was also a factor. However, the regular dividend voted by International Nickel was of assistance in pulling the metal shares up from their lows. Kennecott, American Smelting and Anaconda made new minmium for 1931 or longer.

Money Is Firm.

Money was firm at 1½ per cent for demand loans, reflecting the May 1 demands and also substantial withdrawals by the Treasury. Wall street is wondering whether the New York Federal Reserve Bank will reduce its rediscount rate this week, and would not be surprised by still cheaper money, one effect of which should be to force funds into the interior.

Wheat, whose firmness during the recent decline in security prices was one of the financial markets' few bright spots, closed ¼ to ¾ nigher for all months except May, which sagged half a cent. There was bullish weather in the Northwest and an unfavorable report from Kansas. Corn's average gain was about a cent. Covering in cotton was brisk and futures showed advances of $1.40 to $1.60 a bale net.

Foreign exchanges were slightly mixed. The French franc steadied, while sterling cables eased, but the changes were nominal.

BOND PRICES MOVE UP IN DULL MARKET

Day's Sales Total $6,890,000 Lowest for This Year, Except April 20.

New York, May 4 (A.P.).—The bond market moved upward today in unusually dull trading. Sales totaled $6,890,000, the lowest aggregate for a full session this year, with the exception of $6,456,000 total sales on April 20.

There was nothing spectacular about the advance, which appeared in bonds in diversified investment rating. Even among the foreign issues, where net changes of 1 point or more have been common recently, most of the gains were fractional. The narrowness of the market was apparent also in the fact that the total sales of a large number of issues consisted of single small transactions.

The extent of the upward movement may be gauged from the fact that such diversified issues as Atchison general 4s, American Telephone debenture 5s of 1965, American I. G. Chemical 5½s, Brooklyn Manhattan Transit 6s of 1968, St. Paul adjustment 5s, Rock Island convertible 4½s, Kansas City Power & Light Series C 4½s, Kingdom of Italy 7s, Argentine 6s of 1959 and Brazilian 8s of 1941 were typical of the issues to close higher. Average closing prices of the various groups showed modest gains.

Comptroller Berry of the City of New York will receive bids at noon on May 12 for $52,000,000 of four-year corporate stock, the coupon rate of which is not to exceed 4 per cent. The proceeds will be used for rapid transit construction.

Halsey, Stuart & Co. are offering $6,000,000 of 4½ per cent first mortgage gold bonds of the New Jersey Power & Light Co., due in 1960, at 4½ per cent and interest.

SHELK IS APPOINTED BY PACIFIC MUTUAL

Former Indiana Man Made General Agent Here to Succeed Daniels.

By THOMAS M. CAHILL.

Russell Shelk has been appointed general agent of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co., in Washington, succeeding the late William B. Daniels. He brings to this important position a broad experience, having been engaged in the planning of estates along the lines of life insurance conservation and in utilization of service of trust companies with which he has a most favorable standing.

Born in Indiana, Mr. Shelk came to Washington in 1918 for service with the Bureau of War Risk Insurance. His next work was with the advertising copy service department of the Washington Herald. He then became advertising manager of O'Donnell's Drug Stores, and was later employed as advertising sales manager by Homer L. Kitt Co.

He entered the insurance business in 1923 with Frank R. Strunk, and was associated for five years with the Reliance Life Insurance Co., of Pittsburgh, as local general agent and supervisor of their St. Louis department. He became connected with the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Co., in 1930.

Bond Club to Meet.

Plans are being laid for the annual meeting of the Bond Club of Washington, which will be held the afternoon and evening of May 22. The place of meeting has not yet been decided definitely. The afternoon will be devoted to conventional and obstacle golf, tennis and horseshoe pitching contests, with the usual ping pong and "stock exchange" contests following the dinner and election of officers in the evening.

With regard to the "stock exchange" contest it is announced that this year a Ford car will be the first prize. Two tickets will be reserved for each member of the club until Thursday noon, after which their sale will be general. The committee in charge of the outing is compcsed of James P. Nolan, National City Co.; L. Clark Brown, Harris, Forbes & Co., and Lawrence M. Proctor, Alex Brown & Sons.

The Fidelity Investment Association reports Fidelity annuity contracts for the first quarter of 1931 of $13,358,000, a gain of 23 per cent over the corresponding period of 1930.

Resources Increase.

Statement of condition of the association at the close of business March 31, shows resources of $26,-150,487, against $25,047,124, as of January 1, 1931, and $20,151,567 as of January 1, 1930. Resources include $16,659,200 in securities deposited and securities approved for deposit with State departments, for the exclusive protection of contract holders; $7,-462,098 in loans to contract holders and $1,002,268 in cash. The association is the largest institution in the United States devoted exclusively to granting annuities.

W. W. Spaid, of W. B. Hills & Co., has notified the sports committee for the District of Columbia Bankers Association convention that a new W. B. Hibbs Cup will be supplied for this golf contest on the annual convention sports program. The former cup having been won three times by Clyde B. Asher, has become his personal property under contest rules.

Speakers for the thirteenth annual joint sales congress of the District of Columbia Life Underwriters Association and the Baltimore Life Underwriters Association, which will be an all-day session at the Shoreham Hotel Thursday, are the following:

Jerome Clark, superintendent of agencies, Union Central Life Insurance Co.; Vincent B. Coffin, educational director, Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co.; Ralph G. Englesman, general agent of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co.; Roger B. Hull, of the National Life Underwriters Association; A. R. Jaqua, associate editor Diamond Life Bulletin, and Valiant W. Kenney, general agent of the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Co., of Boston. President Joshua Evans, jr., District National Bank, is scheduled to make an address at one of the sessions.

The conference opens at 10 o'clock and will bring together between 400 and 500 life underwriters of the District of Columbia and Maryland. A number of fiduciary officers of Washington and Baltimore banks will attend and the fiduciary section of the District of Columbia Bankers Association is cooperating in arrangements for the congress.

President John H. Snyder, of the local association, will preside at the morning session and President George A. Myers, of the Baltimore Association, will preside in the afternoon.

Canada Grain Body Backs Futures Trading

Winnipeg, Man., May 4 (A.P.).—The Free Press publishes a dispatch from Ottawa saying Sir Josiah Stamp's Royal Grain Commission recommended in its report that trading in wheat futures be continued.

The commission which closed its investigation a week ago, advised future trading was a necessity and proposed a measure of control over exchange operations, the dispatch said.

Mail Order Sales Drop.

Chicago, May 4 (A.P.).—April sales of Montgomery Ward & Co. totaled $20,558,449, against $23,776,430 in April, 1930, a decrease of 13.58 per cent. ALEXANDRIANS HEAR VIRGINIA LABOR HEAD

John Hall, Jr., Is Speaker at Social Work Session; Others on Program.

THE WASHINGTON POST BUREAU.
907 Prince St., Alexandria, Va.
Phone Alexandria 523.

John Hopkins Hall, jr., commissioner of labor and industry in Virginia, was the principal speaker at the opening of the thirty-first annual meeting of the Virginia Conference of Social Work, yesterday morning in the George Mason Hotel. His subject was "Unemployment and Some of Its Effects in Virginia." Miss Joanna C. Colcord, director of charity organization department, Russell Sage Foundation, spoke on "Community Planning for Unemployment Emergencies," after which the meeting was thrown open for discusion. The afternoon was given over to institutes. That of probation was conducted by Francis H. Miller, field secretary National Probation Association; family case work was under the direction of Julia W. Hopkins, general secretary Family Service Society of Richmond.

Terming President Hoover's national employment relief committee "little more than a political gesture," Mr. Hall charged that "in the final analysis, the localities were left to work out their own salvation."

"In vetoing the Wagner employment service bill," he said, "the President and Secretary of Labor Doak gave the destruction of States' rights as one of the main reasons for such action, yet the reorganization of the Federal employment service which is now taking place is resulting in the complete destruction of the present organization in the State of Virginia."

At the luncheon from 1 to 2:30 o'clock, Miss Grace Abbott, chief of the children's bureau, United States Department of Labor, spoke on the White House conference and the States' responsibility. In the evening the principal address was by Fred C. Croxton, vice president of the unemployment commission.

The sessions are presided over by the Rev. F. E. Warren, of Bristol, Va., the president, while the arrangements are in charge of Arthur W. James, of Richmond, executive secretary. Other officers of the association are Mrs. W. W. King, of Staunton; T. C. Rohrbaugh and Mrs. Bessie Lamb Woolfolk, Lynchburg, vice president; Frank A. Cavedo, Richmond, treasurer; and the executive committee is composed of the officers together with R. C. Hough, Salem; F. D. Preston and Dr. H. DeJ. Coghill, Richmond; Dr. E. Reingold Rogers, Covington; Mrs. Mae E. Jacobs, Ballston, and Judge John Massie, Newport News.

The outstanding feature of the session this morning will be an address by Collins Denny, assistant attorney general of Virginia, on "The Relationship of the Juvenile and Domestic Relations and the Trial Justice Courts and the Future of the County Juvenile and Domestic Relations Court in Virginia."

Luncheon will be served the delegates at Ivakota Farms, Clifton, Va., a Florence Crittenton Mission Home, established by the late Dr. Kate Waller Barrett, national president of the mission, and now under the direct supervision of Dr. Barrett's daughter, Mrs. Reba Barrett Smith, national superintendent.

The afternoon will be given over to institutes.

Frederick Howard Schneider, 65 years old, of 511 Queen street, died yesterday morning at the Alexandria Hospital, where he had been a patient since December 24, when he fell in his home and fractured his hip. He was a son of the late Justus Schneider and Frederick H. Schneider, jr.; two brothers and two sisters—Mrs. Charles G. Lennon, of Maryland; Dr. Elwin C. Schneider, of Washington; Robert W. Schneider and Mrs. Elizabeth Bartels, of this city. The funeral will be held at 2 o'clock today from Wheatley's funeral home, 809 King street, conducted by the Rev. Percy Foster Hall, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church.

John B. Travers has been elected president of Alva Aerie, No. 871, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and Henry P. Thomas, vice president. Other officers are John B. Kirchner, chaplain; Joseph H. West, recording secretary for the twenty-seventh consecutive year; H. W. Summers, treasurer; John R. Sotenski, inside guard; A. C. Schlag, outside guard; Herman Friedlander, R. H. Travers and H. G. Bernhart, trustees.

The members of this lodge will participate in the exercises at the tomb of the Unknown Soldier at Arlington on Sunday next with the American War Mothers.

Mrs. Charles M. Shepperson, president, and Mrs. Mary W. Troth, immediate past president, of the Alexandria Business and Professional Women's Club, attended a meeting last night held with Miss Ellen Edstrom, 2119 H street northwest, Washington, of representatives of the Washington and Arlington County clubs looking toward entertaining the delegates and visitors to the biennial convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs in Richmond in July next, when they visit this section on sight-seeing tours.

Gen. Edgar Warfield, of the Confederate Veterans, and James G. Graham, of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, will attend the forty-first annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans to be held in Mongomery, Ala., June 2 to 5, inclusive, next. This will also be the thirty-sixth convention of the Sons of Veterans and the thirty-second convention of the Confederated Southern Memorial Association. Special rates will be provided and certificates may be secured from Gen. Warfield.

The May meeting of the local Daughters of the Confederacy Chapter will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in Lee Camp Hall when Mrs. Charles W. Howell, the president, and others who attended the district conference in Manassas last Friday, will give a detailed report of the meeting. Plans will be discussed and arrangements made for the annual Memorial Day observance on May 24, and also committees appointed to arrange for a celebration of the birthday of Jefferson Davis, June 3.

Judge William P. Woolls and Dr. H. A. Latane will be in charge of the program for the Rotary Club luncheon meeting at 12:30 o'clock today in the George Mason Hotel, when the nominating committee will present a report.

Judge William S. Snow, the president, and Herbert Cross, secretary, will leave this evening for Norfolk to represent the club at the district conference of the Rotary Clubs of the fifty-sixth district, and other members will also make the trip.

Dr. Charles W. Scott, specialist, State board of health, started a free tuberculin clinic in the city health office yesterday for children under 15 years of age, and today and Thursday will conduct clinics for adults.

361 FAMILIES GIVEN AID IN MONTGOMERY

933 Interviews Granted by Social Service League During April.

Montgomery County Bureau of The Post, 9103 Conn. Ave., North Chevy Chase, Md. Telephone Wisconsin 4205.

The Social Service League of Montgomery County gave service to 361 families of the county during April, according to the report issued last night by Miss Willie Green Day, executive director.

The league handled the cases of 361 families, of whom 347 received intensive and prolonged help; 23 came to the league for help for the first time. Ninety-two families were given food, clothing and financial aid; nine mothers were aided from the mothers' relief fund so that they were enabled to keep their homes together and their children at home.

Thirty-five children were under supervision of the league and three homes were found for children not previously under its protection.

The staff of five workers made 792 visits, traveling 4,519 miles, and met and interviewed 141 persons in the office of the league at Rockville, for a total of 933 interviews.

Chronic illness, long continued friction in the families between husband and wife, unemployment, undernourishment, health problems, hospitalization, dental care, relief, home finding for homeless children, supervising the placing of dependent children, were some of the problems presented in the month's work.

The commission of Maj. E. Brooke Lee, county Democratic organization leader, as a member of the Maryland State Roads Commission, was received yesterday at the office of the clerk of the circuit court at Rockville, together with the commissions of fourteen justices of the peace and 95 notaries public.

The justices of the peace whose commissions were received are Judge Charles W. Woodward, judge of the county police court at Rockville; Judge Alfred L. Wilson, judge of the police court at Takoma Park; Ward W. Caddington, Edward H. Carr and J. Lee Robinson, all of Silver Spring; Robert E. Lee, Takoma Park; James E. Garrett, Gaithersburg; Frank Van Court, James C. Christopher and Alfred L. Moore, all of Bethesda; Mrs. Josephine Beall, Darnestown; William M. Burrows and John Jones, of Rockville, and Edwin D. Burdette, Hyattstown.

Miss Clare D. Willison, naturalization examiner of the Department of Labor, approved the applications of nine alien-born residents of Montgomery County for American citizenship. The applicants will appear again before Judge Robert B. Peter in circuit court at Rockville the first Monday in August for their final examinations before they can receive their papers.

Among those who received their permits to appear before the judge were Michael Francis Roman, an instructor at the Georgetown Preparatory School, at Garrett Park, who gave his birthplace as Bressanon, Italy, and Samuel Sheer, of Kensington, secretary of the Kensington Board of Trade, who gave his birthplace as Kolk, Russia.

Others who received their second papers were Sarah Catherine McIntyre, of Takoma Park, born in Glasgow, Scotland; Ethel Blanche Percival, Chevy Chase, Md., born in St. Christopher, B. W. I.; Giovanni Secondo Santini, Burtonsville, Md., born in San Leo, Italy; Emily Ott Kronenbitter, Silver Spring, born in Boll, Germany; Adolph Henry Richter, Silver Spring, born in Bremen, Germany; Mrs. Vieno Elizabeth Maybloom, Bethesda, born in Finland, and George Complair, Cabin John, born in Germany.

Three persons were refused permission to appear before the judge in August because of defects in their qualifications.

William James Deckert, of Takoma Park, was released on $300 bond furnished by Clay Plummer of Gaithersburg, after he had been called before Judge Robert B. Peter on a writ of habeas corpus sworn out by his attorneys, Peter, Simpson & Oxley, of Rockville, who claimed that the $500 bond demanded by Judge A. L. Wilson, of Takoma Park, was excessive.

Deckert was arrested by Sergt. Earl H. Burdine, of the Takoma Park substation of Montgomery County police, on charges of larceny of three automobile wheels and four tires. He pleaded guilty before Judge Wilson on April 17.

Suit was filed by Mrs. Margurite L. Burg, of Montgomery County, yesterday in Circuit Court at Rockville, asking, of Tenth street near K street ing a limited divorce from Alfred C. northeast. Through Attorney Kenneth Lyddane, of Rockville, the wife alleges desertion. They were married October 26, 1928, at Baltimore and have no children.

Free conferences will be held in public schools of the county this month under auspices of the Montgomery County health department, at which children of preschool age can be examined and vaccinated, it was announced yesterday by Dr. Will-

The Bureau of Child Hygiene of the iam T. Pratt, county health officer. State Department of Health will cooperate in the examinations. The morning conferences will be held at 10:30 o'clock and the afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The schedule announced follows: May 2, Woodside School, morning, and Glenmont School, afternoon; May 13, Bethesda School, morning and afternoon; May 14, Rockville, morning, and Travilah, afternoon; May 19, Takoma Park, morning, East Silxer Spring, afternoon; May 20, Glen Echo-Cabin John, morning, and Potomac, afternoon; May 21, Gaithersburg, morning, and Washington Grove, afternoon; May 26, Sandy Spring, morning, and Burtonsville, afternoon; May 27, Poolesville, morning, and Barnesville, afternoon; May 28, Damascus, morning, and Clarksburg, afternoon. Miss Hermine Badenhoop, chief county health nurse, and her aids will assist.

The Rev. Henry K. Pasma, pastor of the Rockville Presbyterian Church, has been elected commissioner to represent the Potomac Presbytery at the seventy-first annual meeting of the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States at Montreal, N. C., the last week in May.

Mrs. Minnie E. Perkins, wife of the Rev. Alvin T. Perkins, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church at Washington Grove, died Saturday at St. Agnes' Hospital, Baltimore, following a long illness.

Mrs. Perkins is survived by her husband, two sons, Alvin, jr., and Robert, and a daughter, Miss Eleanor Perkins. Prior to coming to Washington Grove, Mr. Perkins was pastor of Rosedale Methodist Episcopal Church in Washington.

New Snake Poison Serum Discovered

Remedy Is Described at Druggists' Meeting at Virginia Beach.

Virginia Beach, Va., May 4 (A.P.).—Discovery of a new snake bite serum to counteract the poison from deadly reptiles was announced before the American Drug Manufacturers' Association at its annual session here today.

Dr. Zeader Leonard, of the department of hygiene and public health at Johns Hopkins University, discovered the snake serum and its development is declared to be one of the three outstanding accomplishments of this form of chemistry in the last decade.

Ministers Held in Flogging Of Alleged Abusive Toper

Mena, Ark., May 4 (A.P.).—Two ministers were under indictment here today for flogging a man they accused of disregarding their warning to stay sober while the Red Cross fed his family last winter.

Sheriff John E. Joplin says if they are convicted and fined he will raise the money to pay the fines.

"I think it was a Christian act," he said.

The ministers, the Rev. Sid Wise and the Rev. P. R. Larimore, of the Apostolic faith, have not been arrested. Wise, who is said by the sheriff to have whipped Bud Ralls last month, is in New Mexico holding a revival meeting. Before leaving here, however, he told officers if he were indicted he would return to face the charge.

The ministers admitted the flogging, Sheriff Joplin said, and added their act appeared to have the approval of residents of the community.

Wise was said by the sheriff to have warned Ralls if he went home "drunk again the minister would whip him."

One Friday in April Wise accompanied Ralls to Mena to get supplies for his family. The following Sunday Ralls went home intoxicated and abused his family, Sheriff Joplin said he was told, whereupon Wise and Larimore went to the Ralls home and

Physician Is Acquitted Of Operation on Girl

Dr. Benjamin H. Smart, of Rhode Island avenue near Second street northwest, yesterday was acquitted of a charge of performing an illegal operation on a young colored girl.

He was indicted three years ago, but because of his own illness and the illness of others, the trial was frequently postponed. Dr. Smart contended that he acted ethically and in accordance with the best medical procedure in his treatment of the girl. He denied on the stand that he was guilty of the charge.

Second Inquiry Begun Into Slaying of Huff

The District Grand Jury began yesterday the second investigation of the Huff-Delany shooting. Because of abscence of several important witnesses, the case was continued until Wednesday after some witnesses had been heard.

The grand jury is investigating the case at this time because of agitation raised by the family of Huff, who were not content with the action of the first investigating grand jury in freeing Dulaney, a street car conductor.

Consider your Adam's Apple!!*

Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants

"Reach for a LUCKY instead"

Now! Please!—Actually put your finger on your Adam's Apple. Touch it—your Adam's Apple—Do you know you are actually touching your larynx?—This is your voice box—it contains your vocal chords. When you consider your Adam's Apple, you are considering your throat—your vocal chords. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants—Reach for a LUCKY instead—Remember, LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette in America that through its exclusive "TOASTING" process expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are sold to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE, and so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple."

TUNE IN—The Lucky Strike Dance Orchestra, every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday evening over N. B. C. networks.
